Vishinsky Carries "Imperialism" Battle Into U. N.

Says U. S. Has Made Greece Military Base

Challenge Is Taken Up By South Africa

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 6 (AP)—Andrei Y. Vishinsky carried the Communist battle against "capitalism" and "imperialism" into the United Nations Assembly late today with a long attack on the United States, Britain and their supporters.

The challenge was taken up promptly by Harry Lawrence, chief delegate of South Africa, who told Vishinsky and the 57-nation political Committee of the General Assembly that South Africa did not believe the United States had imperialistic aims in Greece as charged by Russia.

The blast of the Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister was delivered before the Political Committee the day after the Communist Party announced creation in Poland of a Communist International.

Vishinsky accused Belgium of proposing a horse trade when it suggested that Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria accept a United Nations commission if the Assembly did not flend them responsible for helping Greek guerrillas.

12,000-Word Speech

Vishinsky's speech, some 12,000 words delivered in one hour and 50 minutes, was the longest, most intense and most concentrated attack on what he called "large capitalist monopolism" and "imperialism" yet made by any Rusian delegate in any United Nation forum. It was also Russia's longest attack on the United States-British policy in Greece.

While many United Nation delegates pondered gravely—but with little official comment—on the announcement in Moscow of the creation of the new Communist International, Vishinsky strode into the committee room and declared:

"The development of capitalism and in particular its entering the highest stage, the period of imperialism, involves tendencies aiming at domination and annexation; but this results in the growth of resistance among the peoples. whose national feeling is being awakened.

Spaak Under Attack

"This resistance may easily grow into dangerous action and other measures directed against foreign capital."

Vishinsky charged that the United States has gained full control of the Greek government and has transformed Greece "into a military base of the United States of America."

He attacked Belgium Premier Paul-Henri Spaak for his defense of the western power role in Greece, charging that Spaak and Herschel V. Johnson, United States delegate, had made a "horse trade" by which Spaak took the part of the western nations.

Vishinsky rejected the United States resolution calling for a Balkins commission and demanded immediate withdrawal of foreign troops and "all kinds of military and civil instructors and the so-called experts" from Greece.

Schwellenbach Assails Attempt To Blame High Prices On Labor Alone

"Purge" Labor Act Backers, Green Says

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6—(AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach told the American Federation of Labor convention today an attempt was being made to make labor "the whipping boy" for the high cost of living by using wage boosts "as the excuse for price increases."

The Cabinet member said that, although there is a true relationship between wage and price increases, thus far "all that American labor attempted to do was to pursue prices and never, in the last 15 months, have they have able to catch up."

Earlier, AFL President William Green called labor to "march to the polls" in 1948 "to defeat every member of Congress who voted for the Taft-Hartley law."

Taft's Statement "Naive"

"We should fight with all our vigor against any effort to continue the campaign to tie upon the wage earners of the country the label of being exclusively responsible for the increase," Schwellenbach said.

Schwellenbach characterized as "naive and amusing" the recent assertion by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) that a tax cut would ease high prices, and that the cost of living could be stabilized at a level 50 to 60 per cent above 1939.

He said the reduction which would have been effected by the Republican tax-cut bills—vetoed by the President—would have amounted to about $30 a year for the great mass of taxpayers. This, he declared, would mean little—"if you don't know how much groceries $30 will buy, go home and ask your wife."

"Wage increases," said Schwellenbach, "have been used as the excuse for price increases. To that extent responsibility (by labor) must be accepted, but they have not been the cause of price increases because they have never succeeded in attaining a goal of level price-wage relationship."

Election Day "Holiday"

Schwellenbach appealed to labor to support President Truman's campaign against waste to make more food available to needy nations.

Opening the federation's 66th annual convention, the 73-year-old Green predicted the delegates would "direct and order" that election day next year be set aside as a holiday to permit every worker to cast his ballot.

Labor, Green declared, "resented bitterly" the passage of "anti-labor legislation after the war is over" and after labor had established what he said was a "great record" of wartime production.

Government Has Plenty Of Eggs, Can't Sell Them

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (INS)—The administration found itself in the paradoxical position today of asking the public to observe one eggless day each week while the government holds nearly one hundred million pounds of dried and frozen eggs it cannot market.

As the save-food-for-Europe drive swung into high gear, the Agriculture Department disclosed that it owns about 29 million pounds of dried eggs and 61.7 million pounds of frozen eggs purchased under federal laws requiring the government to maintain support prices.

Officials of the department said that the high cost of eggs prevents their export to Europe as relief food, while the law bars their sale in the domestic market.

Lawmakers Urged To Improve Rural Living Standards

Wickard Committee Presents Program

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Agriculture Department spokesmen told Capitol Hill lawmakers today that America's farm families may drift away from the land unless their living standards are boosted toward those of the city.

The testimony was offered at Senate-House agriculture hearings on farm policy.

The hearings also brought from Sen. Elmer Thomas (D-Okla) a statement that the American people ought to be told that "we are going to have high prices indefinitely" on farm products.

Thomas added: "We are not going to return to $1 wheat, 10 cent cotton and four cent hogs. The problem is to have an adjustment, where everybody would be treated equitably."

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan presented specific recommendations for improvement of farm life. Secretary Clinton P. Anderson proposed a long-range agricultural policy of "organized sustained and realistic abundance."

Anderson called for future emphasis on larger food and fiber consumption rather than curtailing farm production to combat threats of surpluses after Europe is able to feed herself.

Brannan spoke for Claude R. Wickard, former agriculture secretary who now is chairman of the department's Committee on Rural Facilities, Services, and Industries. The Wickard committee recommended:

1. Legislative authority for the encouragement of rural industry.
2. Greater stability on the land and wider opportunities for tenants, including landlord responsibility for providing adequate housing.
3. "Adequate health, sanitation and safety measures" for farms and development of "a national system of health insurance to serve the entire population."
4. Improved rural education.
5. Legislation to enable the Agriculture Department to make home loans to farmers.
6. Extension of Social Security benefits to farmers.
7. Extension of rural electrification and telephone services, and improvements in roads and recreational facilities in farm sections.
8. Extension of farm co-operatives "and the development of programs in co-operation with the rural churches and other general aids to improve rural living."

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6. (AP)—A special committee of the Philadelphia Bar Association today recommended the adoption of a service under which low-cost legal advice would be provided for persons in the middle income brackets.

Negro Prisoner Slain After Killing Trusty

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 6 (AP)—A giant, crazed negro grabbed a pistol from one of his guards at Shelby County jail today and, firing wildly, killed a negro trusty and seriously wounded an employe of the sheriff's office before he was fatally wounded by two blasts from an officer's gun.

Though shot twice and battered unmercifully with blackjacks and clubs, the 200-pound prisoner continued to resist and it took 10 officers to transfer him to City Hospital where he died about three hours after the melee.

Sheriff Oliver Perry said Archer Smith, arrested on a lunacy warrant, was being transferred to the cell block on the second floor of the busy criminal courts building when he "suddenly went crazy."

Truman To Eat Salmon On First "Meatless Tuesday" Of Campaign

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (INS)—Charles Luckman, chairman of the Citizens Food Committee, tonight announced the "meatless" and "poultryless and eggless" menus which have been prepared by White House Housekeeper Mrs. Mary E. Sharpe for President Truman on Tuesday and Thursday. They are:

Tuesday dinner — Clear chicken soup, broiled salmon steak, scalloped potatoes, string beans, sauteed eggplant, perfection salad and sliced peaches.

Thursday lunch—Corn soup, peppers stuffed with rice and mushrooms, lima beans, glazed carrots and a baked apple.

Thursday dinner — Melon balls, baked ham, baked sweet potatoes, asparagus, cauliflower, green salad and a coffee mallow.

The White House had no explanation for omitting breakfast from the menu.

HAIL TO CHAMPS—Fans swarm onto the field in front of the Yankee dugout to mob the world champions after the American Leaguers defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers 5-2 yesterday to win the World Series. Lawmakers Kept From Searching "Loyalty" Files

Legislators Irked By Commissioners

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP) — Two Civil Service commissioners refused today to let congressmen make sure their names are removed from a secret file kept by commission investigators in connection with loyalty inquiries.

Harry B. Mitchell and Arthur S. Flemming told the House Executive Expenditures Committee such a search would violate the confidential nature of the file. They promised, however, that the cards of all congressmen will be removed from the file and destroyed.

Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich), committee chairman, declared, "This is a Gestapo," and warned the commissioners he will put the matter before Congress when it convenes in January. Calling the file on congressmen a "smear list," he said one card listed a congressman as a Nazi.

All three commissioners, Mitchell, Flemming and Frances Perkins, had denied knowing until last Friday that congressmen's names appear at all in the files, which they said is only a compilation of "leads" to guide investigators in loyalty checks. They agreed the names should be removed at once.

"But you want us to take your word for it," objected Hoffman. "Why don't you let us help you?"

"That file is our responsibility," Flemming said, "and we will get those cards out."

Hoffman reminded Flemming that he was before the committee under a subpoena which requested that the commission produce the cards of congressmen listed in the file.

"You mean you won't do it until we get a court order," Hoffman said.

"That's right," Flemming agreed. "It is a legal issue."

Hoffman said the committee could not cite the commissioners for contempt until Congress meets.

Screen Writer Dies

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 6. — (AP) — Samuel Hoffenstein, 57, poet and screen writer, died today following a heart attack.

Hanns Eislers Are Released On Bond

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6. (INS)—Hollywood Song Writer Hanns Eisler and his wife, Louise, were arrested today on deportation proceedings after surrendering to United States Immigration Officer W. A. Carmichael.

Both were released on bond, Eisler posting $1,000 and his wife $500

The brother of Gerhart Eisler, who had been identified as the No. 1 Communist agent in the United States, denied all the charges against him. He told newsmen:

"In 1933 in a Paris newspaper I read where Hitler had placed a price on my head along with several other artists. I never dreamed that a similar situation could arise in the United States, a country that I love."

The charges against him consist of four separate counts growing out of the charge that he was found to be a member of a class which believed in, advised, advocated and taught the overthrow by force or violence of the government of the United States.

Specifically the warrants were issued upon allegations that the immigration visa under which they entered this country had been obtained by fraud and misrepresentation and that Eisler had sworn that he was not a member of the Communist Party.

Gunmen Raid Fashionable Club, Escape With $7,700

AMBLER, Pa., Oct. 6 (AP) — Four soft-voiced gunmen made off with $7,700 today in a bold raid on the fashionable Oak Terrace Country Club.

The robbers walked in the front door of the semi-isolated club about 3 a. m., awakened the manager and forced him to open the safe containing about $7,000 in weekend receipts and jewelry.

They rounded up 10 residents—seven men and three women—and took $700 from their pockets. The robbers trussed them with telephone wires, neckties and bathrobe cords.

Then with a mild warning, they hurried to the club station wagon and drove off.

Austria Launches Assault On Reds

LONDON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Diplomatic sources here said today creation of a new international Communist organization was the signal for openly intensified political and possibly economic warfare between the Soviet Union and the western powers.

Late reports from European capitals indicated such a conflict was already brewing in the wake of yesateday's announcement that Communists in nine countries had banded together to fight "American imperialism." The diplomatic informants saw the move as Russia's counter-strategy to Secretary of State Marshall's plan for European reconstruction through mutual cooperation.

In Vienna, high diplomatic sources said the Austrian government, convinced that there is no possibility of agreement between the Allies on the Austrian treaty, had launched an all-out attack against Communist propaganda and tactics.

Fear "Another Hungary"

"We cannot allow Austria to become another Hungary," A diplomatic informant quoted a high Austrian official as saying. "We must not let the Communists secure a dictatorship of the minority. Therefore we must expose their aims and methods at every possible opportunity."

He said that Austria was basing its hopes for salvation from the Communists on the Marshall plan, and that the government would not dare to attempt an offensive against the Communists without at least the moral support of the western powers, notably the United States. The Russians, through their occupation forces, control Austria's bread basket and most important industrial regions.

In Berlin, western military government officials predicted that the Communists would launch strikes and demonstrations in the Ruhr to be timed with the scheduled dismantlings of German factories for reparations.

Two-fold Purpose

The officials said such an attack would have the two-fold purpose of undermining British-American efforts to put Western Germany on its feet economically and by a German collapse jeopardize the success of the Marshall plan.

The coal mines are a key factor in European recovery, the officials said. In some mines more than 40 per cent of the workers are Communists.

The British Foreign Office said the new Communist organization would be given "close attention and study." In Washington, Michael McDermott, press officer for the State Department, said the department was studying "very carefully" the declaration issued by the Communist leaders disclosing the setting up of an international bureau in Belgrade to co-ordinate their activities.

Ill-Fated Plane Flying Too Low

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP) — A Senate Commerce Committee aide reported today that a Capital Airlines plane which crashed with 50 dead near Leesburg, Va., June 13 was flying low against both company and government rules. He said a Civil Aeronautics Administration control "erred" in permitting the too-low flight.

The report, by Carl Dolan, technical assistant to the committee which made his study public, recommended that the Civil Aeronautics Board clarify tower instructions and provide for "standardization of approach proceedings for all planes.

Dolan said the pilot, flying at 5,000 feet over Martinsburg, W. Va., asked and received permission from the tower in Washington to come down to 2,500 feet or less "to enable him to discontinue instrument flying."

He continued:

"The control tower erred in permitting the pilot to descend to 2,500 feet or less in territory that the Civil Aeronautics Board has a minimum requirement of 1,000 feet above the terrain, which would be (in the case of the Capital Airlines plane) 2,600 feet. Also the company had a regulation of a minimum of 3,000 feet."

The report said the pilot "breached" both rules.

Efficiency "Warning" Sounded By Gov. Lane

BALTIMORE, Oct. 6 (AP)—Lane hinted tonight that he was not satisfied that all departments of the state were operating as efficiently and economically as he would like.

In a speech before the Maryland Classified Employees' Association here he declared:

"Every department and every agency of this state should and must function with the same degree of efficiency and economy that is to be found in any well-conducted business."

Nightmare Of Sea

Saga Of Unlucky Tugboat And "Charges" Incomplete

Airmen from Palmyra Atoll supplied the latest unhappy details today, and the saga remained incomplete. Here is the story, as pieced together from their accounts, from Navy information and from reports of crewmen and the tug's resourceful but unlucky skipper, Kenneth Ainslee, Sydney, Australia:

The tug was towing four surplus minesweepers from Charleston, N. C., to Manila for use by the Luzo Stevedoring Company. All went well until September 24, when for unknown reasons the tug ran out of fuel near Palmyra, more than 1,000 miles south of here in one of the least-frequented areas of the Pacific.

By draining oil from the cookstove, Ainslee got under way again and made it to Palmyra, but had to cut the minesweepers adrift outside. Powerless, they were lashed together. Three watchmen were left aboard them with food and water for 10 days. They had a lifeboat and some "iron" rations also.

Refueling at the small civil aeronautics station on Palmyra, the tug returned to pick up the sweepers. They had vanished. The tug, hunting them in widening circles, ran aground on a reef where the chart showed 150 feet of water.

After a long effort, Ainslee got his ship free and resumed the search. Then the distilling apparatus broke down and there was no fresh water.

The skipper rigged tarpaulins, caught rainwater, and kept going

Truman Congratulated By Mohandas Gandhi

NEW DELHI, Oct. 6. (AP)—Mohandas K. Gandhi said tonight he wished to congratulate President Truman for advising Americans to eat less bread to save grain for hungry Europe.

Addressing a prayer meeting, Gandhi added he wanted Indians to follow Mr. Truman's "philanthropic gesture" and deny themselves a few meals every week to save their own countrymen from starving to death.

Jackson Blasts Supreme Court's Majority Ruling

Gibes At Reasoning In Utility Decision

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—(AP)—The Supreme Court got off to a stormy start on its new term today, with Justice Jackson accusing colleagues of encouraging "conscious lawlessness" by government officials.

Jackson, joined by Justice Frankfurter, filed a delayed dissent to a 5 to 2 decision handed down last June. Gibing at the reasoning behind the majority's decision, he said:

"I give up. Now I realize what Mark Twain meant when he said, "The more you explain it, the more I don't understand it."

Justice Murphy wrote the majority opinion, Chief Justice Vinson and Justice Douglas took no part.

The case involved a reorganization of Federal Water Service Corporation, a New York holding company, and its merger into the Federal Water and Gas Corporation.

The Securities and Exchange Commission said that during the reorganization proceedings, a management group including C. T. Chenery, president of Federal Water Service, acquiring preferred stock of the company at a cost of $328,347, planning to exchange it for common stock of the surviving corporation with a book value of $1,162,431.

The SEC ruling, however, that the company officials would have to surrender the stock to the corporation at cost, plus four per cent. The Supreme Court concurred, holding that officers of a utility concern could not retain profits realized through purchases of its securities while it was in reorganization.

Jackson said it was agreed on all sides there was no actual law to back up the ruling.

Jackson said the majority opinion gave only one reason for the decision—"the principle of judicial deference to administrative experience."

Aside from the Jackson dissent, the court today took only one formal action. At the petitioner's request it dismissed a case in which a Pennsylvania father sought a ruling that a public school board must pay for transporting his daughter to a Catholic school.

Vaccine Exhausted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. (AP)—The Army and Navy have exhausted their reserves of cholera vaccine in efforts to check the epidemic in Egypt and government medical officers told reporters today they did not know where supplies could be found to meet new appeals.

Marts Agree To Hikes Asked By President

"Denial" Campaign Support Pledged

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Three grain exchanges tonight announced they would comply with a presidential request to increase their margin requirements on grain futures contracts although two complained grain prices "are being unfairly and illogically used as a whipping boy."

This development came as President Truman's campaign to provide more food for Europe through American self-denial drew pledges of support from widespread segments of the country.

In setting forth the purposes of the drive, which calls for voluntary reductions in consumption of foodstuffs, Mr. Truman had asked the commodity markets to boost their margin requirements to 33⅓ per cent as a means of curbing speculation and keeping grain prices from soaring too high.

Putting Mr. Truman's request into effect, the Commodity Exchange Commission, which has no control over margin rates, formally telegraphed 10 exchanges today and asked them to raise the margins to the 33⅓ per cent figure, which is about twice the previous margin.

The Chicago, Minneapolis and Kansas City grain exchanges announced they would comply.

"Reluctance" Noted

But the directors of the Chicago and Minneapolis exchanges, in a joint statement, said they did so with reluctance. They contended the government's action "will neither alleviate nor correct the situation for which the President seeks a remedy—high prices."

Grain market men have contended that government buying of grain for export is one of the principal reasons for higher prices.

The Agriculture Department disclosed meanwhile that it had sharply increased its purchases of wheat for export during the past week, buying 23,963,674 bushels, against 9,089,880 the previous week. Flour and barley takings also were boosted.

As the United States began gearing itself to a program of less food, the United Nations Committee on Economics heard predictions that the food shortage in the world will kill more people next year than were killed in any one year during the war.

Sir John Boyd Orr, director general of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization, also said at Lake Success, N. Y. that the present food scarcities abroad may continue beyond the 1948 harvest.

As one method of easing the pinch on the American household while it helps out, Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.) demanded that more than 90,000,000 pounds of government-held eggs—both dried and whole frozen—be released to the public.

The eggs were brought by the government, the senator said he was told, for price support purposes.

No Comment From Luckman

The Senator addressed his demand to Charles Luckman, chairman of the President's Citizens Food Committee. There was no immediate comment from Luckman.

In making his request to the commodity exchanges to increase their trading margins, Mr. Truman had warned them that the government might step in to limit the volume of trading.

Truman Food Program Endorsed By Sen. Taft

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) said tonight he "thoroughly" approved of President Truman's program for domestic reduction in consumption of food.

The Republican leader made his statement in a radio debate with Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) on the high cost of living, but also declared that present high prices "have been caused by the policies of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations."

O'Mahoney countered that "President Truman in both 1946 and 1947 has made every effort to prevent inflation" and that "The Republican Congress has done nothing to combat inflation."

Heiress Seeks Double Indemnity On Parents' Insurance Policies

SANTA ANA, Calif., Oct. 6 (AP)—The nation's most publicized young lovers of the moment, Louise Overell and George Gollum, had slipped quietly out of the public limelight tonight—but the litigation isn't necessarily over with their acquittal on charges of murdering her parents.

Otto A. Jacobs, the 18-year-old heiress' counsel, told newsmen that she will press for collection under the double indemnity clause of $150,000 policies on the lives of Pasadena Financier Walter E. Overell and his wife, Beulah, who died aboard their yacht March 15.

Jacobs pointed out that the coroner returned a verdict of accidental death and that Louise had been

Overell Case One Of California's Most Expensive

SANTA ANA, Calif., Oct. 6 (AP)— The longest murder trial on record, the Overell case also ranked as one of the costliest in California court annals.

While certain counsel and special investigating fees can only be estimated, the total cost figured to run over $150,000.

Of this amount, Orange County alone expended $17,403.50, including nearly $3,000 for jury fees, at $12 per week per juror.

"Purge" Labor Act Backers, Green Says

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6—(AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach told the American Federation of Labor convention today an attempt was being made to make labor "the whipping boy" for the high cost of living by using wage boosts "as the excuse for price increases."

The Cabinet member said that, although there is a true relationship between wage and price increases, thus far "all that American labor attempted to do was to pursue prices and never, in the last 15 months, have they have able to catch up."

Earlier, AFL President William Green called labor to "march to the polls" in 1948 "to defeat every member of Congress who voted for the Taft-Hartley law."

Taft's Statement "Naive"

"We should fight with all our vigor against any effort to continue the campaign to tie upon the wage earners of the country the label of being exclusively responsible for the increase," Schwellenbach said.

Schwellenbach characterized as "naive and amusing" the recent assertion by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) that a tax cut would ease high prices, and that the cost of living could be stabilized at a level 50 to 60 per cent above 1939.

He said the reduction which would have been effected by the Republican tax-cut bills—vetoed by the President—would have amounted to about $30 a year for the great mass of taxpayers. This, he declared, would mean little—"if you don't know how much groceries $30 will buy, go home and ask your wife."

"Wage increases," said Schwellenbach, "have been used as the excuse for price increases. To that extent responsibility (by labor) must be accepted, but they have not been the cause of price increases because they have never succeeded in attaining a goal of level price-wage relationship."

Election Day "Holiday"

Schwellenbach appealed to labor to support President Truman's campaign against waste to make more food available to needy nations.

Opening the federation's 66th annual convention, the 73-year-old Green predicted the delegates would "direct and order" that election day next year be set aside as a holiday to permit every worker to cast his ballot.

Labor, Green declared, "resented bitterly" the passage of "anti-labor legislation after the war is over" and after labor had established what he said was a "great record" of wartime production.

Hanns Eislers Are Released On Bond

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6. (INS)—Hollywood Song Writer Hanns Eisler and his wife, Louise, were arrested today on deportation proceedings after surrendering to United States Immigration Officer W A. Carmichael.

Both were released on bond, Eisler posting $1,000 and his wife $500

The brother of Gerhart Eisler, who had been identified as the No. 1 Communist agent in the United States, denied all the charges against him. He told newsmen:

"In 1933 in a Paris newspaper I read where Hitler had placed a price on my head along with several other artists. I never dreamed that a similar situation could arise in the United States, a country that I love."

The charges against him consist of four separate counts growing out of the charge that he was found to be a member of a class which believed in, advised, advocated and taught the overthrow by force or violence of the government of the United States.

Specifically the warrants were issued upon allegations that the immigration visa under which they entered this country had been obtained by fraud and misrepresentation and that Eisler had sworn that he was not a member of the Communist Party.

AMBLER, Pa., Oct. 6 (AP) — Four soft-voiced gunmen made off with $7,700 today in a bold raid on the fashionable Oak Terrace Country Club.

The robbers walked in the front door of the semi-isolated club about 3 a. m., awakened the manager and forced him to open the safe containing about $7,000 in weekend receipts and jewelry.

They rounded up 10 residents—seven men and three women—and took $700 from their pockets. The robbers trussed them with telephone wires, neckties and bathrobe cords.

Then with a mild warning, they hurried to the club station wagon and drove off.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (INS) — Charles Luckman, chairman of the Citizens Food Committee, tonight announced the "meatless" and "poultryless and eggless" menus which have been prepared by White House Housekeeper Mrs. Mary E. Sharpe for President Truman on Tuesday and Thursday. They are:

Tuesday dinner — Clear chicken soup. broiled salmon steak, scalloped potatoes, string beans, sauteed eggplant, perfection salad and sliced peaches.

Thursday lunch—Corn soup, peppers stuffed with rice and mushrooms, lima beans, glazed carrots and a baked apple.

Thursday dinner — Melon balls, baked ham, baked sweet potatoes, asparagus, cauliflower, green salad and a coffee mallow.

Lawmakers Kept From Searching "Loyalty" Files

Legislators Irked By Commissioners

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP) — Two Civil Service commissioners refused today to let congressmen make sure their names are removed from a secret file kept by commission investigators in connection with loyalty inquiries.

Harry B. Mitchell and Arthur S. Flemming told the House Executive Expenditures Committee such a search would violate the confidential nature of the file. They promised, however, that the cards of all congressmen will be removed from the file and destroyed.

Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich), committee chairman, declared, "This is a Gestapo," and warned the commissioners he will put the matter before Congress when it convenes in January. Calling the file on congressmen a "smear list," he said one card listed a congressman as a Nazi.

All three commissioners, Mitchell, Flemming and Frances Perkins, had denied knowing until last Friday that congressmen's names appear at all in the files, which they said is only a compilation of "leads" to guide investigators in loyalty checks. They agreed the names should be removed at once.

"But you want us to take your word for it," objected Hoffman. "Why don't you let us help you?"

"That file is our responsibility," Flemming said, "and we will get those cards out."

Hoffman reminded Flemming that he was before the committee under a subpoena which requested that the commission produce the cards of congressmen listed in the file.

"You mean you won't do it until we get a court order," Hoffman said.

Hoffman said the committee could not cite the commissioners for contempt until Congress meets.

Ill-Fated Plane Flying Too Low

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP) — A Senate Commerce Committee aide reported today that a Capital Airlines plane which crashed with 50 dead near Leesburg, Va., June 13 was flying low against both company and government rules. He said a Civil Aeronautics Administration control "erred" in permitting the too-low flight.

The report, by Carl Dolan, technical assistant to the committee which made his study public, recommended that the Civil Aeronautics Board clarify tower instructions and provide for "standardization of approach proceedings for all planes.

Dolan said the pilot, flying at 5,000 feet over Martinsburg, W. Va., asked and received permission from the tower in Washington to come down to 2,500 feet or less "to enable him to discontinue instrument flying."

He continued:

"The control tower erred in permitting the pilot to descend to 2,500 feet or less in territory that the Civil Aeronautics Board has a minimum requirement of 1,000 feet above the terrain, which would be (in the case of the Capital Airlines plane) 2,600 feet. Also the company had a regulation of a minimum of 3,000 feet."

The report said the pilot "breached" both rules.

Efficiency "Warning" Sounded By Gov. Lane

BALTIMORE, Oct. 6 (AP)—Lane hinted tonight that he was not satisfied that all departments of the state were operating as efficiently and economically as he would like.

In a speech before the Maryland Classified Employees' Association here he declared:

"Every department and every agency of this state should and must function with the same degree of efficiency and economy that is to be found in any well-conducted business."

Austria Launches Assault On Reds

LONDON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Diplomatic sources here said today creation of a new international Communist organization was the signal for openly intensified political and possibly economic warfare between the Soviet Union and the western powers.

Late reports from European capitals indicated such a conflict was already brewing in the wake of yesateday's announcement that Communists in nine countries had banded together to fight "American imperialism." The diplomatic informants saw the move as Russia's counter-strategy to Secretary of State Marshall's plan for European reconstrution through mutual cooperation.

In Vienna, high diplomatic sources said the Austrian government, convinced that there is no possibility of agreement between the Allies on the Austrian treaty, had launched an all-out attack against Communist propaganda and tactics.

Fear "Another Hungary"

"We cannot allow Austria to become another Hungary," A diplomatic informant quoted a high Austrian official as saying. "We must not let the Communists secure a dictatorship of the minority. Therefore we must expose their aims and methods at every possible opportunity."

He said that Austria was basing its hopes for salvation from the Communists on the Marshall plan, and that the government would not dare to attempt an offensive against the Communists without at least the moral support of the western powers, notably the United States. The Russians, through their occupation forces, control Austria's bread basket and most important industrial regions.

In Berlin, western military government officials predicted that the Communists would launch strikes and demonstrations in the Ruhr to be timed with the scheduled dismantlings of German factories for reparations.

Two-fold Purpose

The officials said such an attack would have the two-fold purpose of undermining British-American efforts to put Western Germany on its feet economically and by a German collapse jeopardize the success of the Marshall plan.

The coal mines are a key factor in European recovery, the officials said. In some mines more than 40 per cent of the workers are Communists.

The British Foreign Office said the new Communist organization would be given "close attention and study." In Washington, Michael McDermott, press officer for the State Department, said the department was studying "very carefully" the declaration issued by the Communist leaders disclosing the setting up of an international bureau in Belgrade to co-ordinate their activities.

Truman Congratulated By Mohandas Gandhi

NEW DELHI, Oct 6. (AP)—Mohandas K. Gandhi said tonight he wished to congratulate President Truman for advising Americans to eat less bread to save grain for hungry Europe.

Addressing a prayer meeting, Gandhi added he wanted Indians to follow Mr. Truman's "philanthropic gesture" and deny themselves a few meals every week to save their own countrymen from starving to death.

Nightmare Of Sea

Saga Of Unlucky Tugboat And "Charges" Incomplete

Airmen from Palmyra Atoll supplied the latest unhappy details today, and the saga remained incomplete. Here is the story, as pieced together from their accounts, from Navy information and from reports of crewmen and the tug's resourceful but unlucky skipper, Kenneth Ainslee, Sydney, Australia:

The tug was towing four surplus minesweepers from Charleston, N. C., to Manila for use by the Luzo Stevedoring Company. All went well until September 24, when for unknown reasons the tug ran out of fuel near Palmyra, more than 1,000 miles south of here in one of the least-frequented areas of the Pacific.

By draining oil from the cookstove, Ainslee got under way again and made it to Palmyra, but had to cut the minesweepers adrift outside. Powerless, they were lashed together. Three watchmen were left aboard them with food and water for 10 days. They had a lifeboat and some "iron" rations also.

Refueling at the small civil aeronautics station on Palmyra, the tug returned to pick up the sweepers. They had vanished. The tug, hunting them in widening circles, ran aground on a reef where the chart showed 150 feet of water.

After a long effort, Ainslee got his ship free and resumed the search. Then the distilling apparatus broke down and there was no fresh water.

The skipper rigged tarpaulins, caught rainwater, and kept going

Gibes At Reasoning In Utility Decision

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—(AP)—The Supreme Court got off to a stormy start on its new term today, with Justice Jackson accusing colleagues of encouraging "conscious lawlessness" by government officials.

Jackson, joined by Justice Frankfurter, filed a delayed dissent to a 5 to 2 decision handed down last June. Gibing at the reasoning behind the majority's decision, he said:

"I give up. Now I realize what Mark Twain meant when he said, "The more you explain it, the more I don't understand it."

The case involved a reorganization of Federal Water Service Corporation, a New York holding company, and its merger into the Federal Water and Gas Corporation.

The Securities and Exchange Commission said that during the reorganization proceedings, a management group including C. T. Chenery, president of Federal Water Service, acquiring preferred stock of the company at a cost of $328,347, planning to exchange it for common stock of the surviving corporation with a book value of $1,162,431.

The SEC ruling, however, that the company officials would have to surrender the stock to the corporation at cost, plus four per cent. The Supreme Court concurred, holding that officers of a utility concern could not retain profits realized through purchases of its securities while it was in reorganization.

Jackson said it was agreed on all sides there was no actual law to back up the ruling.

Jackson said the majority opinion gave only one reason for the decision—"the principle of judicial deference to administrative experience."

Aside from the Jackson dissent, the court today took only one formal action. At the petitioner's request it dismissed a case in which a Pennsylvania father sought a ruling that a public school board must pay for transporting his daughter to a Catholic school.

Vaccine Exhausted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. (AP)—The Army and Navy have exhausted their reserves of cholera vaccine in efforts to check the epidemic in Egypt and government medical officers told reporters today they did not know where supplies could be found to meet new appeals.

Marts Agree To Hikes Asked By President

"Denial" Campaign Support Pledged

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Three grain exchanges tonight announced they would comply with a presidential request to increase their margin requirements on grain futures contracts although two complained grain prices "are being unfairly and illogically used as a whipping boy."

This development came as President Truman's campaign to provide more food for Europe through American self-denial drew pledges of support from widespread segments of the country.

In setting forth the purposes of the drive, which calls for voluntary reductions in consumption of foodstuffs, Mr. Truman had asked the commodity markets to boost their margin requirements to 33⅓ per cent as a means of curbing speculation and keeping grain prices from soaring too high.

Putting Mr. Truman's request into effect, the Commodity Exchange Commission, which has no control over margin rates, formally telegraphed 10 exchanges today and asked them to raise the margins to the 33⅓ per cent figure, which is about twice the previous margin.

The Chicago, Minneapolis and Kansas City grain exchanges announced they would comply.

"Reluctance" Noted

But the directors of the Chicago and Minneapolis exchanges, in a joint statement, said they did so with reluctance. They contended the government's action "will neither alleviate nor correct the situation for which the President seeks a remedy—high prices."

Grain market men have contended that government buying of grain for export is one of the principal reasons for higher prices.

The Agriculture Department disclosed meanwhile that it had sharply increased its purchases of wheat for export during the past week, buying 23,963,674 bushels, against 9,089,880 the previous week. Flour and barley takings also were boosted.

As the United States began gearing itself to a program of less food, the United Nations Committee on Economics heard predictions that the food shortage in the world will kill more people next year than were killed in any one year during the war.

Sir John Boyd Orr, director general of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization, also said at Lake Success, N. Y. that the present food scarcities abroad may continue beyond the 1948 harvest.

As one method of easing the pinch on the American household while it helps out, Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.) demanded that more than 90,000,000 pounds of government-held eggs—both dried and whole frozen—be released to the public.

The eggs were brought by the government, the senator said he was told, for price support purposes.

No Comment From Luckman

The Senator addressed his demand to Charles Luckman, chairman of the President's Citizens Food Committee. There was no immediate comment from Luckman.

In making his request to the commodity exchanges to increase their trading margins, Mr. Truman had warned them that the government might step in to limit the volume of trading.

Truman Food Program Endorsed By Sen. Taft

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) said tonight he "thoroughly" approved of President Truman's program for domestic reduction in consumption of food.

The Republican leader made his statement in a radio debate with Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) on the high cost of living, but also declared that present high prices "have been caused by the policies of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations."

O'Mahoney countered that "President Truman in both 1946 and 1947 has made every effort to prevent inflation" and that "The Republican Congress has done nothing to combat inflation."

Heiress Seeks Double Indemnity On Parents' Insurance Policies

Overell Case One Of California's Most Expensive

SANTA ANA, Calif., Oct. 6 (AP)— The longest murder trial on record, the Overell case also ranked as one of the costliest in California court annals.

While certain counsel and special investigating fees can only be estimated, the total cost figured to run over $150,000.

Of this amount, Orange County alone expended $17,403.50, including nearly $3,000 for jury fees, at $12 per week per juror.

SANTA ANA, Calif., Oct. 6 (AP)—The nation's most publicized young lovers of the moment, Louise Overell and George Gollum, had slipped quietly out of the public limelight tonight—but the litigation isn't necessarily over with their acquittal on charges of murdering her parents.

Otto A. Jacobs, the 18-year-old heiress' counsel, told newsmen that she will press for collection under the double indemnity clause of $150,000 policies on the lives of Pasadena Financier Walter E. Overell and his wife, Beulah, who died aboard their yacht March 15.

Jacobs pointed out that the coroner returned a verdict of accidental death and that Louise had been

Ruark Says Probe Ended In "Farce"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Columnist Robert C. Ruark aserted today that the Army's investigation into alleged lavish living among officers and abuses to enlisted men in Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee's Italian theater resulted in "a farce" and "an attempted whitewash."

The Scripps-Howard writer, whose articles on Lee's command prompted Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to order an inquiry, said he was "possibly naive to expect anything else," and declared:

"No mouse, to my knowledge, ever successfully investigated a cat."

Ruark said that in an "alleged effort to find truth," Maj. Gen. Ira T. Wyche, who conducted the investigation, found "so much stuff kicking around that even he tripped and fell flat over enough unburied evidence to force Gen. Eisenhower to take action on several marked abuses."

"Other abuses, in the frantic efforts of Lee and his road show of pet colonels to bury the bone before the press and the inspector general's snooper's showed up, were corrected in self-defense," Ruark continued in his column today.

"In Gen. Wyche's pitiful effort to sidestep the truth, all the charges have stood up."

In his report to Gen. Eisenhower, Wyche said he had found only "minor discrepancies and irregularities" in Lee's command and that Ruark's stories gave a "wholly erroneous picture" of conditions in general.

Eisenhower, making the Wyche report public last Friday, acknowledged in a separate memorandum that "errors" were discovered in Lee's zone but said they were "the exception rather than the rule and in no case could be traced to wrong intent on the part of the theater commander."

Forest Fire Warning Is Sounded By Buckingham

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 6. (AP)—State Forester H. C. Buckingham warned Marylanders today that October is the critical fall month for forest fires.

He urged particular care in fires near woodland and strict observance of the regulation requiring burning refuse or debris only between 4 p. m. and 12 midnight in wooded areas.

Buckingham said, "There is some danger right now and it will grow greater as this year's leaves fall. The dried grass and weeds are hazardous now."

The State Department of Forest and Parks is better equipped than ever to fight forest fires, he said. The 32 state fire towers are being opened now as occasion demands.

Normandie's Tragic Saga Comes To End

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 6—(AP) The tragic saga of the Normandie came to the end today and the creaking of a giant crane was its requiem.

The once proudest of luxury ocean liners vanished into nothingness at high noon, along a debris-littered salvage pier on an island bay. Several hundred workmen silently lined the waters of Newark Bay as a 75-ton section of steel was lifted out of the waters. The Normandie's last touch with the sea was gone.

For almost 10 months workmen had pecked away at the fire-eaten hulk of that great ship which burned at a New York pier while being converted into a troopship. They lifted part by part of the one time pride of the French Maritime Service out of the waters to become scrap.

Brother, Sister "Blue Babies" At Hopkins

BALTIMORE, Oct. 6. (AP)—Brother and sister "blue babies," the first ever examined at Johns Hopkins Hospital from one family, arrived here today from Lorain, Ohio, to see if the Blalock-Taussig operation can correct their condition.

Frank Valentini, Jr., 6 and his sister, Leonora, 9, both have been afflicted with a heart condition depriving the blood of oxygen since they were babies. Each will undergo a series of examinations to determine whether they have the kind of heart malformation that can be helped by the operation.

Bullet Holes Indicate Oyster Shooting War

COLONIAL BEACH, Va., Oct. 6 (AP)—Virginia oystermen today said a Maryland dredge, operating from Monroe Bay, bears 11 bullet holes, indicating the shooting war has begun again in the Potomac.

Capt. Walter J. Smith, of the Maryland patrol boat Kent, said last week that shots sometimes are fired in the air as signals to halt but the Virginia man observed:

"The slugs that made those holes may have been stop signals but they hardly were fired into the air."

There was some shooting last year in an attempt to enforce a dredging prohibition on the Potomac.

Von Ribbentrop's "Loot" Is Sought

NUERNBERG, Germany, Oct. 6 (AP) — American war crimes prosecutors have embarked on a vast treasure hunt in search of millions of dollars in gold—perhaps as much as $50,000,000—they believe was cached by Joachim Von Ribbentrop, Hitler's Foreign Minister.

They say the treasure probably is buried in churches, on peasant farms, perhaps still tucked away in forgotten corners of former German embassies abroad.

Existence of the undiscovered funds was tipped off here by former henchman of Ribbentrop in the Nazi Foreign Ministry. In guarded hints, they disclosed it during interrogations by Dr. Robert M. W. Kempner, who is preparing the prosecution of the German ministries under Hitler.

Kempner said the funds may amount to as much as $50,000,000 in gold, or international currency that amounts to the equivalent.

"We found that Robbentrop's books did not balance," the attorney said.

Ribbentrop was hanged here as a war criminal last October 16 before the prosecutors got on the trail of the hidden gold. American agents had done such a magnificent job of finding loot, Kempner said, that it never occurred to anyone to look behind the Foreign Office files.

Ribbentrop had four funds—a general budget, a "secret" fund of about $4,000,000, a war emergency fund of unlimited amounts, and a "super-secret" personal allotment which held at one time at least $45,000,000, Kempner said.

Division Of Sales Tax Surplus Is Advocated

BALTIMORE, Oct. 6—(AP)—A proposal that any surplus from the new state sales tax be divided up among the counties and Baltimore City in proportion to what they paid will be put before the Legislature when it meets in special session this fall.

Delegate Charles M. Bandiere (D-Balto. 5th) said he will introduce a bill which would allocate to the city and 23 counties all state sales tax receipts over the $19,000,000 estimated sum needed to balance the state budget.

It looks now as if there will be a $5,000,000 surplus piled up the first year, he said.

Thieves Steal Safe Containing Cash, Gems

TOWSON, Md., Oct. 6 (AP) — Thieves carted away a 500-pound safe containing $7,347 in cash, savings bonds and jewelry from the home of an elderly Baltimore County couple during the weekend, police reported today.

They said John Truss, 72, and his wife Elizabeth, owners of a Baltimore market stall, found the safe gone when they returned to their home at Elmhurst Saturday night. The kitchen window and a back door had been forced.

"By direction of the President, we request that the governing board of your exchange increase minimum initial margin requirements on all transactions in grain futures to not less than 33⅓ per cent of the market price."

Meantime, the Food Committee modified its call for eggless and poultryless Thursdays to except Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's, which all fall on Thursday this year. It asked, however, that on the Mondays before the holidays the nation forego these foods.

Mr. Truman also asked the nation to deny itself meat on Tuesdays, and called on each individual to save a slice of bread a day. His appeal drew swift reaction:

Restaurant owners gave assurance that they are cutting waste and will feature well-prepared but less costly foods. Distillers, brewers and meat producers began working out the details toward a goal of using less grain for alcoholic beverages and for fattening cattle. Poultry and egg dealers pledged co-operation "to the fullest extent."

ATHENS, Oct. 6. (AP)—An earthquake was felt in the Athens area at about 10 p. m. tonight (3 p. m., Eastern Standard Time). Prices Of Butter Take Sharp Drop

[By The Associated Press]

Although the wholesale commodities markets were nervous Monday in the wake of the new food conservation program, the housewives at the grocery counters noted only one obvious change in the high cost of living—butter was cheaper.

The cut in retail butter prices under those of a week ago averaged about a nickel a pound.

In the New York spot market, butter was unchanged to 2½ cents lower Monday following a four to 4½ cents drop Friday, with the top grade 74 cents. The cash wholesale price in Chicago dropped as much as two cents for some grades, with the best sold at 70½ to 71 cents a pound. Butter futures were down the three-cent limit in Chicago.

A three-cent drop in wholesale butter—to 79 cents for the best grade—was registered at Salt Lake City.

Wholesale egg prices varied in trend and were generally little changed, but they went down three cents in the Utah market, to 70 cents a dozen for the best.

Grain prices dipped sharply on the Chicago Board of Trade in early trading under impact of proposals announced by President Truman Sunday night to curb the use of wheat in the United States.

But, heavy buying of futures by cash grain houses to replenish stocks after the sale of more than 7,000,000 bushels of wheat to the Commodity Credit Corporation sent the prices upward.

Checks Key Word In Note Then Commits Suicide

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6 — (AP) — Pauline Palmieri, 17, wondered why her mother suddenly asked how to spell the word "responsible."

She found out when shot rang out through the Palmieri house and she ran upstairs to find her mother lying dead across a bed, a .38 caliber revolver and a note nearby.

The note read:

"Please do not hold my husband for my death. He is not 'responsible.'"

Police Sgt. John Buley, Darby, Pa., said Mrs. Palmieri had taken her life because of a lingering illness—but only after checking the spelling of the key word in her note.

Ruark Says Probe Ended In "Farce"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Columnist Robert C. Ruark aserted today that the Army's investigation into alleged lavish living among officers and abuses to enlisted men in Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee's Italian theater resulted in "a farce" and "an attempted whitewash."

The Scripps-Howard writer, whose articles on Lee's command prompted Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to order an inquiry, said he was "possibly naive to expect anything else," and declared:

"No mouse, to my knowledge, ever successfully investigated a cat."

Ruark said that in an "alleged effort to find truth," Maj. Gen. Ira T. Wyche, who conducted the investigation, found "so much stuff kicking around that even he tripped and fell flat over enough unburied evidence to force Gen. Eisenhower to take action on several marked abuses."

"Other abuses, in the frantic efforts of Lee and his road show of pet colonels to bury the bone before the press and the inspector general's snooper's showed up, were corrected in self-defense," Ruark continued in his column today.

"In Gen. Wyche's pitiful effort to sidestep the truth, all the charges have stood up."

In his report to Gen. Eisenhower, Wyche said he had found only "minor discrepancies and irregularities" in Lee's command and that Ruark's stories gave a "wholly erroneous picture" of conditions in general.

Eisenhower, making the Wyche report public last Friday, acknowledged in a separate memorandum that "errors" were discovered in Lee's zone but said they were "the exception rather than the rule and in no case could be traced to wrong intent on the part of the theater commander."

Forest Fire Warning Is Sounded By Buckingham

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 6. (AP)—State Forester H. C. Buckingham warned Marylanders today that October is the critical fall month for forest fires.

He urged particular care in fires near woodland and strict observance of the regulation requiring burning refuse or debris only between 4 p. m. and 12 midnight in wooded areas.

Buckingham said, "There is some danger right now and it will grow greater as this year's leaves fall. The dried grass and weeds are hazardous now."

The State Department of Forest and Parks is better equipped than ever to fight forest fires, he said. The 32 state fire towers are being opened now as occasion demands.

Normandie's Tragic Saga Comes To End

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 6—(AP) The tragic saga of the Normandie came to the end today and the creaking of a giant crane was its requiem.

The once proudest of luxury ocean liners vanished into nothingness at high noon, along a debris-littered salvage pier on an island bay. Several hundred workmen silently lined the waters of Newark Bay as a 75-ton section of steel was lifted out of the waters. The Normandie's last touch with the sea was gone.

For almost 10 months workmen had pecked away at the fire-eaten hulk of that great ship which burned at a New York pier while being converted into a troopship. They lifted part by part of the one time pride of the French Maritime Service out of the waters to become scrap.

Brother, Sister "Blue Babies" At Hopkins

BALTIMORE, Oct. 6. (AP)—Brother and sister "blue babies," the first ever examined at Johns Hopkins Hospital from one family, arrived here today from Lorain, Ohio, to see if the Blalock-Taussig operation can correct their condition.

Frank Valentini, Jr., 6 and his sister, Leonora, 9, both have been afflicted with a heart condition depriving the blood of oxygen since they were babies. Each will undergo a series of examinations to determine whether they have the kind of heart malformation that can be helped by the operation.

Bullet Holes Indicate Oyster Shooting War

COLONIAL BEACH, Va., Oct. 6 (AP)—Virginia oystermen today said a Maryland dredge, operating from Monroe Bay, bears 11 bullet holes, indicating the shooting war has begun again in the Potomac.

Capt. Walter J. Smith, of the Maryland patrol boat Kent, said last week that shots sometimes are fired in the air as signals to halt but the Virginia man observed:

"The slugs that made those holes may have been stop signals but they hardly were fired into the air."

There was some shooting last year in an attempt to enforce a dredging prohibition on the Potomac.

Von Ribbentrop's "Loot" Is Sought

NUERNBERG, Germany, Oct. 6 (AP) — American war crimes prosecutors have embarked on a vast treasure hunt in search of millions of dollars in gold—perhaps as much as $50,000,000—they believe was cached by Joachim Von Ribbentrop, Hitler's Foreign Minister.

They say the treasure probably is buried in churches, on peasant farms, perhaps still tucked away in forgotten corners of former German embassies abroad.

Existence of the undiscovered funds was tipped off here by former henchman of Ribbentrop in the Nazi Foreign Ministry. In guarded hints, they disclosed it during interrogations by Dr. Robert M. W. Kempner, who is preparing the prosecution of the German ministries under Hitler.

Kempner said the funds may amount to as much as $50,000,000 in gold, or international currency that amounts to the equivalent.

"We found that Robbentrop's books did not balance," the attorney said.

Ribbentrop was hanged here as a war criminal last October 16 before the prosecutors got on the trail of the hidden gold. American agents had done such a magnificent job of finding loot, Kempner said, that it never occurred to anyone to look behind the Foreign Office files.

Ribbentrop had four funds—a general budget, a "secret" fund of about $4,000,000, a war emergency fund of unlimited amounts, and a "super-secret" personal allotment which held at one time at least $45,000,000, Kempner said.

Jamali told the 57-nation Palestine Committee of the United Nations Assembly that Zionism "has nothing to do with Palestine except in its aim to penetrate the Middle East, using Palestine as a gate."

He said Zionism was "very much like Nazism" and added that "it follows the same methods of propaganda and the same method of aggression and penetration as those of the Nazis."

Division Of Sales Tax Surplus Is Advocated

BALTIMORE, Oct. 6—(AP)—A proposal that any surplus from the new state sales tax be divided up among the counties and Baltimore City in proportion to what they paid will be put before the Legislature when it meets in special session this fall.

Delegate Charles M. Bandiere (D-Balto. 5th) said he will introduce a bill which would allocate to the city and 23 counties all state sales tax receipts over the $19,000,000 estimated sum needed to balance the state budget.

It looks now as if there will be a $5,000,000 surplus piled up the first year, he said.

Thieves Steal Safe Containing Cash, Gems

TOWSON, Md., Oct. 6 (AP) — Thieves carted away a 500-pound safe containing $7,347 in cash, savings bonds and jewelry from the home of an elderly Baltimore County couple during the weekend, police reported today.

They said John Truss, 72, and his wife Elizabeth, owners of a Baltimore market stall, found the safe gone when they returned to their home at Elmhurst Saturday night. The kitchen window and a back door had been forced.

mission's telegram said:

"By direction of the President, we request that the governing board of your exchange increase minimum initial margin requirements on all transactions in grain futures to not less than 33⅓ per cent of the market price."

Meantime, the Food Committee modified its call for eggless and poultryless Thursdays to except Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's, which all fall on Thursday this year. It asked, however, that on the Mondays before the holidays the nation forego these foods.

Mr. Truman also asked the nation to deny itself meat on Tuesdays, and called on each individual to save a slice of bread a day. His appeal drew swift reaction:

Restaurant owners gave assurance that they are cutting waste and will feature well-prepared but less costly foods. Distillers, brewers and meat producers began working out the details toward a goal of using less grain for alcoholic beverages and for fattening cattle. Poultry and egg dealers pledged co-operation "to the fullest extent."

Quake Felt In Athens

ATHENS, Oct. 6. (AP)—An earthquake was felt in the Athens area at about 10 p. m. tonight (3 p. m., Eastern Standard Time). The Athens observatory said the tremor was strong and was centered beneath the Gulf of Corinth. Telephoned reports indicated no damage or loss of life in Corinth, Patrai and Tripolis.

Prices Of Butter Take Sharp Drop

[By The Associated Press]

Although the wholesale commodities markets were nervous Monday in the wake of the new food conservation program, the housewives at the grocery counters noted only one obvious change in the high cost of living—butter was cheaper.

The cut in retail butter prices under those of a week ago averaged about a nickel a pound.

In the New York spot market, butter was unchanged to 2½ cents lower Monday following a four to 4½ cents drop Friday, with the top grade 74 cents. The cash wholesale price in Chicago dropped as much as two cents for some grades, with the best sold at 70½ to 71 cents a pound. Butter futures were down the three-cent limit in Chicago.

A three-cent drop in wholesale butter—to 79 cents for the best grade—was registered at Salt Lake City.

Wholesale egg prices varied in trend and were generally little changed, but they went down three cents in the Utah market, to 70 cents a dozen for the best.

Grain prices dipped sharply on the Chicago Board of Trade in early trading under impact of proposals announced by President Truman Sunday night to curb the use of wheat in the United States.

But, heavy buying of futures by cash grain houses to replenish stocks after the sale of more than 7,000,000 bushels of wheat to the Commodity Credit Corporation sent the prices upward.

Murray Is Winner

BALTIMORE, Oct. 6 (AP)—Lee Q. Murray appeared to be on the verge of a knockout at one stage of his fight with Curtis (Hatchetman) Sheppard, 190-pound Philadelphian, tonight, but he came back to win the unanimous decision in the 10-round main event at the Coliseum.

A crowd of 1,883 paid $4,726 to see the six-bout card.

All 36 of them promptly became violently ill. One died Saturday night. He was Oiler Catalino Mirasol, Manila.

Eight others remained in such serious condition that two doctors were flown to Palmyra from Honolulu Sunday and the sick men were brought to Queens Hospital today. They included five Filipinos two residents of Hawaii and Philip Catahina, Philadelphia.

The Hawaiian Sea Frontier, which is directing the search for the missing minesweepers, had 11 planes in the air and the patrol craft PCE 881 working out of Palmyra, but there was no trace of the vessels.

Checks Key Word In Note Then Commits Suicide

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6 — (AP) — Pauline Palmieri, 17, wondered why her mother suddenly asked how to spell the word "responsible."

She found out when shot rang out through the Palmieri house and she ran upstairs to find her mother lying dead across a bed, a .38 caliber revolver and a note nearby.

The note read:

"Please do not hold my husband for my death. He is not 'responsible.'"

Police Sgt. John Buley, Darby, Pa., said Mrs. Palmieri had taken her life because of a lingering illness—but only after checking the spelling of the key word in her note.

Council Receives Several Reports

Fifty-two barrels of oil were used this year in the canal and catch basins to curb mosquito breeding, Walter E. Kline, sanitary inspector, said yesterday in a report to the Mayor and Council.

Kline reported seven barrels of weed killer were used after weeds had been cut on streets and alleys and that 120 barrels of carbide had been dumped in the Potomac River and along the banks to eliminate odors as much as possible.

Requests by residents of the city to dispose of poison ivy patches resulted in disposal of much of the weed, Kline said.

John Matthews, who is building seven homes for veterans in the Oldtown Road area on a street known as Turner Street, asked Council what could be done about sewage for his homes. Since the street has not been accepted by the city, Matthews was advised to install septic tanks. A survey of the property will be made to determine what sewage can be installed and the costs involved.

A report by Comissioner of Fire and Police William V. Keegan for September revealed that the fire department answered 15 alarms with small loss. The Police Department made 702 arrests with fines totalling $1,848.

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, in his report of Health Department activities for September, stated three poliomyelitis, one tuberculosis meningitis, four diphtheria, one erysipelas, one mumps, one pneumonia, five tuberculosis, eight venereal and four whoping cough cases were treated.

Total visits by nurses were 395 and the dental clinic examined 1,317 school children. Eleven schools were visited. During the month, 235 births were recorded, 38 deaths and seven stillborn, the report said.

A contract for a 36-inch circular sluice gate for the Water Department was awarded the Tri-State Mine and Mill Supply Company, this city. Cost of the gate was $1,400.

Charles F. Burke, Jr., reported taxes collected during the month totalled $57,227.81 and City Clerk S. E. Griminger reported receipts from general and privilege licenses, movie and admission taxes, $2,498.18.

Account balances as of October 1 were revealed as: General Account, $375,288.54; Water Operations Account, $172,389.15; General Improvement Bonds Account, $73,179.21; Paving Bonds Account, $34.72; Flood Prevention Account, $631.49; and 1931 Sewer Bonds Account, $794.50.

Old School Of Thinking On Self-Imposed Rationing

As might be expected, the advocates of regimentation for regimentation's sake, are pooh-poohing the Government's voluntary food saving program. Of course, they say, it won't work.

Charles Luckman, head of the Citizens' Committee, had no sooner announced a campaign to conserve food based on less waste, than Leon Henderson, the former OPA head, and Wilson Wyatt, the old housing expediter, jumped upon it. Mr. Henderson called for an immediate special session of Congress to reimpose controls and rationing. Mr. Wyatt backed him up.

These gentlemen are not alone in jumping to conclusions. They have been joined by other groups who claim the program is tragically short of the need and that there will be no co-operation. The defeatist attitude of the former New Dealers can be understood. The skepticism of others, who have not even given the program a chance, is ill-advised.

No one knows whether the program will work. But it has a good chance of success. If the situation and the need are clearly explained to the public, co-operation will come. It always has. The memories of Mr. Wyatt and Mr. Henderson are obviously too short to recall the many times during the war when the civilian population responded wonderfully to voluntary appeals for self-denial when those appeals sprang from real need. They have forgotten that unnecessary governmental regulation and red tape were resented and were a dismal failure.

The five-point home conservation program for the use of cheaper cuts, reasonable servings, no overcooking of meat, the use of left-overs and a slackening in the demand for poultry and dairy products to conserve wheat, is not unreasonable. If followed—and continued high prices will help in its observance—it should go far toward meeting the world food crisis without imposing too heavy a burden on the American people.

A rigid system of rationing, with its attendant black markets, would meet only with resistance. Mr. Henderson and Mr. Wyatt are not aware that the day of their school thinking is over.

American People Should Know What Is Going On

On August 15, a plane took off from the Teterboro Airport, south of Hackensack, N. J., and flew to Baltimore. There it loaded ammunition, took off for Jacksonville, and finally landed at Havana.

Two weeks earlier, the Cuban navy seized four U. S.-made war planes landed illegally in Cuba, but refused to say whether they were connected with a rumored revolutionary plot in the Dominican Republic.

Those are pieces of the story. Now the Cuban army and navy have announced that they have captured 11 bombers and several small vessels which they said were carrying expeditionary groups plotting such a revolution. A Cuban official is under arrest in Miami. In the background of developments lies a series of events, rumors, charges and counter-charges.

On May 16, the Dominicans, by a vote of 30 to one, reelected President Trujillo, who has ruled the country with an iron hand since he was swept into power by the revolution of 1930. In time, Porto Rican sources reported that his government had conducted a political purge, and in July the president of Guatemala, alleging that Trujillo had set up a "monarchy," suspended diplomatic relations.

A few weeks later the Dominican embassy in Washington declared that a three-ship expedition carrying 3,000 "communist revolutionaries," had sailed from Cuba to invade his homeland. His allegations have now been substantiated by the Cuban authorities, who added that the heavily-armed volunteers were led by Dominican "patriots," and included former American soldiers plus war-experienced adventurers of many nationalities.

When a full-fledged "army," equipped with landing ships, fighters and bombers, is combined into a million-dollar amphibious expedition, something more than the natural ebullience Americans expect from their southern neighbors is cooking.

In the capital of the Dominican Republic stand the ruins of the oldest existing settlement of white men in the new world—and Dominica is in strategic territory. It is a key area in the Caribbean, which is the Mediterranean of all the Americas.

The Cuban government, and the authorities in Washington, should conduct a full investigation of this affair, so that the American people may know what is going on.

No Place For Politics

As the chairman of a House subcommittee said, it definitely is "unusual," to say the least, that four members of the Al Capone gang should be paroled after serving one-third of their 10-year sentences.

It was unusual, too, that two of the men previously were transferred from Atlanta to Leavenworth, apparently for no other purpose than their convenience, despite the Atlanta warden's written protest to federal authorities that "money is being passed here."

It is not unusual, but it is disturbing, that political influence apparently played a role in the unwarranted amnesty for these gangsters, for their release seems due, in part, to the efforts of Paul Dillon, a St. Louis attorney who identified himself as a former campaign manager for President Truman when Mr. Truman ran for Senator from Missouri.

Mr. Dillon said he never had discussed the matter with Mr. Truman, and doubtless that is true, but the fact remains that here is another hint of political influence in federal law enforcement agencies that should be above suspicion. This recalls the unsavory aspects of the Department of Justice inquiry into the Kansas City vote fraud case.

Two Senators termed the investigation a "whitewash," Sen. Homer Ferguson asserting that evidence available to Attorney General Tom Clark "established beyond a doubt abundant evidence of a federal crime."

Congress quite rightly is delving into the situation. If the federal law and prison agencies can be "approached," the security of every citizen is endangered.

The man who wrote the tune which became the national anthem must have been a bit psychic, when he put in the phrase about the rocket's red glare.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

COATED TONGUE

INFECTION or other abnormalities of the tongue rarely escape detection because the organ is sensitive and the slightest soreness can be felt. Furthermore many individuals are prone to gaze at the structure with a mirror especially if they are not feeling up to par.

The tongue organ is a bear for punishment but there is a limit to the amount of abuse the old boy can take. It can be irritated by chemicals, excesses of condiments, and tobacco. Continuous rubbing against a rough tooth or poorly fitting denture is capable of producing abrasions or ulcers. Moreover the hordes of bacteria normally present in the mouth are always waiting for a chance to invade; and lack of oral cleanliness, undernourishment, diabetes, and pregnancy enhance this possibility.

During an acute infection like measles, scarlet fever, or diphtheria, changes in the tongue are observed. In certain types of anemia and vitamin deficiencies it becomes beefy red, smooth, or shiny. In some instances, the alterations are so characteristic that the physician is able to diagnose the disorder after taking one look.

A coating does not imply necessarily that disease exists. Food particles are often caught on its rough surface where they remain unless removed by additional chewing. When milk is consumed before going to bed, a part remains all night and does not disappear until breakfast is eaten.

The condition is also common in individuals who sleep with the mouth open. Fox and Kesel describe a syndrome in which the nose is obstructed on one side or the other, depending upon which way the head is facing. When sleeping on the back, both sides are frequently stopped up and, on arising in the morning, the mucus which accumulated in the back of the throat is coughed up.

Considerable secretion continues to back up into the throat during the day. Apparently the fault lies in the adenoid tissue in the back of the pharynx near the exit of the nose. The tongue becomes covered with a yellowish-gray film which sometimes extends over the inner sides of the mouth and gums. This material has an unpleasant odor which is often the most disturbing feature of the difficulty.

In some instances allergy is responsible. If the culprit can be found and eliminated, throat congestion disappears, breathing thru the nose becomes possible, and the individual is able to sleep with the mouth closed. Other conditions which produce blockage of the nose include polyps and sinus disorders. Infection must also be considered and in obstinate cases X-ray or radium may be required to bring back the tissues to normal size.

Sometimes, by turning the individual on his side, the mouth will no longer gape and breathing thru the proper channels occurs. Mouth washes may prove helpful. The authors in question found that chewing gum containing sulfathiazole was effective in removing many of the organisms from the structure.

This question is difficult to answer on the information given. In general, distress from gall bladder disturbances can mimic anginal pain and, in some instances, lead to reflex heart symptoms. On the other hand, there are many origins of shoulder pain.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

NBC just put into effect a regulation which bans all detective, murder, crime, and mystery programs from the air before 9:30 p. m.

And it's accomplishing its purpose. The nation's kids are now going to bed real early—so they can get up at 9:30 and listen to the detective, murder, crime and mystery programs.

My brother's been making a lot of money since this new ruling went into effect. Now he's smuggling radios to kids in pop corn boxes.

And before long—who knows—we may be having "listen-easies."

One mother in my neighborhood caught her little kid putting benzedrine in his cereal so he'd be sure and stay awake till 9:30.

As a result of the new regulation all those radio detectives have to stay up so late—from now on the private eyes will be half-closed.

And now the butler can't be the one who did it—it'll have to be the night watchman.

Of course, if the trend keeps up probably the most famous radio detective will be the late George Apley.

However, the later starting time should have some good effects on the prime shows.

Now, at least, "The Whisler' will have time to run down to Hollywood and Vine for some practice.

And the extra time should give "The Thin Man" a chance to fatten up.

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON.—When popular French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault came to Washington last week he saw his old friend Jimmie Byrnes for the first time since the much-loved Jimmie retired as Secretary of State. Their meeting recalled to Bidault a conversation he had with Byrnes about a year before in Paris. Apropos of loans to France, Byrnes had complained:

Bidault challenged this statement and Byrnes went on to explain: "Look at your barbershops. They're not open all day Monday."

"Mr. Secretary," replied the French Foreign Minister, "we Frenchmen like to be clean-shaven at least one day a week, and for that reason our barbershops stay open all day Sunday. That is why you couldn't get a shave on Monday.

Note—In 1937 Byrnes went to Europe as a delegate to the Inter-Parliamentary Union. Stopping in France en route he was impressed with the fact that the French closed their stores and offices at 11:30 A. M. Saturday and didn't open them again until Tuesday. In Germany, on the other hand, everyone was working hard, with large placards proclaiming "Joy in Work." Byrnes went back and reported to FDR that in the eventual European war, France would be defeated.

"When I come back to this earth in a reincarnation," says Jimmie Byrnes, "I would like to be a Parisian. They are such delightful people." But he also thinks no people can recover from war without working a full week.

Vanishing Government Servants

Credit conscientious Kenneth Royall, Secretary of the Army, for hammering at one of the worst weaknesses of Government today—the need of all-round, able manpower.

Ever since the war ended, it has been increasingly difficult for the Government to draft good men for important positions. During the war, men from every walk of life volunteered to come to Washington, but now—though in some respects the emergency is almost as serious—Government agencies literally have to get down on their knees and beg qualified executives to come to Washington.

Speaking in his home state of North Carolina last week, Secretary Royall pointed to this difficulty, and urged not only businessmen, but labor and farm leaders to give part of their time to the Government.

Trumanesque Simplicity

Historians will never describe Harry Truman as having the great radio appeal of his predecesor in the White House. But sometimes when the President speaks impromptu or is with only a few people, he becomes almost Lincolnesque in the simplicity of his eloquence.

The other day a group of Gold Star Mothers went in to see the President. They had only a few minutes with him, and grandmotherly Mrs. Mathilda Burling of Richmond Hill, N. Y., the National President, scurried among her charges, trying to shush them along.

The President shook hands with each, then spoke briefly. No stenographer was present, and his words will never be recorded for history. However, there was something about the way he concluded the last impromptu line which caught in the throats of his visitors.

"What we are all trying to do," he said, "is to make it unnecessary for us ever again to have any Gold Star Mothers."

Navy Censorship

The Navy's attempt to censor part of the news of the Neptunis Rex initiation ceremony when the battleship Missouri crossed the equator has brought to light another equator-crossing ceremony which was completely censored aboard the airplane carrier Wasp.

Strangely enough, this jamboree occurred in September 1944 during the height of the Japanese war. The Wasp had just finished bombing Manila Bay, but for some reason best known to himself, its Commander, Captain W. J. Slattery, decided that it was the appropriate time to initiate those who had never before crossed the equator.

Captain Slattery is the same officer, who as Commander of the Banana River (Fla.) Air Base, used Navy planes so lavishly to stage a clambake on the Bahamas to which he invited high-ranking Admirals up and down the coast.

In 1944, despite the fact that the Wasp was in the red-hot Philippine battle area, the sister carrier Hornet was ordered to take over the guard, and irresponsibility reigned supreme on the Wasp. According to a report by one officer aboard the ship:

"The initiation ceremonies were none other than brutal. Several planes were damaged beyond use and shoved over the side. The morning after the ceremony I was informed by the assistant medical officer and flight surgeon R. B. Collins that forty bomber pilots were unfit for duty."

One officer, Commander Elliott Earl, engineer officer of the Wasp, was so badly beaten up that he was hospitalized for several weeks thereafter.

The Gravy Train

Congress may be adjourned, but the gravy train is running right along on schedule.

One place where the gravy is being ladeled out is the Senate folding room, where documents, speeches, etc., are prepared for mailing. It is as busy as a bargain basement these days as Senators up for reelection in 1948 began to bombard their constituents with campaign propaganda.

Busiest part of this propaganda mill is the so-called service department, where nine persons (three times as many as employed under the Democratic Congress) are now employed.

Biggest job being done by the Senate folding room is for Senator Wayland Brooks of Illinois—"Curley" to his friends.

The gentleman from Illinois, who preached economy so ardently at the last session, has now ordered 425,000 Farmers' Bulletin Lists mailed to his Illinois farm constituents. This is an index of farm publications published by the Department of Agriculture.

What Illinois farmers may not know is that they, as taxpayers, are paying the bill for this campaign propaganda from their Senator. Brooks got the bulletin lists free, also the eneviopes in which they are mailed out are free. Finally they are mailed out under the Illinois Senator's frank—also free. In the end, however, someone has to pay the bill.

Note—The last session of the GOP-controlled Congress spent more money on itself than any other in history—in fact, tripe the amount spent in the lush days of the New Deal.

Profit Margins Of Food Firms No Higher Than Ten Years Ago

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—It will come as a surprise to those who have been crying "profiteer," but the latest available data on the earnings of food companies show, upon analysis, that the profit margins per sale are actually no higher than they were ten years ago and in some instances are even narrower.

The National City Bank letter which every month brings out significant analyses of economic trends, presents this time a table showing the annual profit margins per sales dollar of leading food companies over a period of years since 1936. Thus, in the baking business the margin was 6.6 cents per dollar in 1936. Now, in the first half of 1947, it is only 5.8 cents.

In dairy products, too, the margin in the first six months of 1947 was 2.7 cents as compared with 3.5 cents in 1936. The data show meat packing at 1.7 cents in 1946 as compared with 1.3 in the year 1936. The comparison in sugar is 6 cents in 1946 against 8.5 cents ten years before.

Retail Grocery Chain

Most interesting is the tabulation on retail grocery chains. It shows 1.6 cents in 1946 and 1.5 cents for the first half of 1947 as compared with 1.5 cents in 1936.

Where, then, have all the profits gone or rather where is the higher cost to the consumer coming from?

Maybe the answer is in the revelation that the farmer in the years between 1935 and 1939 averaged only 40 per cent of the retail value of his products and by May 1947 this had risen to 52 per cent. But the farmer has to buy city-made and union-made products and equipment for his farm and for his own use, so he now must have a higher share in money out of the retail price of what he produces.

It is significant that the marketing charges—which include all labor costs and other expenses in food processing, fuel and supplies, packaging, handling, transportation, storage, taxes, insurance, advertising, etc., and profits—show a decline from 60 per cent of the retail price in 1936 to 48 per cent today.

Along with this data, attention is called to the report issued by the congressional joint committee's staff for use in connection with price hearings, which says:

"This table clearly demonstrates how a relatively small increase in profit per dollar of sales is accentuated in rate of income on net worth. Most of the dollar increase in profits is accounted for by increased volume of business rather than by increased profits per dollar of sales."

Attributable To Large Volume

This means that profits are attributable to large volume, and, of course there is no assurance of fixed volume. The price indexes, too, show that from the 1935-39 average to May 1947, retail prices of farm food products rose 85 per cent, wholesale prices rose 102 per cent, and prices received by the farmers went up 139 per cent.

It is apparent, therefore, that in an inflationary era the spiral can start either with the high cost of foods or the high cost of wages or clothing, rents or other items of household necessity. It is difficult to tell where the impetus really begins in a post-war period when shortages of food are so pronounced and weather conditions tend to bring on scarcity and a higher price.

The news that the high price of food is not being and cannot be absorbed by the food dealers will disappoint those in the union-labor arena who insist that all wage increases can be absorbed without any price relief to the employer. Nor is the answer to be found in restoration of government controls, because demand and supply follow inexplorable practices. This means "black marketing" or else lack of incentive to produce when controls are applied.

The world evidently has to muddle through an inflationary era, producing more and more all the time until supply and demand are balanced and until surpluses appear and there is a downward curve in the whole price level.

Crisis In France Might Come Before U. S. Can Act On Aid

By MARK SULLIVAN

Since President Truman, barely a week ago, laid before leaders of Congress the need for funds to avert crisis in Italy and France, that crisis has come nearer. Mr. Truman's estimate based on information as of a week ago, was that France and Italy could be tided over until December 1st by existing funds available in various governmental agencies. His request from Congress for 580 million dollars was for a period beginning on that date. But information coming from Europe within the week says that crisis, in France especially, may come even before November 1st.

As expressed in figures, the crisis is described as one of money. France has some 450 million dollars of gold reserves, but is drawing on this at the rate of 120 million dollars a month. Crisis will not wait until exhaustion of the funds, it will come upon realization of near-exhaustion. In Italo, gold reserves are non-existant. Exhaustion of gold reserves, among other calamitous effects, is exhaustion of ability to buy abroad what the countries desperately need, for their industries and to sustain their peoples.

Merely Index of Crisis

But figures and money are merely the index of the crisis. Basically the crisis is progress made by the Communists in bringing about economic collapse, leading as they hope, to opportunity for them to take over.

Their strategy is satanic, many-sided and subtle. First, they promote industrial paralysis. In France, the interruption of production and recovery is progressive. A measure of this is cessation of production, much of it because of strikes. The figures for last spring are available. In April the number of work days lost was just short of a hundred thousand. In May it increased to just over 500 thousand, in June over 600 thousand. Just how many strikes are caused directly by Communists cannot, of course, be said. But it is certain they cause many, and that all serve their purpose.

Having promoted the retarding of production, the use the Communists make of it is Machiavellian. They point to it as showing the French people that the present system does not work, and that they had therefore better accept Communism. To this argument is added another effect. Retarding of production weakens the prestige of the French government, which is of course to the advantage of the Communist effort to take over. Again, the retarding of production tempts or intimidates the French government toward using the scant reserves they have, and thereby hastens the crisis which the government wishes to avert, and the Communists hope for.

Subtly the Communists count on an effect in America. They assume Americans will say, why should we help a people who do not help themselves as much as they might, who because of strikes and in other ways do not produce the goods they need, and for which they turn to us? This calculation of the Communists has to some extent been borne out in America, some of our people say what the Communists wish them to say. But Americans who take this position are falling into a confusion of words. They do not distinguish between the French people as a whole, and the Comunists in France, who promote what Americans complain of.

As another subtlety, the Communists, having achieved a condition in some areas of American thought, make use of it in France. They tell the French people that America is not likely to help or that American halp, if it comes, will be too little to be effective.

Communist Subtlety Infinite

The communist subtlety is infinite. Wishing to prevent help from America, they practice a strategy designed to make our people think our help is already too late and therefore useless to give. In Italy they are intensifying their interruptions of production by strikes, and their demonstrations against the government, hoping to make America thinks that collapse of Italy and fall of the government is imminent.

As for us, our immediate interest is speed in giving help. Our long-range interest goes to the heart of our whole world problem, focused in our relation to Russia. France and Italy are the largest countries in Europe outside Russia and omiting Germany. If these two countries go toward Communism, little of Western Europe would be left. France and Italy on the continent, with England, are the backbone of the organization of 16 European countries to cooperate for self-help, to the end of averting Communism and Russian domination. If these two should fall, the 16-nation program would fall too. Our Marshall plan, which contemplates helping the 16-nation organization after they have accomplished the self-help they have begun, would become futile. The setback to us, in our conflict with Russia would be disastrous, and that conflict would pass into a new and ominous stage.

THESE DAYS

By George E. Sokolsky

The Presidential Campaign

Any discussion of the 1948 Election must revolve about the Republican party, as the Democrats will surely nominate President Harry Truman, Henry Wallace notwithstanding. In fact, every day the significance of Henry Wallace pales more and more as our relations with Russia increasingly deteriorate and the Russians insult and infuriate the American people. Henry rides the wrong horse. The danger to the Republicans is that Vishinsky will force the American people to elect Harry Truman as an answer to Soviet Russia.

Senator Robert A. Taft has gained in stature by his Western trip. Americans like a courageous man who can take it like a sport. Whereas Tom Dewey is criticized for saying too little, Bob Taft is criticized for talking too much. But it is so obviously honest talk, so straight from the shoulder, so assertive of fundamental principle that it has gained him strength in unexpected places. Whether Taft comes out of it the Republican candidate or not, he has asserted Republican leadership and he has been accepted. As a matter of fact, his leadership in the Party is now unchallenged and any Republican candidate for the Presidency will have to meet that reality

General Eisenhower's boom grows. He has elbowed out Harold Stassen altogether and is moving in on the margins of the Dewey strength. While Dewey has a following that is surely his, he also could count on votes in the convention from delegates who, while not wholeheartedly supporting him, accepted his nomination as inevitable. For a time this gave Dewey the appearance almost of a sure thing. The emergence of Eisenhower as a candidate has given these marginal delegates something to think about and considerable elbow room.

On the other hand, party leaders generally are not too enthusiastic about Eisenhower. They feel that they will be buying a pig in a poke. They know nothing about his philosophy of life. Some are now engaged in a most thorough fine-combing of his record to discover whether, in a campaign, Harry Truman and the Democratic National Committee could not explode a bomb that would destroy him. Taft's and Dewey's records have stood the scrutiny of years; Eisenhower has enjoyed the obscurity of a peacetime and the protectives of a wartime military officer. The feeling is general among professional politicians—such as matter in conventions—that it is impossible to appraise Eisenhower's chances until after he become a civilian in January.

Meanwhile the fact that General MacArthur plans to return to the United States in April hangs like Damocles' sword over the politicians. No one can appraise the public receptivity of MacArthur. If he returns the beloved imperial Pro-Consul, whose march from San Francisco to Washington will be a triumphant festival, no one could possibly stop his nomination. If the country greets him simply as another general back from the wars, his return will not matter. Certainly, Eisenhower's aspirations depend upon the public reception of MacArthur; both Taft and Dewey must take MacArthur into their calculations.

Meanwhile the Republican National Committee approaches 1948 inadequately financed and not at all effectively organized. Money has not been forthcoming as expected. This is undoubtedly due to resistance to the New York, not to say, Wall Street affiliations of the collectors. Big Republican money is no longer in New York and the Midwest and Western sections of the party, which are rich and strong, resent New York assumptions of leadership and authority. The money-raising activities of the Republican party, big givers tell me, must be revised or contributions will continue to be inadequate.

Congressmen object to the lack of support and assistance from the Republican National Committee and particularly to the deal whereby funds are collected by one agency and divided between national and local organizations. Some of the Congressional candidates, up against the huge labor treasuries, fear that they may be left out in the cold. This is a matter that is actively being discussed during the current recess. Some Congressmen will do their own money raising, by-passing the National Committee and its collectors altogether. It is generally felt that the Republican party needs more leadership under 40; there are too many old men around.

Old School Of Thinking On Self-Imposed Rationing

As might be expected, the advocates of regimentation for regimentation's sake, are pooh-poohing the Government's voluntary food saving program. Of course, they say, it won't work.

Charles Luckman, head of the Citizens' Committee, had no sooner announced a campaign to conserve food based on less waste, than Leon Henderson, the former OPA head, and Wilson Wyatt, the old housing expediter, jumped upon it. Mr. Henderson called for an immediate special session of Congress to reimpose controls and rationing. Mr. Wyatt backed him up.

These gentlemen are not alone in jumping to conclusions. They have been joined by other groups who claim the program is tragically short of the need and that there will be no co-operation. The defeatist attitude of the former New Dealers can be understood. The skepticism of others, who have not even given the program a chance, is ill-advised.

No one knows whether the program will work. But it has a good chance of success. If the situation and the need are clearly explained to the public, co-operation will come. It always has. The memories of Mr. Wyatt and Mr. Henderson are obviously too short to recall the many times during the war when the civilian population responded wonderfully to voluntary appeals for self-denial when those appeals sprang from real need. They have forgotten that unnecessary governmental regulation and red tape were resented and were a dismal failure.

The five-point home conservation program for the use of cheaper cuts, reasonable servings, no over-cooking of meat, the use of left-overs and a slackening in the demand for poultry and dairy products to conserve wheat, is not unreasonable. If followed—and continued high prices will help in its observance—it should go far toward meeting the world food crisis without imposing too heavy a burden on the American people.

A rigid system of rationing, with its attendant black markets, would meet only with resistance. Mr. Henderson and Mr. Wyatt are not aware that the day of their school thinking is over.

American People Should Know What Is Going On

On August 15, a plane took off from the Teterboro Airport, south of Hackensack, N. J., and flew to Baltimore. There it loaded ammunition, took off for Jacksonville, and finally landed at Havana.

Two weeks earlier, the Cuban navy seized four U. S.-made war planes landed illegally in Cuba, but refused to say whether they were connected with a rumored revolutionary plot in the Dominican Republic.

Those are pieces of the story. Now the Cuban army and navy have announced that they have captured 11 bombers and several small vessels which they said were carrying expeditionary groups plotting such a revolution. A Cuban official is under arrest in Miami. In the background of developments lies a series of events, rumors, charges and counter-charges.

On May 16, the Dominicans, by a vote of 30 to one, reelected President Trujillo, who has ruled the country with an iron hand since he was swept into power by the revolution of 1930. In time, Porto Rican sources reported that his government had conducted a political purge, and in July the president of Guatemala, alleging that Trujillo had set up a "monarchy," suspended diplomatic relations.

A few weeks later the Dominican embassy in Washington declared that a three-ship expedition carrying 3,000 "communist revolutionaries," had sailed from Cuba to invade his homeland. His allegations have now been substantiated by the Cuban authorities, who added that the heavily-armed volunteers were led by Dominican "patriots," and included former American soldiers plus war-experienced adventurers of many nationalities.

When a full-fledged "army," equipped with landing ships, fighters and bombers, is combined into a million-dollar amphibious expedition, something more than the natural ebullience Americans expect from their southern neighbors is cooking.

In the capital of the Dominican Republic stand the ruins of the oldest existing settlement of white men in the new world—and Dominica is in strategic territory. It is a key area in the Caribbean, which is the Mediterranean of all the Americas.

The Cuban government, and the authorities in Washington, should conduct a full investigation of this affair, so that the American people may know what is going on.

No Place For Politics

As the chairman of a House subcommittee said, it definitely is "unusual," to say the least, that four members of the Al Capone gang should be paroled after serving one-third of their 10-year sentences.

It was unusual, too, that two of the men previously were transferred from Atlanta to Leavenworth, apparently for no other purpose than their convenience, despite the Atlanta warden's written protest to federal authorities that "money is being passed here."

It is not unusual, but it is disturbing, that political influence apparently played a role in the unwarranted amnesty for these gangsters, for their release seems due, in part, to the efforts of Paul Dillon, a St. Louis attorney who identified himself as a former campaign manager for President Truman when Mr. Truman ran for Senator from Missouri.

Mr. Dillon said he never had discussed the matter with Mr. Truman, and doubtless that is true, but the fact remains that here is another hint of political influence in federal law enforcement agencies that should be above suspicion. This recalls the unsavory aspects of the Department of Justice inquiry into the Kansas City vote fraud case.

Two Senators termed the investigation a "whitewash." Sen. Homer Ferguson asserting that evidence available to Attorney General Tom Clark "established beyond a doubt abundant evidence of a federal crime."

Congress quite rightly is delving into the situation. If the federal law and prison agencies can be "approached," the security of every citizen is endangered.

The man who wrote the tune which became the national anthem must have been a bit psychic, when he put in the phrase about the rocket's red glare.

INFECTION or other abnormalities of the tongue rarely escape detection because the organ is sensitive and the slightest soreness can be felt. Furthermore many individuals are prone to gaze at the structure with a mirror especially if they are not feeling up to par.

The tongue organ is a bear for punishment but there is a limit to the amount of abuse the old boy can take. It can be irritated by chemicals, excesses of condiments, and tobacco. Continuous rubbing against a rough tooth or poorly fitting denture is capable of producing abrasions or ulcers. Moreover the hordes of bacteria normally present in the mouth are always waiting for a chance to invade; and lack of oral cleanliness, undernourishment, diabetes, and pregnancy enhance this possibility.

During an acute infection like measles, scarlet fever, or diphtheria, changes in the tongue are observed. In certain types of anemia and vitamin deficiencies it becomes beefy red, smooth, or shiny. In some instances, the alterations are so characteristic that the physician is able to diagnose the disorder after taking one look.

A coating does not imply necessarily that disease exists. Food particles are often caught on its rough surface where they remain unless removed by additional chewing. When milk is consumed before going to bed, a part remains all night and does not disappear until breakfast is eaten.

The condition is also common in individuals who sleep with the mouth open. Fox and Kesel describe a syndrome in which the nose is obstructed on one side or the other, depending upon which way the head is facing. When sleeping on the back, both sides are frequently stopped up and, on arising in the morning, the mucus which accumulated in the back of the throat is coughed up.

Considerable secretion continues to back up into the throat during the day. Apparently the fault lies in the adenoid tissue in the back of the pharynx near the exit of the nose. The tongue becomes covered with a yellowish-gray film which sometimes extends over the inner sides of the mouth and gums. This material has an unpleasant odor which is often the most disturbing feature of the difficulty.

In some instances allergy is responsible. If the culprit can be found and eliminated, throat congestion disappears, breathing thru the nose becomes possible, and the individual is able to sleep with the mouth closed. Other conditions which produce blockage of the nose include polyps and sinus disorders. Infection must also be considered and in obstinate cases X-ray or radium may be required to bring back the tissues to normal size.

Sometimes, by turning the individual on his side, the mouth will no longer gape and breathing thru the proper channels occurs. Mouth washes may prove helpful. The authors in question found that chewing gum containing sulfathiazole was effective in removing many of the organisms from the structure.

This question is difficult to answer on the information given. In general, distress from gall bladder disturbances can mimic anginal pain and, in some instances, lead to reflex heart symptoms. On the other hand, there are many origins of shoulder pain.

The occurrence of innocent growth on bones. Treatment is rarely required, but they can be removed surgically.

So far as I am concerned, a low pressure is a blessing, so why not leave well enough alone? There are drugs capable of raising it but their action is fleeting and of little practical significance.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

NBC just put into effect a regulation which bans all detective, murder, crime, and mystery programs from the air before 9:30 p. m.

And it's accomplishing its purpose. The nation's kids are now going to bed real early—so they can get up at 9:30 and listen to the detective, murder, crime and mystery programs.

My brother's been making a lot of money since this new ruling went into effect. Now he's smuggling radios to kids in pop corn boxes.

And before long—who knows—we may be having "listen-easies."

One mother in my neighborhood caught her little kid putting benzedrine in his cereal so he'd be sure and stay awake till 9:30.

As a result of the new regulation all those radio detectives have to stay up so late—from now on the private eyes will be half-closed.

And now the butler can't be the one who did it—it'll have to be the night watchman.

Of course, if the trend keeps up probably the most famous radio detective will be the late George Apley.

However, the later starting time should have some good effects on the prime shows.

Now, at least, "The Whisler' will have time to run down to Hollywood and Vine for some practice.

And the extra time should give "The Thin Man" a chance to fatten up.

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON.—When popular French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault came to Washington last week he saw his old friend Jimmie Byrnes for the first time since the much-loved Jimmie retired as Secretary of State. Their meeting recalled to Bidault a conversation he had with Byrnes about a year before in Paris. Apropos of loans to France, Byrnes had complained:

Bidault challenged this statement and Byrnes went on to explain: "Look at your barbershops. They're not open all day Monday."

"Mr. Secretary," replied the French Foreign Minister, "we Frenchmen like to be clean-shaven at least one day a week, and for that reason our barbershops stay open all day Sunday. That is why you couldn't get a shave on Monday.

Note—In 1937 Byrnes went to Europe as a delegate to the Inter-Parliamentary Union. Stopping in France en route he was impressed with the fact that the French closed their stores and offices at 11:30 A. M. Saturday and didn't open them again until Tuesday. In Germany, on the other hand, everyone was working hard, with large placards proclaiming "Joy in Work." Byrnes went back and reported to FDR that in the eventual European war, France would be defeated.

"When I come back to this earth in a reincarnation," says Jimmie Byrnes, "I would like to be a Parisian. They are such delightful people." But he also thinks no people can recover from war without working a full week.

Vanishing Government Servants

Credit conscientious Kenneth Royall, Secretary of the Army, for hammering at one of the worst weaknesses of Government today—the need of all-round, able manpower.

Ever since the war ended, it has been increasingly difficult for the Government to draft good men for important positions. During the war, men from every walk of life volunteered to come to Washington, but now—though in some respects the emergency is almost as serious—Government agencies literally have to get down on their knees and beg qualified executives to come to Washington.

Speaking in his home state of North Carolina last week, Secretary Royall pointed to this difficulty, and urged not only businessmen, but labor and farm leaders to give part of their time to the Government.

Trumanesque Simplicity

Historians will never describe Harry Truman as having the great radio appeal of his predecesor in the White House. But sometimes when the President speaks impromptu or is with only a few people, he becomes almost Lincolnesque in the simplicity of his eloquence.

The other day a group of Gold Star Mothers went in to see the President. They had only a few minutes with him, and grandmotherly Mrs. Mathilda Burling of Richmond Hill, N. Y., the National President, scurried among her charges, trying to shush them along.

The President shook hands with each, then spoke briefly. No stenographer was present, and his words will never be recorded for history. However, there was something about the way he concluded the last impromptu line which caught in the throats of his visitors.

"What we are all trying to do," he said, "is to make it unnecessary for us ever again to have any Gold Star Mothers."

Navy Censorship

The Navy's attempt to censor part of the news of the Neptunis Rex initiation ceremony when the battleship Missouri crossed the equator has brought to light another equator-crossing ceremony which was completely censored aboard the airplane carrier Wasp.

Strangely enough, this jamboree occurred in September 1944 during the height of the Japanese war. The Wasp had just finished bombing Manila Bay, but for some reason best known to himself, its Commander, Captain W. J. Slattery, decided that it was the appropriate time to initiate those who had never before crossed the equator.

Captain Slattery is the same officer, who as Commander of the Banana River (Fla.) Air Base, used Navy planes so lavishly to stage a clambake on the Bahamas to which he invited high-ranking Admirals up and down the coast.

In 1944, despite the fact that the Wasp was in the red-hot Philippine battle area, the sister carrier Hornet was ordered to take over the guard, and irresponsibility reigned supreme on the Wasp. According to a report by one officer aboard the ship:

"The initiation ceremonies were none other than brutal. Several planes were damaged beyond use and shoved over the side. The morning after the ceremony I was informed by the assistant medical officer and flight surgeon R. B. Collins that forty bomber pilots were unfit for duty."

One officer, Commander Elliott Earl, engineer officer of the Wasp, was so badly beaten up that he was hospitalized for several weeks thereafter.

The Gravy Train

Congress may be adjourned, but the gravy train is running right along on schedule.

One place where the gravy is being ladeled out is the Senate folding room, where documents, speeches, etc., are prepared for mailing. It is as busy as a bargain basement these days as Senators up for reelection in 1948 began to bombard their constituents with campaign propaganda.

Busiest part of this propaganda mill is the so-called service department, where nine persons (three times as many as employed under the Democratic Congress) are now employed.

Biggest job being done by the Senate folding room is for Senator Wayland Brooks of Illinois—"Curley" to his friends.

The gentleman from Illinois, who preached economy so ardently at the last session, has now ordered 425,000 Farmers' Bulletin Lists mailed to his Illinois farm constituents. This is an index of farm publications published by the Department of Agriculture.

What Illinois farmers may not know is that they, as taxpayers, are paying the bill for this campaign propaganda from their Senator. Brooks got the bulletin lists free, also the eneviopes in which they are mailed out are free. Finally they are mailed out under the Illinois Senator's frank—also free. In the end, however, someone has to pay the bill.

Note—The last session of the GOP-controlled Congress spent more money on itself than any other in history—in fact, tripe the amount spent in the lush days of the New Deal.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—It will come as a surprise to those who have been crying "profiteer," but the latest available data on the earnings of food companies show, upon analysis, that the profit margins per sale are actually no higher than they were ten years ago and in some instances are even narrower.

The National City Bank letter which every month brings out significant analyses of economic trends, presents this time a table showing the annual profit margins per sales dollar of leading food companies over a period of years since 1936. Thus, in the baking business the margin was 6.6 cents per dollar in 1936. Now, in the first half of 1947, it is only 5.8 cents.

In dairy products, too, the margin in the first six months of 1947 was 2.7 cents as compared with 3.5 cents in 1936. The data show meat packing at 1.7 cents in 1946 as compared with 1.3 in the year 1936. The comparison in sugar is 6 cents in 1946 against 8.5 cents ten years before.

Retail Grocery Chain

Most interesting is the tabulation on retail grocery chains. It shows 1.6 cents in 1946 and 1.5 cents for the first half of 1947 as compared with 1.5 cents in 1936.

Where, then, have all the profits gone or rather where is the higher cost to the consumer coming from?

Maybe the answer is in the revelation that the farmer in the years between 1935 and 1939 averaged only 40 per cent of the retail value of his products and by May, 1947 this had risen to 52 per cent. But the farmer has to buy city-made and union-made products and equipment for his farm and for his own use, so he now must have a higher share in money out of the retail price of what he produces.

It is significant that the marketing charges—which include all labor costs and other expenses in food processing, fuel and supplies, packaging, handling, transportation, storage, taxes, insurance, advertising, etc., and profits—show a decline from 60 per cent of the retail price in 1936 to 48 per cent today.

Along with this data, attention is called to the report issued by the congressional joint committee's staff for use in connection with price hearings, which says:

"This table clearly demonstrates how a relatively small increase in profit per dollar of sales is accentuated in rate of income on net worth. Most of the dollar increase in profits is accounted for by increased volume of business rather than by increased profits per dollar of sales."

Attributable To Large Volume

This means that profits are attributable to large volume, and, of course there is no assurance of fixed volume. The price indexes, too, show that from the 1935-39 average to May 1947, retail prices of farm food products rose 85 per cent, wholesale prices rose 102 per cent, and prices received by the farmers went up 139 per cent.

It is apparent, therefore, that in an inflationary era the spiral can start either with the high cost of foods or the high cost of wages or clothing, rents or other items of household necessity. It is difficult to tell where the impetus really begins in a post-war period when shortages of food are so pronounced and weather conditions tend to bring on scarcity and a higher price.

The news that the high price of food is not being and cannot be absorbed by the food dealers will disappoint those in the union-labor arena who insist that all wage increases can be absorbed without any price relief to the employer. Nor is the answer to be found in restoration of government controls, because demand and supply follow inexplorable practices. This means "black marketing" or else lack of incentive to produce when controls are applied.

The world evidently has to muddle through an inflationary era, producing more and more all the time until supply and demand are balanced and until surpluses appear and there is a downward curve in the whole price level.

By MARK SULLIVAN

Since President Truman, barely a week ago, laid before leaders of Congress the need for funds to avert crisis in Italy and France, that crisis has come nearer. Mr. Truman's estimate based on information as of a week ago, was that France and Italy could be tided over until December 1st by existing funds available in various governmental agencies. His request from Congress for 580 million dollars was for a period beginning on that date. But information coming from Europe within the week says that crisis, in France especially, may come even before November 1st.

As expressed in figures, the crisis is described as one of money. France has some 450 million dollars of gold reserves, but is drawing on this at the rate of 120 million dollars a month. Crisis will not wait until exhaustion of the funds, it will come upon realization of near-exhaustion. In Italo, gold reserves are non-existant. Exhaustion of gold reserves, among other calamitous effects, is exhaustion of ability to buy abroad what the countries desperately need, for their industries and to sustain their peoples.

Merely Index of Crisis

But figures and money are merely the index of the crisis. Basically the crisis is progress made by the Communists in bringing about economic collapse, leading as they hope, to opportunity for them to take over.

Their strategy is satanic, many-sided and subtle. First, they promote industrial paralysis. In France, the interruption of production and recovery is progressive. A measure of this is cessation of production, much of it because of strikes. The figures for last spring are available. In April the number of work days lost was just short of a hundred thousand. In May it increased to just over 500 thousand, in June over 600 thousand. Just how many strikes are caused directly by Communists cannot, of course, be said. But it is certain they cause many, and that all serve their purpose.

Having promoted the retarding of production, the use the Communists make of it is Machiavellian. They point to it as showing the French people that the present system does not work, and that they had therefore better accept Communism. To this argument is added another effect. Retarding of production weakens the prestige of the French government, which is of course to the advantage of the Communist effort to take over. Again, the retarding of production tempts or intimidates the French government toward using the scant reserves they have, and thereby hastens the crisis which the government wishes to avert, and the Communists hope for.

Subtly the Communists count on an effect in America. They assume Americans will say, why should we help a people who do not help themselves as much as they might, who because of strikes and in other ways do not produce the goods they need, and for which they turn to us? This calculation of the Communists has to some extent been borne out in America, some of our people say what the Communists wish them to say. But Americans who take this position are falling into a confusion of words. They do not distinguish between the French people as a whole, and the Comunists in France, who promote what Americans complain of.

As another subtlety, the Communists, having achieved a condition in some areas of American thought, make use of it in France. They tell the French people that America is not likely to help or that American halp, if it comes, will be too little to be effective.

Communist Subtlety Infinite

The communist subtlety is infinite. Wishing to prevent help from America, they practice a strategy designed to make our people think our help is already too late and therefore useless to give. In Italy they are intensifying their interruptions of production by strikes, and their demonstrations against the government, hoping to make America thinks that collapse of Italy and fall of the government is imminent.

As for us, our immediate interest is speed in giving help. Our long-range interest goes to the heart of our whole world problem, focused in our relation to Russia. France and Italy are the largest countries in Europe outside Russia and omiting Germany. If these two countries go toward Communism, little of Western Europe would be left. France and Italy on the continent, with England, are the backbone of the organization of 16 European countries to cooperate for self-help, to the end of averting Communism and Russian domination. If these two should fall, the 16-nation program would fall too. Our Marshall plan, which contemplates helping the 16-nation organization after they have accomplished the self-help they have begun, would become futile. The setback to us, in our conflict with Russia would be disastrous, and that conflict would pass into a new and ominous stage.

THESE DAYS

The Presidential Campaign

Any discussion of the 1948 Election must revolve about the Republican party, as the Democrats will surely nominate President Harry Truman, Henry Wallace notwithstanding. In fact, every day the significance of Henry Wallace pales more and more as our relations with Russia increasingly deteriorate and the Russians insult and infuriate the American people. Henry rides the wrong horse. The danger to the Republicans is that Vishinsky will force the American people to elect Harry Truman as an answer to Soviet Russia.

Senator Robert A. Taft has gained in stature by his Western trip. Americans like a courageous man who can take it like a sport. Whereas Tom Dewey is criticized for saying too little, Bob Taft is criticized for talking too much. But it is so obviously honest talk, so straight from the shoulder, so assertive of fundamental principle that it has gained him strength in unexpected places. Whether Taft comes out of it the Republican candidate or not, he has asserted Republican leadership and he has been accepted. As a matter of fact, his leadership in the Party is now unchallenged and any Republican candidate for the Presidency will have to meet that reality

General Eisenhower's boom grows. He has elbowed out Harold Stassen altogether and is moving in on the margins of the Dewey strength. While Dewey has a following that is surely his, he also could count on votes in the convention from delegates who, while not wholeheartedly supporting him, accepted his nomination as inevitable. For a time this gave Dewey the appearance almost of a sure thing. The emergence of Eisenhower as a candidate has given these marginal delegates something to think about and considerable elbow room.

On the other hand, party leaders generally are not too enthusiastic about Eisenhower. They feel that they will be buying a pig in a poke. They know nothing about his philosophy of life. Some are now engaged in a most thorough fine-combing of his record to discover whether, in a campaign, Harry Truman and the Democratic National Committee could not explode a bomb that would destroy him. Taft's and Dewey's records have stood the scrutiny of years; Eisenhower has enjoyed the obscurity of a peacetime and the protectives of a wartime military officer. The feeling is general among professional politicians—such as matter in conventions—that it is impossible to appraise Eisenhower's chances until after he become a civilian in January.

Meanwhile the fact that General MacArthur plans to return to the United States in April hangs like Damocles' sword over the politicians. No one can appraise the public receptivity of MacArthur. If he returns the beloved imperial Pro-Consul, whose march from San Francisco to Washington will be a triumphant festival, no one could possibly stop his nomination. If the country greets him simply as another general back from the wars, his return will not matter. Certainly, Eisenhower's aspirations depend upon the public reception of MacArthur; both Taft and Dewey must take MacArthur into their calculations.

Meanwhile the Republican National Committee approaches 1948 inadequately financed and not at all effectively organized. Money has not been forthcoming as expected. This is undoubtedly due to resistance to the New York, not to say, Wall Street affiliations of the collectors. Big Republican money is no longer in New York and the Midwest and Western sections of the party, which are rich and strong, resent New York assumptions of leadership and authority. The money-raising activities of the Republican party, big givers tell me, must be revised or contributions will continue to be inadequate.

Congressmen object to the lack of support and assistance from the Republican National Committee and particularly to the deal whereby funds are collected by one agency and divided between national and local organizations. Some of the Congressional candidates, up against the huge labor treasuries, fear that they may be left out in the cold. This is a matter that is actively being discussed during the current recess. Some Congressmen will do their own money raising, by-passing the National Committee and its collectors altogether. It is generally felt that the Republican party needs more leadership under 40; there are too many old men around.

by Billy Rose

I'm confused.

My befuddlement has to do with a show called "Music In My Heart" which opened a few nights back. I liked it. The critics didn't.

Billy Rose

But let me take it from the top.

Last week my missus and I put on our best store clothes and went around to the Adelphi Theatre. I had a hunch I was in for a happy time. I knew that for the next couple of hours I'd be listening to the tunes of the greatest melodist who ever made marks on music paper, Peter Ilych Tschaikowsky.

Of course I had some misgivings—I'm not much of an operetta boy. "Rosalinda" and the revival of "The Merry Widow" had bored me right out of the theatre. Song of Norout of the theater. "Song of Norway" has only rated two and a

But a few minutes after the conductor gave the downbeat, my misgivings vanished. The orchestra in the pit played as if Tschaikowsky were in the audience. The singers sang as if a Paramount scout were in the house. The Hassard Short production was slick and shiny as patent leather. His direction of the last twenty minutes of the show was the best book staging I had seen since Hammerstein's job on "Music In The Air." For a change, the libretto didn't get too much in the way. The principal performances were all big-league stuff.

Joe Schenck, the bossman of Twentieth Century-Fox, sat behind me. He told me he liked the show fine, and Joe is a hepster from way back. Prince Littler, who controls as many theatres in London as Lee and J. J. do in New York, told me he wouldn't mind having "Music In My Heart" in one of his Piccadilly houses.

Several times during the evening the show had to stop while the paying customers banged one palm against the other. As the final curtain dropped, there was real cheering.

"It's in, " I told Eleanor, as we squeezed toward the exit.

But I had forgotten about the gentlemen of the press.

On the drama pages next morning the critics called it everything but good. One of my favorite aisle assassins opined that Tschaikowsky was probably spining in his grave like a Waring mixer.

I got all balled up. I wondered whether the reviewers and I had been to the same theatre. Had somebody bribed the Hollywood producer? Had someone threatened to torture the London showman's wife? Was Eleanor on somebody's pay roll? And what was wrong with me?

What was I doing having such a good time the night before anyway?

I know the critics—and they're honest fellows. With one or two exceptions, they're also intelligent. Nineteen out of twenty times they call the shots right.

Then how come such a spread between what they thought and what the audience thought? I remember the way most of them panned "Hellzapoppin'." I doubt whether they understand to this day why this good-natured romp ran four years and turned up a profit of five million. Is it possible the critics look at shows out of different eyes than the rest of us? Can it be that the job of seeing sixty to eighty shows a year gets them a little punchy? Maybe that's why they don't get excited about a candy box that just has candy in it.

"Music in My Heart" opened in Philadelphia to only fairish business because there were no big names in the cast. Word-of-mouth built the second week's take to better than $31,000. I've been around this grift for a long time and I know this doesn't happen to a show unless people like it.

I'd like to see the producer of "Music in My Heart" bind up his wounds and keep his stand open a while. Even if he has to steal it, I'd like to see him spend another ten grand advertising his show.

I know I'm sticking my neck out, but I insist there's a big audience for this operetta, the audience that still sees and adores "The Student Prince" and "Blossom Time."

It's my hunch that if the jury gets a look at the evidence they will find for the defendant.

My befuddlement has to do with a show called "Music In My Heart" which opened a few nights back. I liked it. The critics didn't.

Billy Rose

But let me take it from the top. Last week my missus and I put on our best store clothes and went around to the Adelphi Theatre. I had a hunch I was in for a happy time. I knew that for the next couple of hours I'd be listening to the tunes of the greatest melodist who ever made marks on music paper, Peter Ilych Tschaikowsky.

Of course I had some misgivings—I'm not much of an operetta boy. "Rosalinda" and the revival of "The Merry Widow" had bored me right out of the theatre. Song of Nor-out of the theater. "Song of Norway" has only rated two and a

But a few minutes after the conductor gave the downbeat, my misgivings vanished. The orchestra in the pit played as if Tschaikowsky were in the audience. The singers sang as if a Paramount scout were in the house. The Hassard Short production was slick and shiny as patent leather. His direction of the last twenty minutes of the show was the best book staging I had seen since Hammerstein's job on "Music In The Air." For a change, the libretto didn't get too much in the way. The principal performances were all big-league stuff.

Joe Schenck, the bossman of Twentieth Century-Fox, sat behind me. He told me he liked the show fine, and Joe is a hepster from way back. Prince Littler, who controls as many theatres in London as Lee and J. J. do in New York, told me he wouldn't mind having "Music In My Heart" in one of his Piccadilly houses.

Several times during the evening the show had to stop while the paying customers banged one palm against the other. As the final curtain dropped, there was real cheering.

"It's in, " I told Eleanor, as we squeezed toward the exit.

But I had forgotten about the gentlemen of the press.

On the drama pages next morning the critics called it everything but good. One of my favorite aisle assassins opined that Tschaikowsky was probably spining in his grave like a Waring mixer.

I got all balled up. I wondered whether the reviewers and I had been to the same theatre. Had somebody bribed the Hollywood producer? Had someone threatened to torture the London showman's wife? Was Eleanor on somebody's pay roll? And what was wrong with me?

What was I doing having such a good time the night before anyway?

I know the critics—and they're honest fellows. With one or two exceptions, they're also intelligent. Nineteen out of twenty times they call the shots right.

Then how come such a spread between what they thought and what the audience thought? I remember the way most of them panned "Hellzapoppin'." I doubt whether they understand to this day why this good-natured romp ran four years and turned up a profit of five million. Is it possible the critics look at shows out of different eyes than the rest of us? Can it be that the job of seeing sixty to eighty shows a year gets them a little punchy? Maybe that's why they don't get excited about a candy box that just has candy in it.

"Music in My Heart" opened in Philadelphia to only fairish business because there were no big names in the cast. Word-of-mouth built the second week's take to better than $31,000. I've been around this grift for a long time and I know this doesn't happen to a show unless people like it.

I'd like to see the producer of "Music in My Heart" bind up his wounds and keep his stand open a while. Even if he has to steal it, I'd like to see him spend another ten grand advertising his show.

I know I'm sticking my neck out, but I insist there's a big audience for this operetta, the audience that still sees and adores "The Student Prince" and "Blossom Time."

It's my hunch that if the jury gets a look at the evidence they will find for the defendant.

Sure We Save USED FAT' on the 20th Century!

says New York Central 20th Century Chef, JOSEPH RUSCH

Even in the limited space of a train galley, it's a New York Central rule that used fats be saved. Why? Because, folks, our government says every pound of used fats should be saved to help relieve a world shortage that is still critical. Last July, for example, our dining cars and commissaries turned in almost five thousand pounds. And we're keeping at it. So if you're not saving fats as regularly as you used to, won't you get back in the habit? Every drop is still needed!

Sure We Save USED FAT on the 20th Century!

says New York Central 20th Century Chef, JOSEPH RUSCH

Even in the limited space of a train galley, it's a New York Central rule that used fats be saved. Why? Because, folks, our government says every pound of used fats should be saved to help relieve a world shortage that is still critical. Last July, for example, our dining cars and commissaries turned in almost five thousand pounds. And we're keeping at it. So if you're not saving fats as regularly as you used to, won't you get back in the habit? Every drop is still needed!

Advice To The Lovelorn

Difficult To Retrace Your Steps When You Change Your Mind

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am a girl of 16 and went with a very nice boy for about eight months. Then I met another boy and went out with him. But after awhile I found I liked the first one best.

Now one of my very best girl friends likes him and I believe he likes her, although he's told me that he still loves me, Too. I want very much to go with him again, but I don't want to tell the second boy that I still like the first boy, and I don't want to hurt my girl friend. Please tell me what I should do. "CONFUSED"

Dear "Confused":

The trouble about changing one's mind in this world is that it is rarely possible to retrace your steps if you change it back again. In other words, time always marches on, and events move along with it, so that you never can leave a situation and then go back and find things just as they were before.

Since you walked out on your first boy friend, you could hardly expect that he was going to sit around and wait to see if you weren't going to come back. If he and one of your best friends have found each other congenial, that is hard luck for you, now that you want him back. But I don't believe there is much you an do about it.

My advice is to be a good sport, and leave things as they are. No doubt you will soon find another boy friend and will have learned a lot from that experience.

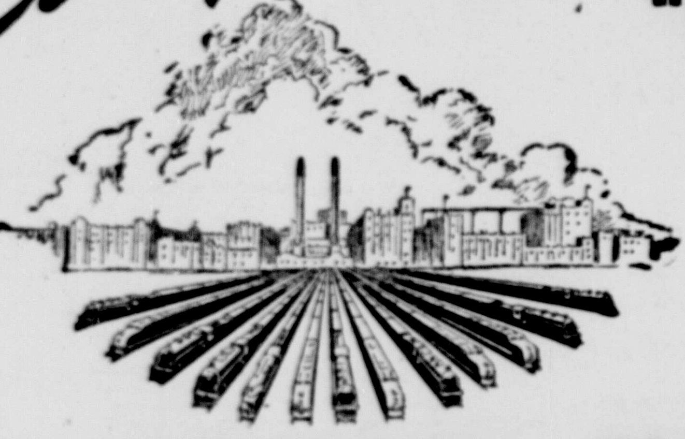
Everybody is asking
"Why can't I get more Budweiser?"



IT'S COMING!

Time and again we have enlarged the world's largest brewery. The present expansion program is the largest ever. But we can't ship you these additional trainloads of Budweiser without expanding our present network of railroad trackage. Supplying your demand for Budweiser has required us to build private railroad yards bigger than the terminal facilities of many major cities.

Although we are producing and shipping more Budweiser than ever before, it is scarce because more people are demanding it than ever before. They demand it because every drop of Budweiser contains the quality that over the years has made it the most popular beer in history.

Meanwhile, we are distributing Budweiser equitably to thousands of dealers throughout America. It seems that people no longer ask for beer... they ask for Budweiser.

Yanks Win World Series, Defeat Brooklyn 5-2

The Sports Grill

By PAT ROBINSON

INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE SPORTS WRITER

NEW YORK, Oct. 6—(INS)—Picture yourself in the Dodger clubhouse.

Branch Rickey has just made an impassioned speech telling the Dodgers how good they were and how proud he is of them and how much better they will be next year.

Branch Rickey

It was a good speech in the good deacon's best emotional manner.

But it failed to rouse a cheer from the Dodgers who had seen their wild pitching hand the Yanks the seventh and deciding game of the world series on a platter.

The Dodgers sat around the room, each on a little bench in front of his locker, silent, grim, unsmiling.

"You may say we were beaten by a good team. The Yanks are that, especially with DiMaggio and Henrich.

"But you can also say that we will beat the Yanks more in the next ten years than they'll beat us or any other team."

You will be informed elsewhere how Larry MacPhail blew his top and quit the Yanks. He said so himself. But here is a more important and vital tip straight from the Dodgers feed box.

Leo Durocher will not manage the Dodgers next year or any other year. The Lip is definitely out.

Shotton spilled that when he said, "We will beat the Yanks more in the next 10 years than they will beat us."

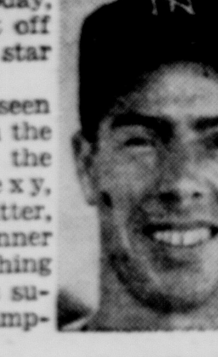
Knowing Shotton, we know he would never dream of making such a remark if he wasn't already assured that he will pilot the Dodgers again next year.

Shotton attributes his defeat to the youth and inexperience of his pitchers.

No series ever produced poorer pitching and to get an inkling of how bad it was you have only to note the bases on balls handed out. A total of 68 or almost 10 a game.

Shotton and other Dodgers had nice things to say about Bucky Harris, Tommy Henrich and about Bobby Brown whose two pinch doubles and single in three times at bat set a new record and helped send the Dodgers to defeat.

But from Branch Rickey to the Dodger bat boy the greatest idol of all is Joe DiMaggio who, Rickey declared today, cannot be left off any all-time star team.



Joe DiMaggio

"I've never seen his superior in the field," said the Dodger prexy, "and as a hitter, thrower, runner and everything else he stands supreme. He's simply terrific."

The Dodgers believe that bad as their pitching was, they surely would have won the series anyhow if the Yanks had no DiMaggio.

However, the Yanks did have DiMaggio.

Coach's Strategy Gave Northwestern Victory Over UCLA

CHICAGO, Oct. 6 (AP) — A "psychological" substitution gave Northwestern its surprising 27-26 triumph over favored U. C. L. A., Coach Bob Voigts of the Wildcats explained today.

Voigts told the Herald-American Quarterback Club that, just like everybody else, U. C. L. A., didn't believe that Jules Siegle, a portly fourth-string halfback, could run fast—a mistake that produced the game-deciding touchdown in the fourth period.

"Jules—I call him Jungle Jolly—has deep jowls and a bit of a paunch," said Voigts. "He looks like he can hardly lope, much less sprint, but actually he is one of our fastest runners. He fools a lot of people.

"I figured that a long pass to Siegle might give us a quick touchdown if U. C. L. A. was deceived by his appearance. Jules didn't expect to get in the game and when I called him, he nearly fell over the bench and tripped over three players on the way.

"I told him to run as fast and as far as he could and to catch a pass from Quarterback Jim Farrar. He made a beautiful snag of a 33-yard toss on the goal line and that was the ball game."

Washington Redskins Recall Don Avery

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 — (AP) — The Washington Redskins announced today the recall from its Wilmington, Del., Clipper farm of Don Avery, 250-pound tackle, formerly of the University of Southern California.

Harvey Jones, halfback formerly of Baylor University, has been returned to the Redskins' active list. Jones, who suffered a knee injury last year, underwent an operation for it and has been pronounce fit, the Redskins' office said.

Both will be available for next Sunday's game with the New York Giants.

50 Nations To Vie

LONDON, Oct. 6 — (AP) — Panama and Iran have accepted invitations to compete in the 1948 Olympic Games at London, bringing the total acceptances to 50 nations, the British organizing committee announced today. Ten other nations have been invited.

"Bugs Eye View" Of The Series

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 — (INS) — The mechanical Yanks turned in their fourth machine-tooled job on their world series contract. Hysteria has cooled into history and the best team won.

They may buzz about Gionfriddo and Dixie Walker until their tonsils gets as radio-activated as Bikini Atoll. But the fact is the finest fielding in the series was hand-picked by a rubber-legged mugg named DiMaggio.

Joe fields by ear. The sound of the wood against leather tells him everything he needs to know. His judgment of batters gives him twenty feet the best of it. Plus his effortless scampering and he gets thar' the mostest with the leastest effort.

The Dodgers got rid of Shea and Bevens only to bump into Joe Page. They may have taken a page out of the book the other day. But today they couldn't take the book out of the library.

The Dodgers' pitching was as loose as boiled feathers. They didn't have a thrower who could go the Darby route. The perpetual Casey prowled out in the cool of the evening. But by that time the biscuits were in the deep freezer.

It's baseball when the Yanks win. It's sentiment when the lovable bindle-stiffs make a soft touch. But over a span of seventy games the odds would still be the same. The Yanks would win forty of them. You cannot make a silk purse out of a sow's ear. And if you did you would be silly to put your money in it.

While conceding DiMaggio's fielding superiority I must admit the thrill of the series was Gionfriddo's bird-nest robbery of the same DiMaggio's wallop. And admitting the bulge of Yankee hitting power the busting shiver of the series was Lavagetto's clung against the right field wall.

The one robbed Bevens of a no-hitter and a game. But it didn't rob him of his glory. It was a wonderful series all the way around with the Dodgers again winning a blue ribbon in the underdog class.

It is a shame those Yanks turn in such pre-fabricated victories. It is a shame DiMaggio is is such a smooth workman. It is too bad Joe couldn't do card tricks while chasing a fly. Or scatter roses to his admirers in the stands. We will work on that this winter. In the taxable interim tip the skimmer to the world champs.

FIRST INNING

Dodgers: Stanky punched a single into right field. On the first pitch to Reese, Stanky was caught stealing on a fine throw from A. Robinson to Stirnweiss who made the putout. Reese walked on a three and two pitch. J. Robinson lined to Henrich who made a leaping two-handed catch of the smash. Reese also was caught stealing, Robinson to Rizzuto, who made the catch. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

SECOND INNING

Dodgers: Walker swung at Shea's first pitch and fouled to McQuinn who made the catch in the first base coach's box.

Hermanski smashed a line drive three bagger to the right field wall. Edwards rapped a single inside the third base line scoring Hermanski with the first run of the game. Furillo drilled a single past the mound out into center field, Edwards stopping at second. That was all for Shea and he was replaced by Bill Bevens, a righthander. Jorgensen lined a ground rule double which skipped into the right field stands on one hop, scoring Edwards and sending Furillo to third. Gregg bounced to Rizzuto who whipped to A. Robinson catching Furillo at the plate. Gregg reached first on the fielder's choice and Jorgensen just made third ahead of A. Robinson's throw to Johnson.

Yankees: Furillo moved back to gather in DiMaggio's high fly in dead center. Gregg walked McQuinn with four straight called balls. Stanky ran into short right field to haul in Johnson's high pop.

THIRD INNING

FOURTH INNING

Dodgers: Edwards smashed a wicked grounder through Johnson's legs into left for a single. Furillo popped to Stirnweiss behind second base. Stirnweiss raced into short right field for Jorgensen's high pop inside the foul line. Gregg bounced out, Stirnweiss to McQuinn. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Bobby Brown, a lefthanded hitter, batter for Bevens, and sliced a double to left, scoring Johnson with the tying run and sending Rizzuto to third. It was Brown's third pinch safety of the series to tie the record of three pinch hits made by Ken O'Dea with the Cubs and Cardinals. Hank Behrman, a righthander, replaced Gregg on the mound for the Dodgers. Stirnweiss walked on four pitches to fill the bases. Henrich singled sharply to right scoring Rizzuto with Brown going to third and Stirnweiss to second and the bases remained loaded.

J. Robinson made a splendid gloved-hand stop of Berra's hopper to his right and threw underhand to Behrman who covered first for the out. When Gregg was knocked out of the box, it marked the seventh straight time that the Dodger starting pitcher failed to go the route. Two runs, three hits, no errors, three left.

Yankees: After fouling off a pitch high into the left field stands close to the foul line, DiMaggio walked. McQuinn laid down a sacrifice bunt toward third and was thrown out, Jorgensen to Stanky, who covered first. Stanky threw out Johnson, DiMaggio moving to third. A. Robinson flied to Walker who made the catch a few feet in front of the right field boxes close to the foul line. No runs, no hits, no errors, one left.

SIXTH INNING

Dodgers: DiMaggio raced back into right-center to take down Walker's drive. Ed Miksis, a righthanded batter, went in to hit for Hermanski. Milsis tried to catch Johnson napping with a bunt but the third baseman came in fast and with a lightning throw nipped him in a very close play at first. Edwards flied to DiMaggio, who had a bit of difficulty in making the catch in right-center. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Yankees: Miksis went into left field for the Dodgers. Rizzuto bunted along the first baseline and was credited with a single when Behrman failed to come up with the ball. It was Rizzuto's third straight hit.

Rizzuto stole second, sliding in ahead of Edwards' high and wide throw which pulled Reese off the bag. Page had attempted to lay down a sacrifice bunt but missed the pitch and Rizzuto lit out for third and made it. Page struck out on the next pitch. Stirnweiss walked. Joe Hatten, a lefthander, replaced Behrman on the hill. Henrich struck out. Al Clark, a righthanded hitter, batted for Berra. Clark punched a single into short center on the first pitch, scoring Rizzuto with Stirnweiss stopping at second. That was enough for Hatten and he was replaced by Rex Barney, a righthander. DiMaggio flied to Furillo who made the catch in deep center field. One run, two hits, no errors, two left.

SEVENTH INNING

Dodgers: Clark went to right field for the Yankees. Furillo fouled to McQuinn just outside the first base line. Harry Lavagetto, a righthanded hitter, batted for Jorgensen. Lavagetto popped to Stirnweiss in short right field. Gil Hodges, another righthanded hitter, made his first appearance of the series when he was sent up to pinchhit for Barney. Hodges went down swinging. No runs, not hits, no errors, none left.

Yankees: Hugh Casey made his sixth appearance of the series, a world series record for pitchers, when he came in to hurl for the Dodgers. Lavagetto went to third base for the Brooks. Reese threw out McQuinn. Miksis had trouble judging Johnson's long drive to left-center field and the ball bounced behind him and went for a triple. The Dodger leftfielder circled around the ball three times before finally letting it drop. Miksis did not look so good in catching A. Robinson's fly in left on which Johnson easily scored after the catch. That was the first run scored off Casey in 9⅓ innings. Stanky raced out and caught Rizzuto's pop behind second. One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

EIGHTH INNING

NINTH INNING

Larry MacPhail Quits As Prexy Of Yankee Club

Decision Climaxes Daffy World Series

By JIMMY JORDAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (INS)—As a final touch to the daffiest world series in history, the New York Yankees today won the championship but lost their fiery, red-haired president—Larry MacPhail.

MacPhail himself made the announcement of his retirement in the Yankee clubhouse just before the 1947 champs trooped in to stage one of the wildest clubhouse scenes in a series history.

Tears streaming down his cheeks, Larry the Red told newsmen he was through, "if we win," and explained only:

"Because I want to be through."

Announcement of MacPhail's successor was expected after a meeting late tonight of other co-owners—millionaires Dan Topping, of New York, and Del Webb, of Phoenix, Ariz.—and other officers.

He gave no reason, but differences with his partners were believed at the bottom of his sudden decision to quit.

Harris May Get Post

Bucky Harris, who reluctantly left a front office to pilot the Yanks to the world title, was reported in line for the club presidency, although he said recently he would like to manage the club again next year.

According to reports, friction developed recently when MacPhail hatched a scheme to sell 50 per cent of the Yankee stock to the public, but was balked by his colleagues.

But the club's loss of a president couldn't quiet the clubhouse bedlam, after the 5 to 2 win over the Dodgers.

Bucky Harris, Yankee manager, summed up the seven-game series victory very aptly, with just two words, as he shouted again and again:

And Joe Page, the relief pitcher who pulled the Yanks through in that final hectic game, was hammered and mauled by admiring teammates until he finally succeeded in escaping to the showers.

Page said he threw a fast ball inside to Bruce Edwards, Dodger catcher, to force him to hit into the double play that ended the game and the series.

"I only threw one curve all the time I was in there," he said. "I threw mostly fast ones, with a little change-up now and then."

Joe McCarthy, who skippered so many Yankee champions; A. B. (Happy) Chandler, baseball commissioner; William Harridge, president of the American League, and Ford Frick, National League president, all made their rounds of congratulations.

So did MacPhail—but he was almost forgotten in that bedlam.

Champions Will Receive $6,300

Henrich Hit Safely In All Seven Games

By JOE REICHLER

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Oct. 6 — (AP) — The victorious New York Yankees have been in 15 world series and have won 11, but today's triumph marked the first time they had been forced to go to the limit of seven games in order to win. In fact, it was only the second time they had played out the full string, losing to the 1926 St. Louis Cardinals in the other.

Among their 11 world's championships, the Yankees have taken two at the expense of the Brooklyn Dodgers whom they defeated four games to one in 1941. The Dodgers, after four tries, are still looking for their first world's championship. However, this was by far their best showing in October classics as it marked the first time they had won more than two games.

Both Frank (Spec) Shea of the Yankees, and Hugh Casey of the Dodgers, had opportunities to join the nine immortal three-game world series winners. Each had won two games prior to today's final game. Shea, who on Sunday, had beaten the Dodgers with four hits, was the Yankee surprise starter, but found that one day of rest was not enough and failed to finish the second inning. Casey, who hurled the last two innings for the Dodgers, was in position to win had the Brooks come up with a rally in the ninth.

Records were a dime—dozen in this richest of all series. The seven-game attendance, topped by the high of 74,065 yesterday, reached a record total of 389,763. The total net receipts, including the $175,000 rights and $65,000 from television, soared to a record $2,021,343.92. The players' pool of $493,674.83 set another mark.

Although no official announcement has been made, it was learned that the Dodgers had split their shares in 33 parts. Basing the Yankees' shares on that split, the winning Yanks should get around $6,300 apiece and the losing Dodgers around $4,200 each. These figures would fall below the 1935 Tigers winning shares of $6,544.76 and the 1941 Dodgers' losing cuts of $4,829.40.

Although Tommy Henrich, with 10 base hits, fell two short of tying the record of 12 in a series, he was the only player on both teams to make at least one hit in each of the seven games. His fourth-inning single kept his streak alive.

Southworth Signs $250,000 Contract

Billy Will Manage Braves Five Years

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—Lou Perini, president of the Boston Braves, announced tonight that Billy Southworth had been given a new five-year contract to manage the National Leaguers at a salary "something in excess of $250,000."

Billy Southworth

Southworth was working on a three-year contract but that was torn up and the new one is effective beginning 1948 and for the following five years, Perini said, adding:

"This is one of the most important announcements in the history of the Boston Braves.

"A month ago I spoke to Southworth in Cincinnati and told him I wanted to sit down and talk to him about a contract for the next five years."

Questioned about a "big player deal" the Braves were reported to be negotiating, Perini said, "I have talked to a lot of clubs about deals that may or may not materialize.

"We have planted the seeds and we will deal with most anybody that will bring to Boston the type of players that will fit into Southworth's plans."

Perini said Southworth had just inked the new contract tonight, but admitted that the announcement was timed to coincide with the end of the world series "because we hope to have the same thing—a pennant winner—in Boston very soon."

Braves Buy Player

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 6—(AP)—The Milwaukee Brewers announced today that Outfielder Carden Gillenwater, American Association home run champion, had been sold to the parent Boston Braves of the National League for an undisclosed sum in a straight cash deal.

Phil Rizzuto, Brown And Clark Stand Out

Yanks Cop Eleventh Title Before 71,548

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—Spectacular relief pitching by lefthander Joe Page, who permitted only one Brooklyn Dodger to reach base in the last five innings, enabled the Yankees to coast through to a 5-2 victory in the seventh and deciding game of the world series at the stadium today before 71,548 fans.

Shelled from the mound only the previous day, the Yankees' ace relief came back to throttle the scrapping National Leaguers after he took over at the start of the fifth frame today with his club holding a precarious 3-2 lead. He faced only 15 batters in slamming the door in the Dodgers' faces, a double play wiping out the only man to hit him safely after one was out in the ninth.

Win 11th World Series

The victory, gained after seven days of hectic struggle, gave the Yankees their 11th world championship in 15 times they had reached the fall classic. All records both for attendance and receipts were broken in the course of the fluctuating duel between the cross-river rivals.

Sharing honors with Page in scoring the decisive triumph were little Phil Rizzuto, the Yankees' scampering shortstop and a pair of youthful utility stars, Bobby Brown and Al Clark, whom Manager Bucky Harris plucked from the bench at critical moments to throw barbs into the Brooks.

Rizzuto slammed three of the winners' seven hits off five Brooklyn flingers, drove across one run and scored two more. He had a hand in each of the Yankees' first four runs, one way or another. His final contribution was to make a brilliant stop and throw of a sharp grounder by Catcher Bruce Edwards and convert it into the double play which ended the series.

Brown Scores In Pinch

Brown, making his fourth appearance of the play-off as a pinch-hitter, belted a double to knock in the Yankees' second run to tie the score in the fourth, and Clark put the count forever beyond reach of the Dodgers by clouting across the winners' fourth score in the sixth.

Brown's three hits in three official times at bat during the series set a record. On his other try, in the first game, the young utility infielder drew a walk at a crucial point in the Yankees' first big rally of the series.

The Dodgers scored both runs today in the second inning, when they pasted the Yank starter, Frank Shea, and his successor, Bill Bevens, for four solid hits, including a triple by Gene Hermanski and a double by Johnny Jorgensen. With that one outburst, Manager Burt Shotton's battlers were through for the year.

Bevens Wrenches Arm

A single through third base by Edwards in the fourth inning and another one-baser by Ed Miksis after one was out in the ninth, summed up their efforts thereafter. Bevens, the unfortunate who lost a one-hitter during the series, was not knocked out, but retired for a pinch-hitter after he had wrenched his arm on a pitch during the fourth frame.

Trailing by two runs at the outset, the Yanks got one back in the second, when Hal Gregg, the Dodger starter, handed out a brace of walks and Rizzuto slashed the first of his three hits over third base.

Gregg settled down to retire the Yanks in the third, but they set a fire under the tall righthander in the fourth and sewed up the series. With two down on strikeouts and Billy Johnson on base by virtue of a walk, Rizzuto arched the second of his hits into left field, and that brought in the juvenile, Brown, to bat for the ailing Bevens.

Henrich Wins Game

The kid slashed a hot two-bagger into left on which Johnson easily scored to knot the count. With that, Gregg was through and Hank Behrman strolled in. He walked his first opponent, George Stirnweiss, and then Tommy Henrich, known around the stadium as the "Old Reliable," pounded across the winning score with a clean single into right field.

Thereafter, to all intents and purposes, it was all Joe Page and his smoking fast ball. The big southpaw threw only one curve and one slider as he mowed the Brooklyns down. He racked up only one strikeout, but he had the Dodgers popping up or hitting easy rollers, and the Yank fielders didn't have a really hard chance as Page broke into the winner's circle at last.

Trying desperately to get a rally under way, Shotton threw three pinch-hitters into the tussle and trotted out pitchers like a man shelling peas, but it got him nowhere. The Yanks scored their fourth run off Joe Hatten in the sixth on Clark's pinch-hit, and added another for good measure off Hugh Casey in the seventh when Johnson whaled his third triple of the series into deep left-center field and scored on a long fly by Aaron Robinson.

Hal Gregg Is Loser

Gregg was charged with the loss, as he left the winning run on base for Behrman to try to dispose of in the fourth. Casey's two-inning stint marked the veteran Dodger's fifth appearance in as many days. He was credited with two of the losers' three victories.

But for Page's fine performance the Yankees would have been in an embarrassing position. Shea, who

INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE SPORTS WRITER

Branch Rickey has just made an impassioned speech telling the Dodgers how good they were and how proud he is of them and how much better they will be next year.

Branch Rickey

But it failed to rouse a cheer from the Dodgers who had seen their wild pitching hand the Yanks the seventh and deciding game of the world series on a platter.

The Dodgers sat around the room, each on a little bench in front of his locker, silent, grim, unsmiling.

Then Manager Burt Shotton, most inoffensive and meekest of men, exploded as follows:

"You may say we were beaten by a good team. The Yanks are that, especially with DiMaggio and Henrich.

"But you can also say that we will beat the Yanks more in the next ten years than they'll beat us or any other team."

You will be informed elsewhere how Larry MacPhail blew his top and quit the Yanks. He said so himself. But here is a more important and vital tip straight from the Dodgers feed box.

Leo Durocher will not manage the Dodgers next year or any other year. The Lip is definitely out.

Shotton spilled that when he said, "We will beat the Yanks more in the next 10 years than they will beat us."

Knowing Shotton, we know he would never dream of making such a remark if he wasn't already assured that he will pilot the Dodgers again next year.

No series ever produced poorer pitching and to get an inkling of how bad it was you have only to note the bases on balls handed out. A total of 68 or almost 10 a game.

Shotton and other Dodgers had nice things to say about Bucky Harris, Tommy Henrich and about Bobby Brown whose two pinch doubles and single in three times at bat set a new record and helped send the Dodgers to defeat.

But from Branch Rickey to the Dodger bat boy the greatest idol of all is Joe DiMaggio who, Rickey declared today, cannot be left off any all-time star team.

Joe DiMaggio

"I've never seen his superior in the field," said the Dodger prexy, "and as a hitter, thrower, runner and everything else he stands supreme. He's simply terrific."

The Dodgers believe that bad as their pitching was, they surely would have won the series anyhow if the Yanks had no DiMaggio.

However, the Yanks did have DiMaggio.

Coach's Strategy Gave Northwestern Victory Over UCLA

CHICAGO, Oct. 6 (AP) — A "psychological" substitution gave Northwestern its surprising 27-26 triumph over favored U. C. L. A., Coach Bob Voigts of the Wildcats explained today.

Voigts told the Herald-American Quarterback Club that, just like everybody else, U. C. L. A., didn't believe that Jules Siegle, a portly fourth-string halfback, could run fast—a mistake that produced the game-deciding touchdown in the fourth period.

"Jules—I call him Jungle Jolly—has deep jowls and a bit of a paunch," said Voigts. "He looks like he can hardly lope, much less sprint, but actually he is one of our fastest runners. He fools a lot of people.

"I figured that a long pass to Siegle might give us a quick touchdown if U. C. L. A. was deceived by his appearance. Jules didn't expect to get in the game and when I called him, he nearly fell over the bench and tripped over three players on the way.

"I told him to run as fast and as far as he could and to catch a pass from Quarterback Jim Farrar. He made a beautiful snag of a 33-yard toss on the goal line and that was the ball game."

Washington Redskins Recall Don Avery

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 — (AP) — The Washington Redskins announced today the recall from its Wilmington, Del., Clipper farm of Don Avery, 250-pound tackle, formerly of the University of Southern California.

Harvey Jones, halfback formerly of Baylor University, has been returned to the Redskins' active list. Jones, who suffered a knee injury last year, underwent an operation for it and has been pronounce fit, the Redskins' office said.

Both will be available for next Sunday's game with the New York Giants.

"Bugs Eye View" Of The Series

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 — (INS) — The mechanical Yanks turned in their fourth machine-tooled job on their world series contract. Hysteria has cooled into history and the best team won.

They may buzz about Gionfriddo and Dixie Walker until their tonsils gets as radio-activated as Bikini Atoll. But the fact is the finest fielding in the series was hand-picked by a rubber-legged mugg named DiMaggio.

Joe fields by ear. The sound of the wood against leather tells him everything he needs to know. His judgment of batters gives him twenty feet the best of it. Plus his effortless scampering and he gets thar' the mostest with the leastest effort.

The Dodgers got rid of Shea and Bevens only to bump into Joe Page. They may have taken a page out of the book the other day. But today they couldn't take the book out of the library.

The Dodgers' pitching was as loose as boiled feathers. They didn't have a thrower who could go the Darby route. The perpetual Casey prowled out in the cool of the evening. But by that time the biscuits were in the deep freezer.

It's baseball when the Yanks win. It's sentiment when the lovable bindle-stiffs make a soft touch. But over a span of seventy games the odds would still be the same. The Yanks would win forty of them. You cannot make a silk purse out of a sow's ear. And if you did you would be silly to put your money in it.

While conceding DiMaggio's fielding superiority I must admit the thrill of the series was Gionfriddo's bird-nest robbery of the same DiMaggio's wallop. And admitting the bulge of Yankee hitting power the busting shiver of the series was Lavagetto's clung against the right field wall.

The one robbed Bevens of a no-hitter and a game. But it didn't rob him of his glory. It was a wonderful series all the way around with the Dodgers again winning a blue ribbon in the underdog class.

It is a shame those Yanks turn in such pre-fabricated victories. It is a shame DiMaggio is is such a smooth workman. It is too bad Joe couldn't do card tricks while chasing a fly. Or scatter roses to his admirers in the stands. We will work on that this winter. In the taxable interim tip the skimmer to the world champs.

World Series Play By Play

FIRST INNING

Dodgers: Stanky punched a single into right field. On the first pitch to Reese, Stanky was caught stealing on a fine throw from A. Robinson to Stirnweiss who made the putout. Reese walked on a three and two pitch. J. Robinson lined to Henrich who made a leaping two-handed catch of the smash. Reese also was caught stealing, Robinson to Rizzuto, who made the catch. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

SECOND INNING

Dodgers: Walker swung at Shea's first pitch and fouled to McQuinn who made the catch in the first base coach's box.

Hermanski smashed a line drive three bagger to the right field wall. Edwards rapped a single inside the third base line scoring Hermanski with the first run of the game. Furillo drilled a single past the mound out into center field, Edwards stopping at second. That was all for Shea and he was replaced by Bill Bevens, a righthander. Jorgensen lined a ground rule double which skipped into the right field stands on one hop, scoring Edwards and sending Furillo to third. Gregg bounced to Rizzuto who whipped to A. Robinson catching Furillo at the plate. Gregg reached first on the fielder's choice and Jorgensen just made third ahead of A. Robinson's throw to Johnson.

Yankees: Furillo moved back to gather in DiMaggio's high fly in dead center. Gregg walked McQuinn with four straight called balls. Stanky ran into short right field to haul in Johnson's high pop.

THIRD INNING

FOURTH INNING

Bobby Brown, a lefthanded hitter, batter for Bevens, and sliced a double to left, scoring Johnson with the tying run and sending Rizzuto to third. It was Brown's third pinch safety of the series to tie the record of three pinch hits made by Ken O'Dea with the Cubs and Cardinals. Hank Behrman, a righthander, replaced Gregg on the mound for the Dodgers. Stirnweiss walked on four pitches to fill the bases. Henrich singled sharply to right scoring Rizzuto with Brown going to third and Stirnweiss to second and the bases remained loaded.

J. Robinson made a splendid gloved-hand stop of Berra's hopper to his right and threw underhand to Behrman who covered first for the out. When Gregg was knocked out of the box, it marked the seventh straight time that the Dodger starting pitcher failed to go the route. Two runs, three hits, no errors, three left.

Yankees: After fouling off a pitch high into the left field stands close to the foul line, DiMaggio walked. McQuinn laid down a sacrifice bunt toward third and was thrown out, Jorgensen to Stanky, who covered first. Stanky threw out Johnson, DiMaggio moving to third. A. Robinson flied to Walker who made the catch a few feet in front of the right field boxes close to the foul line. No runs, no hits, no errors, one left.

SIXTH INNING

Dodgers: DiMaggio raced back into right-center to take down Walker's drive. Ed Miksis, a righthanded batter, went in to hit for Hermanski. Milsis tried to catch Johnson napping with a bunt but the third baseman came in fast and with a lightning throw nipped him in a very close play at first. Edwards flied to DiMaggio, who had a bit of difficulty in making the catch in right-center. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Yankees: Miksis went into left field for the Dodgers. Rizzuto bunted along the first baseline and was credited with a single when Behrman failed to come up with the ball. It was Rizzuto's third straight hit.

Rizzuto stole second, sliding in ahead of Edwards' high and wide throw which pulled Reese off the bag. Page had attempted to lay down a sacrifice bunt but missed the pitch and Rizzuto lit out for third and made it. Page struck out on the next pitch. Stirnweiss walked. Joe Hatten, a lefthander, replaced Behrman on the hill. Henrich struck out. Al Clark, a righthanded hitter, batted for Berra. Clark punched a single into short center on the first pitch, scoring Rizzuto with Stirnweiss stopping at second. That was enough for Hatten and he was replaced by Rex Barney, a righthander. DiMaggio flied to Furillo who made the catch in deep center field. One run, two hits, no errors, two left.

SEVENTH INNING

Dodgers: Clark went to right field for the Yankees. Furillo fouled to McQuinn just outside the first base line. Harry Lavagetto, a righthanded hitter, batted for Jorgensen. Lavagetto popped to Stirnweiss in short right field. Gil Hodges, another righthanded hitter, made his first appearance of the series when he was sent up to pinchhit for Barney. Hodges went down swinging. No runs, not hits, no errors, none left.

Yankees: Hugh Casey made his sixth appearance of the series, a world series record for pitchers, when he came in to hurl for the Dodgers. Lavagetto went to third base for the Brooks. Reese threw out McQuinn. Miksis had trouble judging Johnson's long drive to left-center field and the ball bounced behind him and went for a triple. The Dodger leftfielder circled around the ball three times before finally letting it drop. Miksis did not look so good in catching A. Robinson's fly in left on which Johnson easily scored after the catch. That was the first run scored off Casey in 9⅓ innings. Stanky raced out and caught Rizzuto's pop behind second. One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

EIGHTH INNING

NINTH INNING

Larry MacPhail Quits As Prexy Of Yankee Club

Decision Climaxes Daffy World Series

By JIMMY JORDAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (INS)—As a final touch to the daffiest world series in history, the New York Yankees today won the championship but lost their fiery, red-haired president—Larry MacPhail.

MacPhail himself made the announcement of his retirement in the Yankee clubhouse just before the 1947 champs trooped in to stage one of the wildest clubhouse scenes in a series history.

Tears streaming down his cheeks, Larry the Red told newsmen he was through, "if we win," and explained only:

"Because I want to be through."

Announcement of MacPhail's successor was expected after a meeting late tonight of other co-owners—millionaires Dan Topping, of New York, and Del Webb, of Phoenix, Ariz.—and other officers.

He gave no reason, but differences with his partners were believed at the bottom of his sudden decision to quit.

Harris May Get Post

Bucky Harris, who reluctantly left a front office to pilot the Yanks to the world title, was reported in line for the club presidency, although he said recently he would like to manage the club again next year.

According to reports, friction developed recently when MacPhail hatched a scheme to sell 50 per cent of the Yankee stock to the public, but was balked by his colleagues.

But the club's loss of a president couldn't quiet the clubhouse bedlam, after the 5 to 2 win over the Dodgers.

Bucky Harris, Yankee manager, summed up the seven-game series victory very aptly, with just two words, as he shouted again and again:

And Joe Page, the relief pitcher who pulled the Yanks through in that final hectic game, was hammered and mauled by admiring teammates until he finally succeeded in escaping to the showers.

Page said he threw a fast ball inside to Bruce Edwards, Dodger catcher, to force him to hit into the double play that ended the game and the series.

"I only threw one curve all the time I was in there," he said. "I threw mostly fast ones, with a little change-up now and then."

Joe McCarthy, who skippered so many Yankee champions; A. B. (Happy) Chandler, baseball commissioner; William Harridge, president of the American League, and Ford Frick, National League president, all made their rounds of congratulations.

So did MacPhail—but he was almost forgotten in that bedlam.

Henrich Hit Safely In All Seven Games

By JOE REICHLER

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Oct. 6 — (AP) — The victorious New York Yankees have been in 15 world series and have won 11, but today's triumph marked the first time they had been forced to go to the limit of seven games in order to win. In fact, it was only the second time they had played out the full string, losing to the 1926 St. Louis Cardinals in the other.

Among their 11 world's championships, the Yankees have taken two at the expense of the Brooklyn Dodgers whom they defeated four games to one in 1941. The Dodgers, after four tries, are still looking for their first world's championship. However, this was by far their best showing in October classics as it marked the first time they had won more than two games.

Both Frank (Spec) Shea of the Yankees, and Hugh Casey of the Dodgers, had opportunities to join the nine immortal three-game world series winners. Each had won two games prior to today's final game. Shea, who on Sunday, had beaten the Dodgers with four hits, was the Yankee surprise starter, but found that one day of rest was not enough and failed to finish the second inning. Casey, who hurled the last two innings for the Dodgers, was in position to win had the Brooks come up with a rally in the ninth.

Records were a dime—dozen in this richest of all series. The seven-game attendance, topped by the high of 74,065 yesterday, reached a record total of 389,763. The total net receipts, including the $175,000 rights and $65,000 from television, soared to a record $2,021,348.92. The players' pool of $493,674.83 set another mark.

Although no official announcement has been made, it was learned that the Dodgers had split their shares in 33 parts. Basing the Yankees' shares on that split, the winning Yanks should get around $6,300 apiece and the losing Dodgers around $4,200 each. These figures would fall below the 1935 Tigers winning shares of $6,544.76 and the 1941 Dodgers' losing cuts of $4,829.40.

Although Tommy Henrich, with 10 base hits, fell two short of tying the record of 12 in a series, he was the only player on both teams to make at least one hit in each of the seven games. His fourth-inning single kept his streak alive.

Southworth Signs $250,000 Contract

Billy Will Manage Braves Five Years

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—Lou Perini, president of the Boston Braves, announced tonight that Billy Southworth had been given a new five-year contract to manage the National Leaguers at a salary "something in excess of $250,000."

Billy Southworth

Southworth was working on a three-year contract but that was torn up and the new one is effective beginning 1948 and for the following five years, Perini said, adding:

"This is one of the most important announcements in the history of the Boston Braves.

"A month ago I spoke to Southworth in Cincinnati and told him I wanted to sit down and talk to him about a contract for the next five years."

Questioned about a "big player deal" the Braves were reported to be negotiating, Perini said, "I have talked to a lot of clubs about deals that may or may not materialize.

"We have planted the seeds and we will deal with most anybody that will bring to Boston the type of players that will fit into Southworth's plans."

Perini said Southworth had just inked the new contract tonight, but admitted that the announcement was timed to coincide with the end of the world series "because we hope to have the same thing—a pennant winner—in Boston very soon."

Braves Buy Player

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 6—(AP)—The Milwaukee Brewers announced today that Outfielder Carden Gillenwater, American Association home run champion, had been sold to the parent Boston Braves of the National League for an undisclosed sum in a straight cash deal.

Phil Rizzuto, Brown And Clark Stand Out

Yanks Cop Eleventh Title Before 71,548

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—Spectacular relief pitching by lefthander Joe Page, who permitted only one Brooklyn Dodger to reach base in the last five innings, enabled the Yankees to coast through to a 5-2 victory in the seventh and deciding game of the world series at the stadium today before 71,548 fans.

Shelled from the mound only the previous day, the Yankees' ace relief came back to throttle the scrapping National Leaguers after he took over at the start of the fifth frame today with his club holding a precarious 3-2 lead. He faced only 15 batters in slamming the door in the Dodgers' faces, a double play wiping out the only man to hit him safely after one was out in the ninth.

Win 11th World Series

The victory, gained after seven days of hectic struggle, gave the Yankees their 11th world championship in 15 times they had reached the fall classic. All records both for attendance and receipts were broken in the course of the fluctuating duel between the cross-river rivals.

Sharing honors with Page in scoring the decisive triumph were little Phil Rizzuto, the Yankees' scampering shortstop and a pair of youthful utility stars, Bobby Brown and Al Clark, whom Manager Bucky Harris plucked from the bench at critical moments to throw barbs into the Brooks.

Rizzuto slammed three of the winners' seven hits off five Brooklyn flingers, drove across one run and scored two more. He had a hand in each of the Yankees' first four runs, one way or another. His final contribution was to make a brilliant stop and throw of a sharp grounder by Catcher Bruce Edwards and convert it into the double play which ended the series.

Brown Scores In Pinch

Brown, making his fourth appearance of the play-off as a pinch-hitter, belted a double to knock in the Yankees' second run to tie the score in the fourth, and Clark put the count forever beyond reach of the Dodgers by clouting across the winners' fourth score in the sixth.

Brown's three hits in three official times at bat during the series set a record. On his other try, in the first game, the young utility infielder drew a walk at a crucial point in the Yankees' first big rally of the series.

The Dodgers scored both runs today in the second inning, when they pasted the Yank starter, Frank Shea, and his successor, Bill Bevens, for four solid hits, including a triple by Gene Hermanski and a double by Johnny Jorgensen. With that one outburst, Manager Burt Shotton's battlers were through for the year.

Bevens Wrenches Arm

A single through third base by Edwards in the fourth inning and another one-baser by Ed Miksis after one was out in the ninth, summed up their efforts thereafter. Bevens, the unfortunate who lost a one-hitter during the series, was not knocked out, but retired for a pinch-hitter after he had wrenched his arm on a pitch during the fourth frame.

Trailing by two runs at the outset, the Yanks got one back in the second, when Hal Gregg, the Dodger starter, handed out a brace of walks and Rizzuto slashed the first of his three hits over third base.

Gregg settled down to retire the Yanks in the third, but they set a fire under the tall righthander in the fourth and sewed up the series. With two down on strikeouts and Billy Johnson on base by virtue of a walk, Rizzuto arched the second of his hits into left field, and that brought in the juvenile, Brown, to bat for the ailing Bevens.

Henrich Wins Game

The kid slashed a hot two-bagger into left on which Johnson easily scored to knot the count. With that, Gregg was through and Hank Behrman strolled in. He walked his first opponent, George Stirnweiss, and then Tommy Henrich, known around the stadium as the "Old Reliable," pounded across the winning score with a clean single into right field.

Thereafter, to all intents and purposes, it was all Joe Page and his smoking fast ball. The big southpaw threw only one curve and one slider as he mowed the Brooklyns down. He racked up only one strikeout, but he had the Dodgers popping up or hitting easy rollers, and the Yank fielders didn't have a really hard chance as Page broke into the winner's circle at last.

Trying desperately to get a rally under way, Shotton threw three pinch-hitters into the tussle and trotted out pitchers like a man shelling peas, but it got him nowhere. The Yanks scored their fourth run off Joe Hatten in the sixth on Clark's pinch-hit, and added another for good measure off Hugh Casey in the seventh when Johnson whaled his third triple of the series into deep left-center field and scored on a long fly by Aaron Robinson.

Hal Gregg Is Loser

Gregg was charged with the loss, as he left the winning run on base for Behrman to try to dispose of in the fourth. Casey's two-inning stint marked the veteran Dodger's fifth appearance in as many days. He was credited with two of the losers' three victories.

But for Page's fine performance the Yankees would have been in an embarrassing position. Shea, who

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD
By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 6 (INS)—David Selznick has found a sound idea in his plan to buy up legitimate theatres around the country for appearances by his stars when they are not working.

Sonja Henie

Too often movie people go out of town unprepared for personal appearances and make a bad impression.

Selznick very wisely figures that these face-to-face appearances will build popularity for his stars if they have a proper vehicle and at the same time give them added experience.

Mell Ferrer will direct the plays and I am told that the first theater to be bought is in San Francisco, where Gregory Peck is already appearing in "Angel Street."

Just before Eddie Robinson took off for location for "All My Sons,", he had a meeting with Humphrey Bogart, Lauren Bacall and John Huston, with the result that when Eddie gets back, he is going to put his valued signature to a contract for "Key Largo," the next Bogart picture.

If Eddie wanted to, he could work every day and every night all seven days in the week. There's always a part in a movie at every studio for him it seems, and he hasn't done badly free-lancing.

The way Laura Lee Michaels nabbed the important child's role in Leo McCarey's picture, "Good Sam," may or may not be a tip to other moppetts looking for jobs

Laura Lee had been waiting for ages on the set with 20 other little girls her age while Leo took his time about interviewing them. Finally, the little girl could stand it no longer and so she marched up to Leo and said, "Well, do I get this part, or don't I?"

Chatter in Hollywood: Rumor certainly spreads—especially when it concerns a star. Ingrid Bergman, who has had the sniffles for a few days, canceled the telephone interview between here and Sweden, because she was afraid she couldn't be heard.

Literally in hours came a query from the Stockholm News Service to Walter Wanger, asking confirmation of a report that Miss Bergman was desperately ill and fighting for her life.

What might have been an awfully bad break for Jacques Francois, French movie actor, when Louis Jourdan was available for "Letter From An Unknown Woman," has developed a happy ending.

Jacques, 23-year-old, tall, blond, was to have been imported for the lead opposite Joan Fontaine when everyone thought Jourdan would not be free. He was.

But one look at Francois' test and he was given the sign to come on to Hollywood—he arrived over the weekend. Jacques speaks English with an accent—but that hasn't hurt Charles Boyer, Jean Pierre Aumont or Jourdan.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:—Sonja Henie gave Mike North ice skates just before he took off for New York. Is that his cue to skate in, or out, of her life?

Those gams of Bing's will be on display again in "Connecticut Yankee." He revealed them first in "Emperor Waltz." Rita Hayworth, Marlene Dietrich, et al,—move over.

Is Fred Astaire getting bored with his retirement? Anyway, he'll be back in circulation for a radio appearance with Ed Gardner on "Duffy's Tavern" the end of the month.

No one will be surprised if Dennis Day and Betty Amquist say "I do" pretty soon.

The deal Olivia De Havilland is closing with a recording company gives her $20,000 an album and a percentage of the sales for reading some of the Edgar Allen Poe stories.

There's a whisper that the movie just completed by a top singing star has been shelved—but I wouldn't be knowing for sure.

I never think of Roddy McDowall as grown up—but he's having dates with Ann Blythe—who is.

For Safer Driving — Extra Tire Mileage
YOUR COMPLETE WHEEL ALIGNMENT SERVICE

Did you know that if one of your wheels is as little as one-eighth inch out of line, your tire is dragged sideways approximately 85 feet in every mile? It is easy to see from this fact, how much unnecessary wear your tires receive if your wheels are out of line.

Faulty wheel alignment, like faulty brakes, also makes driving hazardous. Play safe—drive in today and let us check your wheel alignment with our Bennett-Feragen Chassis Analyzer. In a matter of minutes we can give you accurate, visual proof of the exact alignment condition of your wheels. If correction is necessary, we can put your wheels in perfect alignment quickly and at a surprisingly low cost.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 6 (INS)—David Selznick has found a sound idea in his plan to buy up legitimate theatres around the country for appearances by his stars when they are not working.

Sonja Henie

Too often movie people go out of town unprepared for personal appearances and make a bad impression.

Selznick very wisely figures that these face-to-face appearances will build popularity for his stars if they have a proper vehicle and at the same time give them added experience.

Mell Ferrer will direct the plays and I am told that the first theater to be bought is in San Francisco, where Gregory Peck is already appearing in "Angel Street."

Just before Eddie Robinson took off for location for "All My Sons,", he had a meeting with Humphrey Bogart, Lauren Bacall and John Huston, with the result that when Eddie gets back, he is going to put his valued signature to a contract for "Key Largo," the next Bogart picture.

If Eddie wanted to, he could work every day and every night all seven days in the week. There's always a part in a movie at every studio for him it seems, and he hasn't done badly free-lancing.

The way Laura Lee Michaels nabbed the important child's role in Leo McCarey's picture, "Good Sam," may or may not be a tip to other moppetts looking for jobs

Laura Lee had been waiting for ages on the set with 20 other little girls her age while Leo took his time about interviewing them. Finally, the little girl could stand it no longer and so she marched up to Leo and said, "Well, do I get this part, or don't I?"

Chatter in Hollywood: Rumor certainly spreads—especially when it concerns a star. Ingrid Bergman, who has had the sniffles for a few days, canceled the telephone interview between here and Sweden, because she was afraid she couldn't be heard.

Literally in hours came a query from the Stockholm News Service to Walter Wanger, asking confirmation of a report that Miss Bergman was desperately ill and fighting for her life.

What might have been an awfully bad break for Jacques Francois, French movie actor, when Louis Jourdan was available for "Letter From An Unknown Woman," has developed a happy ending.

Jacques, 23-year-old, tall, blond, was to have been imported for the lead opposite Joan Fontaine when everyone thought Jourdan would not be free. He was.

But one look at Francois' test and he was given the sign to come on to Hollywood—he arrived over the weekend. Jacques speaks English with an accent—but that hasn't hurt Charles Boyer, Jean Pierre Aumont or Jourdan.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:—Sonja Henie gave Mike North ice skates just before he took off for New York. Is that his cue to skate in, or out, of her life?

Those gams of Bing's will be on display again in "Connecticut Yankee." He revealed them first in "Emperor Waltz." Rita Hayworth, Marlene Dietrich, et al,—move over.

Is Fred Astaire getting bored with his retirement? Anyway, he'll be back in circulation for a radio appearance with Ed Gardner on "Duffy's Tavern" the end of the month.

No one will be surprised if Dennis Day and Betty Amquist say "I do" pretty soon.

Frostburg Men Are Assisting In Excavation Work

Improvements Are Made To Church

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG—Using the slogan "The More Work Done by the Men of the Church the Less the Improvement Will Cost the Church," a large group of men from Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church, this city, have been at work nights since November, 1946, on an excavation job, consisting of the removal of 572 cubic yards of earth from beneath the Sunday School section of the property to provide more space for the increasing activities of the congregation.

When completed the basement addition will consist of a meeting room 47 by 32 feet and a kitchen 17 by 24 feet, as well as rest rooms.

The movement to provide more space was started with a "cellar fund," begun in 1943 by a group of girls of the Golden Ray Sunday School class, but when most of the young men were drafted for military service in 1944, the project was stopped until their return.

All work was done by volunteers from the congregation until a few weeks ago when a section of the old north wall was removed. The job of replacing the walls and sills was given to the contracting firm of Baker and Ramage, on a material and labor basis. One half of the north wall was replaced September 25 and the other half will be replaced this week.

It is planned to move the kitchen now on the main floor to the basement and use the large basement room for a dining hall for the Lions Club and other groups during the week and the primary department on Sundays. Under the present plan, according to Rev. George L. Wehler, pastor, the project will cost the church between five and six thousand dollars. He added that the cost would have been prohibitive without the volunteer help of the men of the church.

The footer excavation of the new addition will be 11 feet and the finished height from floor to ceiling will be nine feet, six inches.

Men assisting in the work are George Hartig, Myron C. Lehr, Leroy Himmelwright, Carl McCulloh, Jack Hartig, Thomas Lehr, Edward Carter, Marshall Hill, Charles Stevanus, James Brode, William Kroll, Paul and James Skidmore, Clifton Hitchins, Charles Broadwater, Samuel Carter, Arnold Dixon, Albert and Jesse Fuller, William Fuller, George Griffith, Oliver, Karl and John Hartig.

Paul Jenkins, Carl Martens, Carl Robertson, Wilbur Williams, Charles Richardson, George H. McCulloh, William H. Kroll, James Cummings, James Knepp, Benjamin Ort, Kenneth Close, Mike Slingloff, G. Workman, Edward Uphold, John Livengood, Frank Stone, Vernan Miller, Charles Hunter, Jack Hunter II, and all members of the consistory, consisting of Rev. Wehler, Jacob Hafer, Marshall Skidmore, George Downton, Frank Carter, C. Walter Hunter, Walter Minnick, Ernest Murphy, J. G. Pfaff, Jr., and G. F. Martens.

The bride was attired in a street length dress of rose colored wood with brown accessories and a corsage of white rosebuds and white pompoms. The maid of honor was attired in a street length dress of grey crepe with brown accessories. A corsage of red rosebuds completed her costume.

The ceremony was performed in St. Michael's Catholic Church September 27, with Rev. Francis E. Montgomery officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bechie, brother-in-law and sister of the bride were the attendants.

The bride, given in marriage, by her father, was attired in a gown of white satin, fashioned with a tight bodice, long pointed sleeves, with yoke, full skirt with train. Her finger-tip veil was caught with a halo of orange blossoms and her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls. She carried a bridal shower bouquet of white pompoms centered with two orchids.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride, a graduate of Beall High School and Georgia's School of Beauty Culture, is employed in the Virginia Larry shop, Cumberland, and the bridegroom, a graduate of Flintstone High School, a veteran of 30 months in the Marines, serving in China and the Pacific area including Guam and Iwo Jima, is employed by the Acme Markets, Cumberland.

Frostburg Men Are Assisting In Excavation Work

Improvements Are Made To Church

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG—Using the slogan "The More Work Done by the Men of the Church the Less the Improvement Will Cost the Church," a large group of men from Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church, this city, have been at work nights since November, 1946, on an excavation job, consisting of the removal of 572 cubic yards of earth from beneath the Sunday School section of the property to provide more space for the increasing activities of the congregation.

When completed the basement addition will consist of a meeting room 47 by 32 feet and a kitchen 17 by 24 feet, as well as rest rooms.

The movement to provide more space was started with a "cellar fund," begun in 1943 by a group of girls of the Golden Ray Sunday School class, but when most of the young men were drafted for military service in 1944, the project was stopped until their return.

All work was done by volunteers from the congregation until a few weeks ago when a section of the old north wall was removed. The job of replacing the walls and sills was given to the contracting firm of Baker and Ramage, on a material and labor basis. One half of the north wall was replaced September 25 and the other half will be replaced this week.

It is planned to move the kitchen now on the main floor to the basement and use the large basement room for a dining hall for the Lions Club and other groups during the week and the primary department on Sundays. Under the present plan, according to Rev. George L. Wehler, pastor, the project will cost the church between five and six thousand dollars. He added that the cost would have been prohibitive without the volunteer help of the men of the church.

The footer excavation of the new addition will be 11 feet and the finished height from floor to ceiling will be nine feet, six inches.

Men assisting in the work are George Hartig, Myron C. Lehr, Leroy Himmelwright, Carl McCulloh, Jack Hartig, Thomas Lehr, Edward Carter, Marshall Hill, Charles Stevanus, James Brode, William Kroll, Paul and James Skidmore, Clifton Hitchins, Charles Broadwater, Samuel Carter, Arnold Dixon, Albert and Jesse Fuller, William Fuller, George Griffith, Oliver, Karl and John Hartig.

Miss Watson Is Wed

Miss Eileen Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Watson, Shaft, and William Duncan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Duncan, also of Shaft, were married Saturday evening in Cumberland, by Rev. Joseph W. Young.

The attendants were Miss Charlotte Duncan, sister of the bridegroom, and Richard Duncan, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride was attired in a street length dress of rose colored wood with brown accessories and a corsage of white rosebuds and white pompoms. The maid of honor was attired in a street length dress of grey crepe with brown accessories. A corsage of red rosebuds completed her costume.

The bridegroom, a veteran who served for 19 months in the ETO during the war, is employed by the North American Refractories Corporation at Zihlman.

The couple will reside at 150 East Main Street, Frostburg.

Marriage Announced

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Ann Klosterman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klosterman, Eckhart, to George L. McKenzie, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. McKenzie, Flintstone. The ceremony was performed in St. Michael's Catholic Church September 27, with Rev. Francis E. Montgomery officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bechie, brother-in-law and sister of the bride were the attendants.

The bride, given in marriage, by her father, was attired in a gown of white satin, fashioned with a tight bodice, long pointed sleeves, with yoke, full skirt with train. Her finger-tip veil was caught with a halo of orange blossoms and her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls. She carried a bridal shower bouquet of white pompoms centered with two orchids.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride, a graduate of Beall High School and Georgia's School of Beauty Culture, is employed in the Virginia Larry shop, Cumberland, and the bridegroom, a graduate of Flintstone High School, a veteran of 30 months in the Marines, serving in China and the Pacific area including Guam and Iwo Jima, is employed by the Acme Markets, Cumberland.

Selected Stocks Continue Advance; Profit Cashing Hits Many Leaders

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—Selected stocks continued the advancing shift in today's market while many leaders were more or less depressed by profit cashing on the lengthy rise.

Operations still were mostly in the hands of professionals who covered short commitments here and there and bid for favorites on the idea that the fall rally was far from concluded. Grain futures stumbled on the move for boosted margins and the administration's "eat less" campaign.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was unchanged at 65.4 after six consecutive daily gains. Of 952 issues registered, 388 rose and 384 fell.

Among wider climbers were Pacific Western Oil, up 1¾ at 53½ and Mission Corporation 1⅛ at 48⅝, on persistant merger talk; Allied Chemical two at 188, International Harvester 1⅜ at 89⅞, Texas Company one at 47¼, American Can 1¼ at 87 and Douglas Aircraft one at 62.

Schenley was off 1¼ at 37¼, Union Pacific one at 140½, Southern Railway 1⅜ at 38 and Bethlehem Steel one at 90¼. Lesser casualties were United States Steel, Republic Steel, J. I. Case, Boeing, Glenn Martin, American Telephone, Western Union, Electric Power and Light, Kennecott, Air Reduction, General Electric, United States Gypsum, Santa Fe, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio, National Distillers, Hiram Walker and Distillers Corporation.

A handful of railroad issues advanced a point or more today in an otherwise narrow bond market.

Among carriers improving were Monon Income 4½ up 1½ at 37, New Orleans, Texas and Mexico 5s of '35 "A" up one at 93, Peoria and Eastern Income 5s up 1½ at 18½ and Southern Railway consolidated 5s ahead one at 116.

Other corporates gaining included Cincinnati Gas and Electric 2¾s of '70 and Goodrich 2¾s, while International Hydro-Electric 6s, Pacific Gas and Electric 3s of '79, Pennsylvania Central Airlines 3½s and United States Rubber 2⅝s were lower.

United States governments were unchanged in over-the-counter dealings with the exception of the 2½s of 1965-70, off 1-32 at 103 26-32 bid.

Homes Need Autumn Check-Up To Correct Fire Hazards

With the start of the heating season bringing added fire danger, Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 5-11, provides householders with an opportunity to give their homes an autumn check-up.

Last year more than 400,000 homes were damaged or destroyed by fire, a majority of them in the fall and winter months, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, which issues this advice to cautious householders:

Start your autumn check-up in the basement, with the furnace and other heating equipment. Furnaces should be cleaned out once a year, and in the case of oil burners, this should be done by an experienced repairman. Chimneys, flues and smokepipes should be inspected for cracks and holes which will spread fire.

All rubbish accumulated during the summer should be cleared out of the basement, as well as from attics, closets and other places.

Inspect the fuse box. See that only 15-amp fuses are installed, and get a supply of extra fuses to keep on hand.

Inspect the wiring of all electric appliances, particularly those portable heaters you will use this winter. Have all defective wiring repaired or replaced.

Oil and clean the motors of all electric appliances you will use this winter, so they won't overheat and start fires. If your refrigerator motor isn't the "sealed-in" type, be sure to oil this, too.

Get out your metal screen for the fireplace and set it in place for your first open fire. Inspect your chimney to see that it is clear of all obstructions.

Equip your home with plenty of ash-trays, to keep careless smokers from throwing their ashes on carpets or into wastebaskets.

Inspect your kitchen stove to be sure that it is functioning properly. Have a supply of soda or salt on hand to stop grease fires in broilers or cooking vessels.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

Mr. Paar Wins His Commission

About five minutes after the opening of the Jack Paar show, which was elevated to commissioned status on A. B. C. (9:30 p. m. EST Wednesdays) after an apprenticeship in the ranks as Jack Benny's summer replacement, Mr. Paar was forced to chide his studio audience, which had burst into laughter at the wrong place. "No, no," said Mr. Paar with what seemed like admirable restraint. "That's the straight line. Wait . . later . . ." I suspect this isn't the first time Mr. Paar has had this trouble and it won't be the last.

Paar, a young man of subtle mockery, has been accustomed to night club audiences where the drinks presumably sharpen the customer's wits. He has boldly and perhaps mistakenly transposed this sort of comedy to radio, where the audience is more densely massed and the relative impenetrability may be determined, if Mr. Paar is interested, by the equation M equals your Hooper rating times the square of the speed of light. The molecules move slowly in this medium, Mr. P but the explosion is louder. (The pay is better too.)

Last summer while pinch hitting for Benny, Mr. Paar won fairly unanimous critical acclaim, but, I understand, the ordinary listeners —that is, the people who aren't paid to listen to the radio—regarded him with some suspicion. And no wonder. Mr. Paar is likely to fashion jokes about Ponce de Leon or Miles Standish, whoever they are. (De Leon may be that new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star but who is this Standish? What's he expect of us anyhow—an education?) At intervals, in order not to over-strain our minds, Mr. P. speaks comfortingly of the World Series or Walter Winchell or the housing shortage, the sort of topics whose mention provokes laughter by a series of conditioned reflexes. I've got an equation for that too but it's too long to insert here.

Camparisons between Henry Morgan and Mr. Paar are inevitable. They are both what might be called the new radio comedian — sharp, short, disgusted, satirical and more than a little sour on life. Of the two, Paar, who may have taken some lessons from Benny, is the gentler and his lilting personality may get him farther than Henry Moran. That's not to be construed as a prediction. Predictions are for Pearson, who claims he guesses right 80 per cent of the time. My own average on predictions is 92 per cent wrong and I have too kind a regard for Mr. Paar to weight him down with one.

I have several complaints about his opening show on A.B.C. In the first place, a parody on disk jockeys was almost identical with a skit he did on the Benny replacement show last summer. Secondly, a later gag ("I'm standing on my sister") WAS identical with one he pulled on his last show for Benny. In transferring his allegiance to another network, Mr. Paar must have been under the impression he was moving to a new country. N.B.C., which suffers slightly from delusions of grandeur, frequently cherishes the conviction that N.B.C. listeners would't be caught dead listening to another network. Mr. Paar has apparently been infected with this belief and he'd better get straightened out on it right now. None of us, Mr. P., is going to take kindly to a replay of all your last summer shows. You'll have to dream up some new ones.

To get around to the rest of the cast, the show offers Miss Martha Stewart, whom I wish Paar would stop referring to as his "lovely, new singing star." Miss Stewart shouts with almost too much vitality about what a nice day for falling in love it is. (You can straighten that sentence for yourself. I can't do a thing with it.) The young lady, I was surprised to note, also sings loud, fast and on the beam, just as the late George Washington Hill would have ordered it. In fact, Mr. Hill would approve heartily of most young female singers today. The type of harsh, fast vocalizing he imposed on radio listeners long after they had shown preference for a different style of singing has now come full circle right back into vogue again. It's too bad Mr. Hill didn't live to see it.

While it's on a new network, the Paar show still clings to its old sponsor, the American Tobacco Company. This lusty organization is now shooting guns at red bulls-eyes on its programs, reviving a commercial irritant which dropped out of favor years ago. The tobacco irritant which dropped out of favor years ago. The tobacco auctioneers are still around but Mr. Benny hung on to F. E. Boone and Speed Riggs. Lucky Strike has equipped Mr. Paar with a brand new pair of auctioneers, one from Lexington, Ky., which must be a regular beehive of auctioneers, and the other from Raleigh, Va. They both performed splendidly.

Selected Stocks Continue Advance; Profit Cashing Hits Many Leaders

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—Selected stocks continued the advancing shift in today's market while many leaders were more or less depressed by profit cashing on the lengthy rise.

Operations still were mostly in the hands of professionals who covered short commitments here and there and bid for favorites on the idea that the fall rally was far from concluded. Grain futures stumbled on the move for boosted margins and the administration's "eat less" campaign.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was unchanged at 65.4 after six consecutive daily gains. Of 952 issues registered, 388 rose and 384 fell.

Among wider climbers were Pacific Western Oil, up 1¾ at 53½ and Mission Corporation 1⅛ at 48⅝, on persistant merger talk; Allied Chemical two at 188, International Harvester 1⅜ at 89⅞, Texas Company one at 47¼, American Can 1¼ at 87 and Douglas Aircraft one at 62.

Schenley was off 1¼ at 37¼, Union Pacific one at 140½, Southern Railway 1⅜ at 38 and Bethlehem Steel one at 90¼. Lesser casualties were United States Steel, Republic Steel, J. I. Case, Boeing, Glenn Martin, American Telephone, Western Union, Electric Power and Light, Kennecott, Air Reduction, General Electric, United States Gypsum, Santa Fe, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio, National Distillers, Hiram Walker and Distillers Corporation.

A handful of railroad issues advanced a point or more today in an otherwise narrow bond market.

Among carriers improving were Monon Income 4½ up 1½ at 37, New Orleans, Texas and Mexico 5s of '35 "A" up one at 93, Peoria and Eastern Income 5s up 1½ at 18½ and Southern Railway consolidated 5s ahead one at 116.

Other corporates gaining included Cincinnati Gas and Electric 2¾s of '70 and Goodrich 2¾s, while International Hydro-Electric 6s, Pacific Gas and Electric 3s of '79, Pennsylvania Central Airlines 3½s and United States Rubber 2⅝s were lower.

United States governments were unchanged in over-the-counter dealings with the exception of the 2½s of 1965-70, off 1-32 at 103 26-32 bid.

Homes Need Autumn Check-Up To Correct Fire Hazards

With the start of the heating season bringing added fire danger, Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 5-11, provides householders with an opportunity to give their homes an autumn check-up.

Last year more than 400,000 homes were damaged or destroyed by fire, a majority of them in the fall and winter months, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, which issues this advice to cautious householders:

Start your autumn check-up in the basement, with the furnace and other heating equipment. Furnaces should be cleaned out once a year, and in the case of oil burners, this should be done by an experienced repairman. Chimneys, flues and smokepipes should be inspected for cracks and holes which will spread fire.

All rubbish accumulated during the summer should be cleared out of the basement, as well as from attics, closets and other places.

Inspect the fuse box. See that only 15-amp fuses are installed, and get a supply of extra fuses to keep on hand.

Inspect the wiring of all electric appliances, particularly those portable heaters you will use this winter. Have all defective wiring repaired or replaced.

Oil and clean the motors of all electric appliances you will use this winter, so they won't overheat and start fires. If your refrigerator motor isn't the "sealed-in" type, be sure to oil this, too.

Get out your metal screen for the fireplace and set it in place for your first open fire. Inspect your chimney to see that it is clear of all obstructions.

Equip your home with plenty of ash-trays, to keep careless smokers from throwing their ashes on carpets or into wastebaskets.

Inspect your kitchen stove to be sure that it is functioning properly. Have a supply of soda or salt on hand to stop grease fires in broilers or cooking vessels.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

Mr. Paar Wins His Commission

About five minutes after the opening of the Jack Paar show, which was elevated to commissioned status on A. B. C. (9:30 p. m. EST Wednesdays) after an apprenticeship in the ranks as Jack Benny's summer replacement, Mr. Paar was forced to chide his studio audience, which had burst into laughter at the wrong place. "No, no," said Mr. Paar with what seemed like admirable restraint. "That's the straight line. Wait . . later . . ." I suspect this isn't the first time Mr. Paar has had this trouble and it won't be the last.

Paar, a young man of subtle mockery, has been accustomed to night club audiences where the drinks presumably sharpen the customer's wits. He has boldly and perhaps mistakenly transposed this sort of comedy to radio, where the audience is more densely massed and the relative impenetrability may be determined, if Mr. Paar is interested, by the equation M equals your Hooper rating times the square of the speed of light. The molecules move slowly in this medium, Mr. P but the explosion is louder. (The pay is better too.)

Last summer while pinch hitting for Benny, Mr. Paar won fairly unanimous critical acclaim, but, I understand, the ordinary listeners—that is, the people who aren't paid to listen to the radio—regarded him with some suspicion. And no wonder. Mr. Paar is likely to fashion jokes about Ponce de Leon or Miles Standish, whoever they are. (De Leon may be that new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star but who is this Standish? What's he expect of us anyhow—an education?) At intervals, in order not to over-strain our minds, Mr. P. speaks comfortingly of the World Series or Walter Winchell or the housing shortage, the sort of topics whose mention provokes laughter by a series of conditioned reflexes. I've got an equation for that too but it's too long to insert here.

Camparisons between Henry Morgan and Mr. Paar are inevitable. They are both what might be called the new radio comedian — sharp, short, disgusted, satirical and more than a little sour on life. Of the two, Paar, who may have taken some lessons from Benny, is the gentler and his lilting personality may get him farther than Henry Moran. That's not to be construed as a prediction. Predictions are for Pearson, who claims he guesses right 80 per cent of the time. My own average on predictions is 92 per cent wrong and I have too kind a regard for Mr. Paar to weight him down with one.

I have several complaints about his opening show on A.B.C. In the first place, a parody on disk jockeys was almost identical with a skit he did on the Benny replacement show last summer. Secondly, a later gag ("I'm standing on my sister") WAS identical with one he pulled on his last show for Benny. In transferring his allegiance to another network, Mr. Paar must have been under the impression he was moving to a new country. N.B.C., which suffers slightly from delusions of grandeur, frequently cherishes the conviction that N.B.C. listeners would't be caught dead listening to another network. Mr. Paar has apparently been infected with this belief and he'd better get straightened out on it right now. None of us, Mr. P., is going to take kindly to a replay of all your last summer shows. You'll have to dream up some new ones.

To get around to the rest of the cast, the show offers Miss Martha Stewart, whom I wish Paar would stop referring to as his "lovely, new singing star." Miss Stewart shouts with almost too much vitality about what a nice day for falling in love it is. (You can straighten that sentence for yourself. I can't do a thing with it.) The young lady, I was surprised to note, also sings loud, fast and on the beam, just as the late George Washington Hill would have ordered it. In fact, Mr. Hill would approve heartily of most young female singers today. The type of harsh, fast vocalizing he imposed on radio listeners long after they had shown preference for a different style of singing has now come full circle right back into vogue again. It's too bad Mr. Hill didn't live to see it.

While it's on a new network, the Paar show still clings to its old sponsor, the American Tobacco Company. This lusty organization is now shooting guns at red bulls-eyes on its programs, reviving a commercial irritant which dropped out of favor years ago. The tobacco irritant which dropped out of favor years ago. The tobacco auctioneers are still around but Mr. Benny hung on to F. E. Boone and Speed Riggs. Lucky Strike has equipped Mr. Paar with a brand new pair of auctioneers, one from Lexington, Ky., which must be a regular beehive of auctioneers, and the other from Raleigh, Va. They both performed splendidly.

Corriganville School Is Awarded $10 Prize

The Allegany County Council of Parent-Teachers named delegates to the state convention, announced the continuing of the subscription contests and radio series, announced holding of an institute, and named committee chairmen at the meeting last night in the board of education office.

The county council will pay all expenses for a county and a city delegate to the state convention, which will be held in Baltimore, December 8-9. LaVale was named city delegate with Mt. Royal, alternate; and Barton, county delegate with McCoole, alternate. Half of the expenses will be paid for a delegate from John Humbird School.

Corriganville school received the $10 prize for obtaining the most subscriptions to the P-T magazine, throughout last year. It was decided to continue the contest this year.

The radio series, sponsored by the P-TA, will be given again this year and will be resumed sometime in November. The subject is to be "New World's Abroad."

Mrs. Robert Doty, state president, announced that an Allegany county Institute is to be held here. It will consist of a series of three meetings, with Mrs. Mary McNaughton, state officer, conducting the institute. It will begin sometime next month. She also explained the proposed changes in the by-laws which are to be taken up at the state convention in December.

Mrs. Buckley named committees for the year. They include Dr. Adam Baer, Frostburg, Social Hygiene; Mrs. Erich Roeder, Home and Family Life; Mrs. Ross Prysock, Publicity; Samuel McNulty, Cresaptown, Budget and Finance; Mrs. Ralph Isiminger and Mrs. Harold Bishop, Hospitality; Mrs. Franklin Martens, Publications; and George Mease, Safety.

Reports of the Summer Conference were given by Mrs. Mary Carter, Pennsylvania Avenue School; Mrs. George Miller read Mrs. Gertrude Farrell's report from Hammond Street School; Mrs. Leona Wilson, Mt. Savage; Mrs. Edward Matthews, Corriganville; Samuel McNulty, Cresaptown and Mrs. Ralph Isiminger, West Side.

Have Double Duty

Judge Henderson told the jurors they have a double duty to perform, while sitting as a Grand Jury.

"Unless you find that there is reasonable ground to believe an accused person has committed a crime," he said, "it is your duty not to find an indictment. You thus protect the rights and the liberty of the individual. On the other hand," he continued, "if you believe that persons should be brought to account for offenses committed by them, you may decide to charge them with wrong-doing. You thus protect the citizens as a whole against wrongdoers."

A black and white buttinsky wandered into the Warren Avenue Police station. He was so interested in putting his cold nose in everybody's business that the officers called him "The Inspector." They gave him away twice. But he pattered back on both occasions.

Zippy, the mascot of Engine Company 87, presented an altogether different problem. He stayed at his post during the day, but in the evenings he sneaked off to a neighborhood theater. Somebody always had to go to the movie house and bring him home. The fireman eventually chipped in and bought a television set. Now they hope their canine buff will stick close to his fireside.

won the fifth game on Saturday and so was making his second start in three days, simply didn't have it this time. Originally Harris had planned to start Bevens, but changed his mind overnight.

Though the Dodgers scored their second run off him in the second inning after he relieved Shea with two aboard and only one out, Bevens looked sharp, and was setting the Dodgers down smartly when he re-injured his pitching arm in throwing a curve to Gregg in the fourth. After a conference with the bench, Bevens was permitted to go on and retire Gregg for the third out on an infield roller, but it was plain the big fellow was through.

Bobby's Hit Paves Way

The fact that Harris knew he was going to have to bring in another hurler in the fifth provided the turning point of the game. Two were out when he sent Brown in to bat for Bevens, and it is extremely doubtful Harris would have made the move had Bevens not been hurt. Brown's hit paved the way to victory.

When Harris asked his bullpen catcher, Johnny Schulte, what relief chucker, if any, he was able to recommend, Schulte advised the manager that Allie Reynolds was throwing good stuff, but that Page didn't look so hot. "So I told him, 'Bring on Page,'" Harris recounted later with sweet reasonableness.

In the end, the Yankees won as the majority of expert observers believed they would, because they had the superior power in their bats and a little better pitching than their inter-borough rivals. Many had even predicted that Page would prove the "difference" with his sterling relief pitching, and that proved to be about the size of it.

Cresap Coal Co. Partners Ask For Receivers

Petition Filed In Circuit Court

A petition asking for the appointment of receivers for the Cresap Coal Company, a strip mining operation, was filed in Circuit Court yesterday, claiming the firm is insolvent and stating the partnership should be dissolved. An injunction against continued operation is also requested.

The petitioners are Clarence W. Grant and James P. McCusker, and the bill is filed against Kenneth Toohey and James A. Morgan. Associate Judge George Henderson signed an order in which the defendents are given until October 11, to show cause why the receiver should not be appointed and the injunction should not be issued.

The petition states the plaintiffs entered into a partnership agreement with the defendants in May, 1947, for operation of a strip mining firm under the name of Cresap Coal Company. It further states they bought valuable machinery including a vertical drill, bulldozer and pan for $13,000.

They stated that $7,000 of the amount was paid leaving an indebtedness of $6,000 on the machinery. The company also has $200 on deposit with the Fidelity Savings Bank of Frostburg, and owns certain valuable leases of land for strip mining purposes.

The plaintiffs charge Toohey illegally retained for his own use about 100 acres of land. In formation of the company it was stated that McCusker put $3,500 capital into the company, Morgan $2,500, and Toohey $1,300, while Grant in lieu of capital, put his experience as a heavy machinery operator at the disposal of the firm.

The petition further states that on July 3, 1947, the partners signed a promissory note with the Fidelity Savings Bank in the amount of $2,000 for additional capital. The note is payable 60 days after date of issuance and $500 has been paid so far.

Other indebtedness listed by the petitioners includes $1,200 brokerage fees, $1,000 in wages, $300 to governmental agencies such as the Social Security Board, $240 for compensation, $269 for fuel and oil and $138 in royalties.

It was also charged that due to the debts and difficulties among the partners the firm is insolvent. Heavy August rains stopped mining for some weeks and then Toohey and Morgan refused to work after the rains for several weeks, the petitioners claim.

On September 22 the petitioners reopened the mining operations but later the defendants forcibly seized the properties with an entirely new crew of workmen and refused to let the petitioners work the mines.

torney Smillie. He identified the "beau brummel" as Jackanyics.

Broeckey's five-week search for the man who "got my woman" led him to a shack in the woods near the Schulkyl River, near Norristown, and there Broeckey clubbed Jackanyics to death, the prosecutor said.

At first, Broeckey denied the slaying, saying two men from Philadelphia attacked Jackanyics and took $500, but later, said Smillie, he admitted the killing.

Pennsylvania police said Broeckey "bootlegged" in Garrett County for a period of years, and continued it after prohibition was repealed, getting liquor in West Virginia and selling it at his home in Shallmar since Garrett County was dry.

Both men will be held in Allegany County Jail pending their transfer to Baltimore where they will await action of the Federal Grand Jury.

Two Friendsville Youths Are Killed In Highway Crash

Two Friendsville youths were killed and a Hazelton, W. Va., man injured in an accident involving two trucks and two automobiles yesterday on foggy Route 51, near Arrowhead Lake in the Pittsburgh section.

The dead were listed as Ronald Friend, 18, and William E. Thomas, Jr., 18, both of Friendsville, and the injured man as Orval Rodeheaver, 20, Hazelton. He was taken to a hospital with head injuries.

State Police said the three victims were riding in the lumber truck driven by Friend and that they were crushed in the cab as the load of lumber shifted forward after a crash.

The bumpers of two automobiles first locked on the highway, the accident blocking the road and stopping another truck. While the drivers of the three vehicles were trying to loosen the bumpers, they heard the lumber truck coming and fled to the side of the road, State Police reported.

They added that the lumber truck hit one car, the other truck and knocked down several guardrail posts. Damage to the four vehicles was estimated at $5,775 by State Police.

ther further proceedings are proper. The final decision rests with you. Before reaching such decision you will probably find it advisable to ask the advice of the State's Attorney."

Have Double Duty

Judge Henderson told the jurors they have a double duty to perform, while sitting as a Grand Jury.

"Unless you find that there is reasonable ground to believe an accused person has committed a crime," he said, "it is your duty not to find an indictment. You thus protect the rights and the liberty of the individual. On the other hand," he continued, "if you believe that persons should be brought to account for offenses committed by them, you may decide to charge them with wrong-doing. You thus protect the citizens as a whole against wrongdoers."

Services were held yesterday at the Hirt Funeral Home, Pittsburgh, for Mrs. John P. Kegg, 82, who died last Thursday at Pittsburgh.

A former resident, Mrs. Kegg and her late husband celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary last October. They were married 61 years ago in Cumberland. Mr. Kegg died less than six months ago.

A native of Cumberland, Mrs. Kegg was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Clark. A life member of the Methodist Church, she is survived by two children, Mrs. Henry F. Schwan and Mrs. Roberdean Kegg, both of Pittsburgh. Four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren also survive.

Cops And Firemen Dogged By The Dogs

A black and white buttinsky wandered into the Warren Avenue Police station. He was so interested in putting his cold nose in everybody's business that the officers called him "The Inspector." They gave him away twice. But he pattered back on both occasions.

Zippy, the mascot of Engine Company 87, presented an altogether different problem. He stayed at his post during the day, but in the evenings he sneaked off to a neighborhood theater. Somebody always had to go to the movie house and bring him home. The fireman eventually chipped in and bought a television set. Now they hope their canine buff will stick close to his fireside.

won the fifth game on Saturday and so was making his second start in three days, simply didn't have it this time. Originally Harris had planned to start Bevens, but changed his mind overnight.

Though the Dodgers scored their second run off him in the second inning after he relieved Shea with two aboard and only one out, Bevens looked sharp, and was setting the Dodgers down smartly when he re-injured his pitching arm in throwing a curve to Gregg in the fourth. After a conference with the bench, Bevens was permitted to go on and retire Gregg for the third out on an infield roller, but it was plain the big fellow was through.

Bobby's Hit Paves Way

The fact that Harris knew he was going to have to bring in another hurler in the fifth provided the turning point of the game. Two were out when he sent Brown in to bat for Bevens, and it is extremely doubtful Harris would have made the move had Bevens not been hurt. Brown's hit paved the way to victory.

When Harris asked his bullpen catcher, Johnny Schulte, what relief chucker, if any, he was able to recommend, Schulte advised the manager that Allie Reynolds was throwing good stuff, but that Page didn't look so hot. "So I told him, 'Bring on Page,'" Harris recounted later with sweet reasonableness.

In the end, the Yankees won as the majority of expert observers believed they would, because they had the superior power in their bats and a little better pitching than their inter-borough rivals. Many had even predicted that Page would prove the "difference" with his sterling relief pitching, and that proved to be about the size of it.

Daniel W. Staggs Is Fined $100.75 On Motor Charges

23 Other Motorists Docketed On Counts

Daniel W. Staggs, 225 Baltimore Avenue, was fined $100.75 yesterday when he was arraigned before Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., on charges of drunken driving as the result of a two-car collision, Saturday night on Johnson Street. A reckless driving charge was dismissed.

Police said Staggs' car collided with a machine operated by Jesse Elkins, Ridgeley. No one was injured. Twenty-three other motorists were also docketed for violations.

Herman E. Redinger, Route 1, Flintstone, paid a fine of $11.45 on a reckless driving charge and Marshall Webster Imes, also Flintstone, was found not guilty on the same count. Redinger's vehicle crashed against the rear of Imes' car at Pleasant Grove, six miles east of Cumberland Saturday, police said. Trooper William F. Baker preferred charges.

Thomas Halle, Wellersburg, Pa., was being held in City Jail pending a hearing in Trial Magistrate's Court following an accident at Greene and Johnson Streets Sunday night.

Police said the car operated by Halle was involved in a collision. Listed as witnesses are W. D. Luzier and Officers John G. Powers and Louis D. Downey.

Another motorist, Frank L. Peddicord, 202 Maryland Avenue, was taken into custory Saturday afternoon as the result of a hit-run mishap at the intersection of Henderson Avenue and Knox Street, according to police. State Trooper Baker charged him with driving without a license and failing to stop after an accident.

Trooper Baker said Peddicord crossed the railroad tracks on Knox Street and sideswiped the car of a Bethesda, Md., operator headed east on Henderson Avenue. Peddicord failed to stop and the other driver got his license number, Baker reported.

Cresap Coal Co. Partners Ask For Receivers

Petition Filed In Circuit Court

A petition asking for the appointment of receivers for the Cresap Coal Company, a strip mining operation, was filed in Circuit Court yesterday, claiming the firm is insolvent and stating the partnership should be dissolved. An injunction against continued operation is also requested.

The petitioners are Clarence W. Grant and James P. McCusker, and the bill is filed against Kenneth Toohey and James A. Morgan. Associate Judge George Henderson signed an order in which the defendents are given until October 11, to show cause why the receiver should not be appointed and the injunction should not be issued.

The petition states the plaintiffs entered into a partnership agreement with the defendants in May, 1947, for operation of a strip mining firm under the name of Cresap Coal Company. It further states they bought valuable machinery including a vertical drill, bulldozer and pan for $13,000.

They stated that $7,000 of the amount was paid leaving an indebtedness of $6,000 on the machinery. The company also has $200 on deposit with the Fidelity Savings Bank of Frostburg, and owns certain valuable leases of land for strip mining purposes.

The plaintiffs charge Toohey illegally retained for his own use about 100 acres of land. In formation of the company it was stated that McCusker put $3,500 capital into the company, Morgan $2,500, and Toohey $1,300, while Grant in lieu of capital, put his experience as a heavy machinery operator at the disposal of the firm.

The petition further states that on July 3, 1947, the partners signed a promissory note with the Fidelity Savings Bank in the amount of $2,000 for additional capital. The note is payable 60 days after date of issuance and $500 has been paid so far.

Other indebtedness listed by the petitioners includes $1,200 brokerage fees, $1,000 in wages, $300 to governmental agencies such as the Social Security Board, $240 for compensation, $269 for fuel and oil and $138 in royalties.

It was also charged that due to the debts and difficulties among the partners the firm is insolvent. Heavy August rains stopped mining for some weeks and then Toohey and Morgan refused to work after the rains for several weeks, the petitioners claim.

On September 22 the petitioners reopened the mining operations but later the defendants forcibly seized the properties with an entirely new crew of workmen and refused to let the petitioners work the mines.

torney Smillie. He identified the "beau brummel" as Jackanyics.

Broeckey's five-week search for the man who "got my woman" led him to a shack in the woods near the Schulkyl River, near Norristown, and there Broeckey clubbed Jackanyics to death, the prosecutor said.

At first, Broeckey denied the slaying, saying two men from Philadelphia attacked Jackanyics and took $500, but later, said Smillie, he admitted the killing.

Pennsylvania police said Broeckey "bootlegged" in Garrett County for a period of years, and continued it after prohibition was repealed, getting liquor in West Virginia and selling it at his home in Shallmar since Garrett County was dry.

Federal authorities said Pegler also admitted that he served time in the Federal Reformatory, Chillicothe, Ohio, in 1944 after being convicted of stealing a government automobile. He stated that he was conditionally released in June, 1945.

Ennis, the FBI agent said, has no previous record of his knowledge.

Both men will be held in Allegany County Jail pending their transfer to Baltimore where they will await action of the Federal Grand Jury.

Two Friendsville Youths Are Killed In Highway Crash

Two Friendsville youths were killed and a Hazelton, W. Va., man injured in an accident involving two trucks and two automobiles yesterday on foggy Route 51, near Arrowhead Lake in the Pittsburgh section.

The dead were listed as Ronald Friend, 18, and William E. Thomas, Jr., 18, both of Friendsville, and the injured man as Orval Rodeheaver, 20, Hazelton. He was taken to a hospital with head injuries.

State Police said the three victims were riding in the lumber truck driven by Friend and that they were crushed in the cab as the load of lumber shifted forward after a crash.

The bumpers of two automobiles first locked on the highway, the accident blocking the road and stopping another truck. While the drivers of the three vehicles were trying to loosen the bumpers, they heard the lumber truck coming and fled to the side of the road, State Police reported.

They added that the lumber truck hit one car, the other truck and knocked down several guardrail posts. Damage to the four vehicles was estimated at $5,775 by State Police.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure a decree divorcing the Plaintiff A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant.

The bill states that they were married on the 27th day of March, 1936, and that the Defendant abandoned and deserted the Plaintiff on the 4th of March, 1938, and has declared her intention to live with him no longer, and that such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for more than eighteen months last past prior to the bringing of this suit and is deliberate and final, and the separation of the parties beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that there were no children born unto the marriage; that the Plaintiff has been a resident of the State of Maryland for more than one year prior to the bringing of this suit and the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and the Plaintiff asks for an Order of Publication against the Defendant and for general relief.

It is thereupon this 29th day of September, 1947, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, sitting in equity, ordered that the Plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County once in each of four successive weeks on or before the 31st day of October, 1947, giving notice to said absent Defendant of the object and substance of this bill and warning her to appear in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 17th day of November, 1947, to show cause, if any she might have, why a decree ought not be passed as prayed.

Miss Ruth Bland Becomes Bride Of Lafawn Hinshaw

Ceremony Performed In Thomas Church

By HELEN COLLETT

PARSONS.—The marriage of Miss Ruth Elizabeth Bland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bland, Benbush to Lafawn Hinshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hinshaw of Fort Wayne, Ind., was solemnized Saturday, October 4, in First Presbyterian Church, Thomas. Rev. Andrew B. Mann, pastor, officiated before an altar banked with white chrysanthemums and carnations.

The bride wore a white satin period gown with a ruffle of Chantilly lace at the hem. The high neckline and long sleeves were also edged with Chantilly lace. Her finger-tip-length lace veil fell from a ruffled lace halo. She carried white orchids topping a white Bible.

Miss Betty Bland, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor, wearing a gown of American Beauty rose taffeta with a matching hat and white gloves. Miss Joanne Bland, another sister, and Mrs. H. L. Winters, Oakland, Md., were bridesmaids and wore gowns of medium blue taffeta with matching hat and gloves. They all carried white roses and carnations.

Lemoine Hinshaw served his brother as best man, and ushers were Kenneth Stemple and Howard Winters.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the church with Miss Roxie Davis, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Charles Houser as assistant hostesses.

Mrs. Hinshaw is a graduate of Thomas High School, where she was president of the National Honor Society. Marriage Announced

The bride wore a gown of white taffeta with long fitted sleeves ending in points over the hands. The full skirt gathered at the waist ended in a long flowing train. Her fingertip length veil of bridal illusion cascaded from a halo of orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses.

Miss Esther Monda, sister of the bridegroom, as maid of honor wore a gown of pink bengaline with a tunic. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. The bridegroom selected for his best man his brother, Carmen Monda, of Thomas.

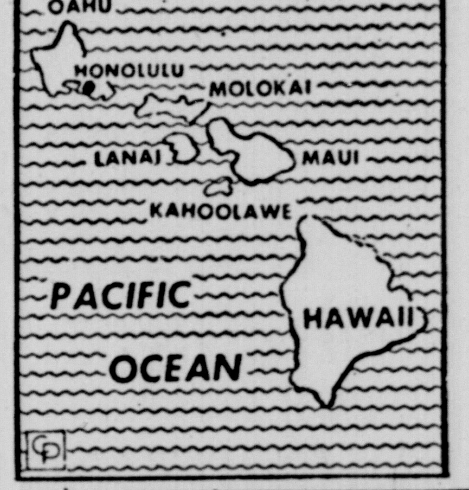
'PACIFIC GEM' AWAITS STATEHOOD



ONLY a U. S. Senate vote stands between Hawaii, "Gem of the Pacific", and her future statehood. As shown on map (below), circle identifies our potential 49th State, which occupies a vitally strategic position among the Pacific islands as a base and bulwark protecting our western coastline. From the day they achieved territorial status, the Hawaiians have sought to join the Union. On our eastern seaboard, equally important to the protection of the Panama Canal are Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. In the north Alaska is in line for possible statehood. At left small map shows main islands of Hawaiian group.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure a decree divorcing the Plaintiff A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant.

The bill states that they were married on the 27th day of March, 1936, and that the Defendant abandoned and deserted the Plaintiff on the 4th of March, 1938, and has declared her intention to live with him no longer, and that such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for more than eighteen months last past prior to the bringing of this suit and is deliberate and final, and the separation of the parties beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that there were no children born unto the marriage; that the Plaintiff has been a resident of the State of Maryland for more than one year prior to the bringing of this suit and the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and the Plaintiff asks for an Order of Publication against the Defendant and for general relief.

It is thereupon this 29th day of September, 1947, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, sitting in equity, ordered that the Plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County once in each of four successive weeks on or before the 31st day of October, 1947, giving notice to said absent Defendant of the object and substance of this bill and warning her to appear in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 17th day of November, 1947, to show cause, if any she might have, why a decree ought not be passed as prayed.

Clerk.

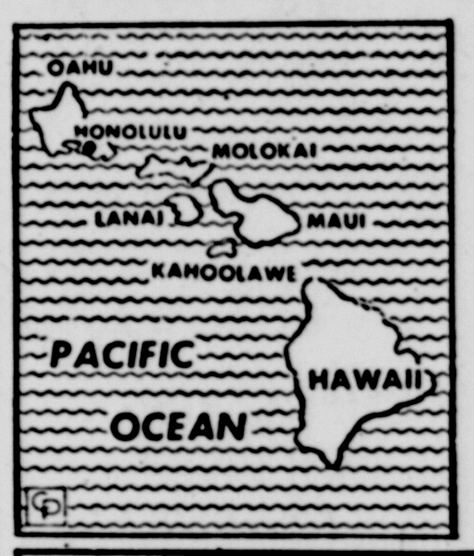
'PACIFIC GEM' AWAITS STATEHOOD



ONLY a U. S. Senate vote stands between Hawaii, "Gem of the Pacific", and her future statehood. As shown on map (below), circle identifies our potential 49th State, which occupies a vitally strategic position among the Pacific islands as a base and bulwark protecting our western coastline. From the day they achieved territorial status, the Hawaiians have sought to join the Union. On our eastern seaboard, equally important to the protection of the Panama Canal are Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. In the north Alaska is in line for possible statehood. At left small map shows main islands of Hawaiian group.

Meatless Tuesday Has Some Eating Places Guessing

Many Waiting To See What Others Will Do

In a telephone survey made last night by the News of a score of local restaurants, clubs, and cafeterias, it was disclosed that the majority intend to comply with the food conservation program as requested by President Harry Truman, but some will serve meat today.

The Celanese, Kelly Springfield Tire Company and Allegany Ballistics plant cafeterias intend to take every possible food conservation measure, managers indicated. The Kelly will serve no meat today. The Celanese has eliminated meat as far as possible, but will serve some meat because it was not possible to obtain sufficient salmon, fish or other substitutes on short notice. The Ballistics plant will serve only what has already been purchased for today, and will comply on future Tuesdays.

In Accord With Program

Only one local restaurant said definitely that meat has been eliminated entirely from their menu today, and 16 others declared "it is too short notice" or "we will wait to see what the rest are going to do" One operator said, "I'll be guided entirely by the wishes of my customers. If they ask for meat, they shall get it, if I have it."

Generally however, all agreed they were in accord with the food conservation program if it will help preserve the peace of the world, but some expressed doubt as to the true purpose.

One operator said, "I think it is far more important right now, to get prices down to a fair level." Still another restaurant owner said, "I haven't seen anything official on it and expected to get some kind of bulletin or something."

Retail stores will sell meat as usual today, to those who want to buy it, and there seemed to be no general coordinated effort here to urge cooperation with the food conservation program, except such publicity as is given by press and radio. Thus far no civic or other group has shown any interest or issued any statements.

From Washington, the President's menu for today was released to wire services, and recipes for several dishes were included.

Two Menu Offered

Two of the most tempting suggestions offered were not meat substitutes, however, but a recipe for a salad and one for a dessert Here they are:

THE SALAD:

One tablespoon granulated gelatin soaked in one quarter cup cold water.
One cup boiling water.
One quarter cup sugar.
One quarter cup vinegar.
Two tablespoons lemon juice
One teaspoon salt.

As jelly begins to thicken, fold in 1½ cups shredded cabbage and celery and 1¼ tablespoons pimento or green pepper finely cut.

COFFEE MALLOW:

Sixteen marshallows.
One-half cup hot coffee.
One cup heavy cream.
One half teaspoon vanilla

Cut marshmallows in quarters with wet scissors. Add coffee. Cook in double boiler until melted. Cool. When beginning to thicken, fold in cream, beaten stiff, and add vanilla. Mold in dessert glasses. Serves six.

The menus are the work of Mrs. Mary F. Sharpe, executive housekeeper at the White House.

SODALITY ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Election of officers featured the first Fall meeting of the Sodality of St. Mary's Catholic Church, held Sunday night in the church auditorium.

Officers who will serve for the ensuing year are Margaret Spiker, prefect; Mrs. Ernest Weisenmiller, vice prefect; Delores Eirich, secretary, and Avalon Henderson, treasurer.

Rev. Joseph A. Grazania, assistant pastor, was named director.

Those in charge of the social hour were Mrs. Charles Freeland, Miss Madeline Keech, Mrs. Thomas Fahey, Mrs. Clifford Spiker and Mrs. Peter Codire.

Mrs. John Clancy was in charge of the entertainment program, in which Joan Coyle, Lois Nehring, Eileen Carey, Patsy, Mickey and John Clancy took part.

The next meeting will be held Sunday evening, November 2.

Pfc. Don L. Heller Honor Guard For Returning World War II Dead

Marine In Ceremony At Pearl Harbor

PFC. DON HELLER

Pfc. Don L. Heller, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman M. Heller, 716 Elm Street, was a member of the specially selected honor guard for the first World War II dead being returned to this country. The ceremony was held at the pier of the U. S. S. Honda Knot in Pearl Harbor.

Pfc. Heller is serving with the U. S. Marine Corps, attached to Force Headquarters and Service Battalion, Headquarters, F. M. F.-P. A. C., Camp Catlin, Ohau, Hawaii.

Slated for discharge in November, at the expiration of his enlistment, Pfc. Heller has acquired quite a Marine record, especially in rifle and small arms marksmanship. During his "boot" training at Parris Island, he took top honors with the MI rifle and also qualified as expert with other basic weapons.

He was discharged from the Marine Corps Reserve and re-enlisted in the regular Marine Corps. He was then transferred to the Rifle Range Detachment, Quantico, Va., where he became a member of the U. S. Marine Rifle Team, representing that base in the inter-division and Marine Corps rifle and pistol matches in 1946.

Later he was sent overseas to join the famous Fifth Regiment, First Marine Division, at Peiping, China. He was there during the Communist demonstrations and attacks last winter.

In January this year, he was selected to help represent the First Marine Division in the Pacific inter-division rifle matches in Pearl Harbor. There he placed as one of the 10 best shots of the Marine Corps in the Pacific.

Because of this accomplishment, he was returned to Quantico with the Pacific Rifle Team and fired in the 1947 inter-division and Marine Corps competition. When the matches were over, he and his team mates returned to the Pacific.

When he returns here next month, Heller hopes to team up with his father, also a Marine veteran of World War II, and a distinguished rifle shot of the Corps, in matches around the state and also as Marine Reserves, firing in division matches next spring at Quantico, Va.

Heller is a graduate of Fort Hill High School, class of 1945. He plans to enter college next September to study law, and if possible, will enter a prep school this fall after his discharge.

Building Permits Total $25,500

Six building permits totaling $25,500 in construction costs, four of them issued to one person, were granted yesterday in the city engineer's office.

John E. Matthews, 1405 Oldtown Road, secured permits to build four houses, each estimated to cost $5,000, on Lots 363, 364, 365 and 370, Turner Street.

Each of the one-story structures, measuring 24 by 32 feet, will have five rooms. Foundations will be of concrete block, with frame walls and composition roof. Work will be done by the owner.

A permit was granted to Paul A. Butts, 810 Memorial Avenue, to construct a five-room house on part of Lot 77 and Lot 78, Braddock Road, at an estimated cost of $5,000. The one and one-half story building, with garage atached, will measure 45 by 28 feet, while the garage dimensions will be 10 by 20 feet. The foundation will be of concrete block, with frame walls and a composition shingle roof.

Dr. Frank Wilson secured a permit to enclose part of a porch at 3 Harrison Street with frame walls, and to remodel the building. The enclosure of the second-story porch will measure 8 by 5 feet, with frame walls. Work will be done by John Beegle and cost is estimated at $500.

TWUA EXECUTIVE COUNCIL TO FILE NON-COMMUNIST DATA

BOSTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Executive Council of the Textile Workers Union of America (CIO) today voted unanimously to file non-Communist affidavits required under the Taft-Hartley Act.

Emil Rieve, president of the Union, said, however, that "our compliance with this action of the act is forced upon us and is in no way to be construed as an acceptance of or adherence to the un-American principles which underlie it."

The TWUA, fourth largest CIO Union claiming a total of 450,000 workers, became the first major CIO union to agree to sign the non-Communist affidavit.

Rieve made public a copy of a letter being sent to Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, protesting the affidavit requirements.

The union president added that, under a recent ruling by Denham today's action was negated by the refusal of national officers of the CIO to comply with the non-Communist requirements.

County 4-H Boys Will Exhibit Pigs At Stockyards For Awards

The annual Allegany County 4-H Club boys' pig show will be held today beginning at 9 a. m. at the Cumberland Stockyard, McMullen Highway, according to Joseph M. Steger, assistant county farm agent.

Ural Bee, animal husbandry specialist of University of Maryland, College Park will be here to judge the pigs and a grand champion and reserve champion will be selected in addition to prize winners in various weight classes.

During the afternoon an auction will be held with meat buyers bidding in the hogs. The boys hope for premiums on their pigs, and Steger said it is possible that the local champion might bring a higher price than the .35 cents per pound paid for the Garrett champion last week. The reserve champion there brought .33 cents per pound and the average price paid was about .29 cents.

Steger said there are about 75 pigs being raised under the program in this county and he expects at least 60 to be shown. A couple of the boys said their pigs are not yet ready and a couple others have decided to keep their animals for their own use on their farms.

Each boy who participated in the project has been asked to keep a 4-H project book on feeding and care of pigs and a prize is to be awarded for the best book, Steger said.

Judging will follow the weighing in of animals and will be completed by noon, with the auction scheduled for the afternoon.

Murder Trial Of Former Shallmar Miner Starts

State Asks First Degree Conviction

A first degree murder conviction was demanded yesterday as the trial of Andre Broeckey, 52, former Shallmar, Garrett County, coal miner, on a charge of murdering 65-year-old Jahan Jackanyics, Oaks, Pa., began in Montgomery County Court at Norristown, Pa.

Broeckey, a Russian now living at Phoenixville, Pa., pleaded innocent to the charge while Assistant District Attorney Arthur Bean demanded the first degree murder conviction as a jury of seven men and five women was selected.

District Attorney Fred Smillie said Broeckey lived at Shallmar, where he went by the name of Andrew Bruckey, until 1946, and that he is accused of clubbing to death on September 6 Jackanyics who allegedly interferred in a love affair.

The woman over whom the slaying allegedly occurred was identified by Smillie as Esther Hayes, 47, of the Philadelphia section. She is a material witness.

Broeckey and the Hayes woman lived together at Phoenixville for about six weeks, according to Pennsylvania State Trooper H. L. Aster, but the last week in July she became fascinated by a "beau brummel who gave her more to drink than Broeckey," said District At-

October Grand Jury Begins Deliberations

Henderson Comments On Bond Forfeitures

The October Grand Jury, with A. Florian Wilson, 441 Cumberland Street, as foreman, began its deliberations yesterday at 10 a. m. after being charged by Associate Judge George Henderson, and returned to the Court room at 3:25 p. m. with seven indictments. Chief Judge William A. Huster excused the body until 9:15 a. m. today when deliberations will be resumed.

In his charge to the Grand Jury, Judge Henderson gave the usual instructions and outlined duties and responsibilities of a Grand Jury. He declared, "you are a judicial and not a legislative body. You take the criminal laws as you find them; and no matter whether you think them wise or unwise, you will indict such as may have offended against them if sufficient evidence to warrant such action be produced before you.

"You may on your own motion originate charges against the offenders, though there have been no preliminary proceedings before a magistrate, and though neither the Court nor the State's Attorney has laid the matter before you. This is, in fact, your duty, if you have such knowledge, or know of those who may be able to furnish the evidence."

Police Court Forfeitures

Referring to cases where arrests have been made on criminal charges by city police, and defendants forfeited bonds and failed to appear for trial, Judge Henderson told the Grand Jury: "Some interest has been aroused recently in certain cases where bonds were forfeited by those charged under city ordinances. This does not prevent the accused from later being brought in for trial. Nor does a conviction under a city ordinance prevent the same offender from being charged by you under a State or County law for the same offense.

"You should of course take into consideration the circumstances of the case and particularly the penalty already imposed (or the amount of bond forfeited) in deciding whe-

Girl, 7, Injured When Hit By Car Near Midland

No Charges Filed Against Driver

A 7-year-old Route 1, Frostburg, girl was admitted to Memorial Hospital last night after she was struck near Midland by an automobile State Police said was driven by a Lonaconing minister.

The girl, Cecelia Mansfield, daughter of Patrick Mansfield, Baltimore, and Frieda Mansfield, Route 1, Frostburg, was admitted to Memorial Hospital after being treated by a Lonaconing physician for a fractured collarbone, according to First Sgt. W. E. O'Hara, of the State Police, who investigated.

Sgt. O'Hara said the girl either stepped from behind a coal truck into the path of the automobile driven by Rev. Glenn I. Bailey at 4:30 p. m. or, as some bystanders reported, fell from the back of the truck to which she was hanging into the path of the automobile on the northern outskirts of Midland.

No charges were filed against the minister.

A young mother and her 16-month-old daughter were hurt Sunday when they fell from a moving automobile after the machine failed to make a curve and ran off Williams Road near the store of Amos Collins.

State Police said Mrs. Eleanor Mary Owens, 24, 426 Central Avenue, suffered lacerations of the right leg and hip. Her daughter, Lois, was bruised about the face and head. Both were treated by a local physician.

Trooper William F. Baker, who investigated, said the car was driven by the injured woman's husband, Roy Franklin Owens, and that when it careened from the highway the right door flew open and the mother and child fell out. No charges were filed against Owens, who escaped injury.

William Fleckenstein, 5-year-old son of Herbert Fleckenstein, 720 Frederick Street, was treated in Allegany Hospital for a laceration on the right side of his head, suffered when he was struck by a stone.

FBI Charges Pair With Auto Theft, Waive Hearings

Held In Default Of $1,000 Bonds

Two men, arrested on Route 40 at Allegany Grove Thursday, waived preliminary hearings yesterday and were ordered held in default of $1,000 bonds, by United States Commissioner James Alfred Avirett after they waived hearings on charges of violating the National Motor Vehicle Theft Act.

Fred Hallford, special agent of the FBI in Baltimore, identified the pair as Charles Albert Pegler, alias Farrell Lee Clements, 22, Cleveland, Ohio, and Billy Hoover Ennis, 18, Marion, N. C. Cpl. Harry Holsinger, Maryland State Police, apprehended the pair.

An FBI agent said the two men are charged with transporting a 1940 sedan from New Orleans, La., to Maryland after stealing the vehicle, and added that Pegler has admitted the theft of two other cars, one in New Orleans which he drove to Cleveland, and the second in Cleveland which he drove to New Orleans. Both thefts were committed earlier this year according to the FBI agent.

State Police said they received a call from a Frostburg garage owner informing them that the pair had stopped there in an attempt to sell parts of the car and declared they were headed toward Cumberland.

Police said Cpl. Holsinger made the arrest after being furnished the license tag number and a description of the men. They were immediately turned over to the FBI, who said they will be held for action of the Federal Grand Jury in Baltimore.

The FBI agent said the men had no apparent destination, but told him they were going "some place" to sign aboard ship. Pegler, he said, claims to hold merchant seamen's papers, but was unable to produce them yesterday. Both men admitted, the agent said, they had not served in the Armed Forces during World War II.

Pegler, the FBI agent said, admitted stealing a car in New Orleans about April 6, this year, and driving it to Cleveland, where he abandoned it, and then took another car in Cleveland June 17, this year, which he abandoned at Spanish Fort, Alabama, when the

American Stores Contract May Be Reached Thursday

Steinla Employes Continue Strike

Local 322, Meat Cutters Union, AFL, and Local 886, Retail Clerks Union, AFL, will meet with the American Stores, Inc., at Fort Cumberland Hotel at 8 p. m. Thursday in an effort to conclude negotiations for a contract.

Employes of the American Stores in this area voted in an NLRB election in August for the Meat Cutters and Retail Clerks unions as their bargaining agents.

William Krapf will represent the Meat Cutters and John Saum the Retail Clerks when they and an employes' committee meet with Charles Fenstemacher, labor relations counsel for the company, Thursday night.

Meanwhile there were no new developments in the strike of eight drivers and helpers against the Steinla Transportation Company over a wage dispute, according to C. E. Stutzman, business agent of Local 453, Teamsters and Chauffers Union. The strike began Sunday afternoon.

The union seeks a pay increase of one-half cent a mile for helpers to put them on a comparable basis with drivers, according to Stutzman, who said the Steinla firm operates a two-man crew on trucks and that helpers drive as much as men classified as drivers.

The contract expired August 31, Stutzman said, but negotiations were continued in hope of reaching an agreement.

Stutzman also said another meeting between the Teamsters Union and representatives of 23 beer distributors in this area will be held Thursday night. Drivers for the distributors turned down an 11½ cents an hour wage increase last week. They seek a $5 minimum wage increase, Stutzman stated, since about eight drivers would not benefit under the company's proposal.

Luncheon Will Be Held Friday

A luncheon meeting will be held Friday at 12:15 p. m. at Central YMCA for associate chairmen and division leaders of the classified section of Cumberland's 1947 Community Chest campaign, Frederic W. Eiler, section chairman, announced yesterday.

Following a conference yesterday afternoon in campaign headquarters at City Hall, Eiler announced that his associate chairmen will be Miles G. Thompson, Garland L. Johnston and Harold W. Wilson.

It is expected that from 500 to 600 persons representing firms and business institutions in the city will be included when the classified section has been completely organized.

Eiler said his group will canvass professional offices, schools, churches and governmental offices as well as industrial firms and businesses.

Restaurant Check Will Begin Today

A preliminary survey of the approximately 200 eating places in Cumberland will begin today and continue for about a week, Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer, announced yesterday.

D. W. Taylor, a representative of the United States Public Health Service from Richmond, Va., will come here to conduct the survey with J. Byron Dowling, state sanitarian, and W. E. King, local food sanitarian.

Dr. Frantz said the survey will determine the standards of eating places in the city so that all restaurants can be graded and advertised in another survey to be made next Jaunary.

Establishments to be surveyed include cafeterias, restaurants, taverns, sandwich shops and bars.

Regulations governing eating and drinking places in the city were passed by the Board of Health in February, 1945.

Remodeling Of First National Bank Underway

Job Expected To Take Three Months

Complete remodeling of the First National Bank into what bank officials believe will make it the "finest and most modern banking room in Western Maryland," is underway. Work began September 13 and is expected to be finished in three months.

The general remodeling includes removal of the present six tellers' windows on the left side of the banking room and their replacement with 12 modern windows in a U-shape. Seven windows will be on the left and five on the right. The center lobby thus created will have a new marble floor.

The present wooden tellers' window structure, seven feet three inches high, will be replaced with Tennessee marble four feet one and three-quarter inches high topped with glass another one foot one inch in height. The new tellers' facilities will have metal counters in place of wood and bronze wickets and fixtures to hold the glass in place.

An acoustic tile ceiling, modern fluorescent lighting and complete redecoration, including venetian blinds, is planned.

In line with the improvement program, the bookkeeping and clerical organization will be removed to the rear of the bank to the space formerly housing the directors' room and other offices.

This space is being converted to a modern bookkeeping department, a new directors' room and new fireproof book vault, being constructed of steel and concrete. The present book vault will be changed to a passageway between the main banking room and the bookkeeping department.

William Swafford, superintendent of the Wilkinson Equipment Company, which specializes in banking equipment and which has the contract for the work, said the remodeling is designed to provide a more inviting and pleasant atmosphere for bank customers as well as to give them more efficient banking quarters. At the same time, tellers and other bank employes will be provided with better working conditions.

Contract for the remodeling job was let in February 1946 but work was deferred until last month because of government regulations permitting only constructions for veterans projects.

Police Will Quiz Two Local Youths

Were In Automobile Wrecked In Pittsburgh

Two local youths, who Pittsburgh police said were involved in an accident there Sunday while riding in an allegedly stolen car, will be questioned here concerning unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, according to local authorities.

Identified as Jack Reynolds, 17, 886 Gephart Drive, and Alfred Erling, 17, 850 Sperry Terrace, Detective Edwin R. Lilya said the youths were released in the custody of their parents, by Pittsburgh authorities and returned here yesterday.

The car, in which the youths were allegedly riding at the time of the accident, was reported stolen by Leo C. Miller, Route 3, Bedford Road, the owner, who said it was taken late Saturday night.

Local police said they were notified by Pittsburgh authorities that the car was not in running condition and had to be towed from the highway following the accident. No one was injured police were informed.

The youths were held in Pittsburgh's Juvenile Detention Home pending the arrival of local authorities, who said they were informed by Pittsburgh authorities that the youths were released to their parents earlier yesterday.

Detective Lilya said last night that to his knowledge the youths are at large at present, but declared they will be brought to headquarters for questioning concerning unauthorized use of Miller's car. The detective explained that he does not yet know if there were other persons involved.

Police here said neither youth had been in previous trouble to their knowledge, and stated the case would not be turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

According to authorities the parents of Reynolds and Erling will be required to make restitution for damage to the car. Police said Miller has been informed to notify his insurance company of the recovery of his car and let the company handle transportation of the vehicle back here.

"With the slogan, 'Friend of the Boy', the local club has embarked on a program of youth activity in the community and is trying to take its place with other service clubs here, in work of a constructive and civic nature," Funkhouser said.

He expressed his pleasure that the officers of sister clubs will be guests at tomorrow night's Optimist Week dinner, and declared, this visit by officers of other clubs is a step toward greater effort and closer co-operation on the part of all service clubs here, for the ultimate good of the community."

Meatless Tuesday Has Some Eating Places Guessing

Many Waiting To See What Others Will Do

In a telephone survey made last night by the News of a score of local restaurants, clubs, and cafeterias, it was disclosed that the majority intend to comply with the food conservation program as requested by President Harry Truman, but some will serve meat today.

The Celanese, Kelly Springfield Tire Company and Allegany Ballistics plant cafeterias intend to take every possible food conservation measure, managers indicated. The Kelly will serve no meat today. The Celanese has eliminated meat as far as possible, but will serve some meat because it was not possible to obtain sufficient salmon, fish or other substitutes on short notice. The Ballistics plant will serve only what has already been purchased for today, and will comply on future Tuesdays.

In Accord With Program

Only one local restaurant said definitely that meat has been eliminated entirely from their menu today, and 16 others declared "it is too short notice" or "we will wait to see what the rest are going to do" One operator said, "I'll be guided entirely by the wishes of my customers. If they ask for meat, they shall get it, if I have it."

Generally however all agreed they were in accord with the food conservation program if it will help preserve the peace of the world, but some expressed doubt as to the true purpose.

One operator said, "I think it is far more important right now, to get prices down to a fair level." Still another restaurant owner said, "I haven't seen anything official on it and expected to get some kind of bulletin or something."

Retail stores will sell meat as usual today, to those who want to buy it, and there seemed to be no general coordinated effort here to urge cooperation with the food conservation program, except such publicity as is given by press and radio. Thus far no civic or other group has shown any interest or issued any statements.

From Washington, the President's menu for today was released to wire services, and recipes for several dishes were included.

Two Menu Offered

Two of the most tempting suggestions offered were not meat substitutes, however, but a recipe for a salad and one for a dessert Here they are:

THE SALAD:

One tablespoon granulated gelatin soaked in one quarter cup cold water.
One cup boiling water.
One quarter cup sugar.
One quarter cup vinegar.
Two tablespoons lemon juice
One teaspoon salt.

As jelly begins to thicken, fold in 1½ cups shredded cabbage and celery and 1¼ tablespoons pimento or green pepper finely cut.

COFFEE MALLOW:

Sixteen marshallows.
One-half cup hot coffee.
One cup heavy cream.
One half teaspoon vanilla

Cut marshmallows in quarters with wet scissors. Add coffee. Cook in double boiler until melted. Cool. When beginning to thicken, fold in cream, beaten stiff, and add vanilla. Mold in dessert glasses. Serves six.

The menus are the work of Mrs. Mary F. Sharpe, executive housekeeper at the White House.

Pfc. Don L. Heller Honor Guard For Returning World War II Dead

Marine In Ceremony At Pearl Harbor

PFC. DON HELLER

Pfc. Don L. Heller, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman M. Heller, 716 Elm Street, was a member of the specially selected honor guard for the first World War II dead being returned to this country. The ceremony was held at the pier of the U. S. S. Honda Knot in Pearl Harbor.

Pfc. Heller is serving with the U. S. Marine Corps, attached to Force Headquarters and Service Battalion, Headquarters, F. M. F.-P. A. C., Camp Catlin, Ohau, Hawaii.

Slated for discharge in November, at the expiration of his enlistment, Pfc. Heller has acquired quite a Marine record, especially in rifle and small arms marksmanship. During his "boot" training at Parris Island, he took top honors with the MI rifle and also qualified as expert with other basic weapons.

He was discharged from the Marine Corps Reserve and re-enlisted in the regular Marine Corps. He was then transferred to the Rifle Range Detachment, Quantico, Va., where he became a member of the U. S. Marine Rifle Team, representing that base in the inter-division and Marine Corps rifle and pistol matches in 1946.

Later he was sent overseas to join the famous Fifth Regiment, First Marine Division, at Peiping, China. He was there during the Communist demonstrations and attacks last winter.

In January this year, he was selected to help represent the First Marine Division in the Pacific inter-division rifle matches in Pearl Harbor. There he placed as one of the 10 best shots of the Marine Corps in the Pacific.

Because of this accomplishment, he was returned to Quantico with the Pacific Rifle Team and fired in the 1947 inter-division and Marine Corps competition. When the matches were over, he and his team mates returned to the Pacific.

When he returns here next month, Heller hopes to team up with his father, also a Marine veteran of World War II, and a distinguished rifle shot of the Corps, in matches around the state and also as Marine Reserves, firing in division matches next spring at Quantico, Va.

Heller is a graduate of Fort Hill High School, class of 1945. He plans to enter college next September to study law, and if possible, will enter a prep school this fall after his discharge.

Building Permits Total $25,500

Six building permits totaling $25,500 in construction costs, four of them issued to one person, were granted yesterday in the city engineer's office.

John E. Matthews, 1405 Oldtown Road, secured permits to build four houses, each estimated to cost $5,000, on Lots 363, 364, 365 and 370, Turner Street.

Each of the one-story structures, measuring 24 by 32 feet, will have five rooms. Foundations will be of concrete block, with frame walls and composition roof. Work will be done by the owner.

A permit was granted to Paul A. Butts, 810 Memorial Avenue, to construct a five-room house on part of Lot 77 and Lot 78, Braddock Road, at an estimated cost of $5,000. The one and one-half story building, with garage atached, will measure 45 by 28 feet, while the garage dimensions will be 10 by 20 feet. The foundation will be of concrete block, with frame walls and a composition shingle roof.

Dr. Frank Wilson secured a permit to enclose part of a porch at 3 Harrison Street with frame walls, and to remodel the building. The enclosure of the second-story porch will measure 8 by 5 feet, with frame walls. Work will be done by John Beegle and cost is estimated at $500.

TWUA EXECUTIVE COUNCIL TO FILE NON-COMMUNIST DATA

BOSTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Executive Council of the Textile Workers Union of America (CIO) today voted unanimously to file non-Communist affidavits required under the Taft-Hartley Act.

Emil Rieve, president of the Union, said, however, that "our compliance with this action of the act is forced upon us and is in no way to be construed as an acceptance of or adherence to the un-American principles which underlie it."

The TWUA, fourth largest CIO Union claiming a total of 450,000 workers, became the first major CIO union to agree to sign the non-Communist affidavit.

Rieve made public a copy of a letter being sent to Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, protesting the affidavit requirements.

The union president added that, under a recent ruling by Denham today's action was negated by the refusal of national officers of the CIO to comply with the non-Communist requirements.

County 4-H Boys Will Exhibit Pigs At Stockyards For Awards

The annual Allegany County 4-H Club boys' pig show will be held today beginning at 9 a. m. at the Cumberland Stockyard, McMullen Highway, according to Joseph M. Steger, assistant county farm agent.

Ural Bee, animal husbandry specialist of University of Maryland, College Park will be here to judge the pigs and a grand champion and reserve champion will be selected in addition to prize winners in various weight classes.

During the afternoon an auction will be held with meat buyers bidding in the hogs. The boys hope for premiums on their pigs, and Steger said it is possible that the local champion might bring a higher price than the .35 cents per pound paid for the Garrett champion last week. The reserve champion there brought .33 cents per pound and the average price paid was about .29 cents.

Steger said there are about 75 pigs being raised under the program in this county and he expects at least 60 to be shown. A couple of the boys said their pigs are not yet ready and a couple others have decided to keep their animals for their own use on their farms.

Each boy who participated in the project has been asked to keep a 4-H project book on feeding and care of pigs and a prize is to be awarded for the best book, Steger said.

Judging will follow the weighing in of animals and will be completed by noon, with the auction scheduled for the afternoon.

Murder Trial Of Former Shallmar Miner Starts

State Asks First Degree Conviction

A first degree murder conviction was demanded yesterday as the trial of Andre Broeckey, 52, former Shallmar, Garrett County, coal miner, on a charge of murdering 65-year-old Jahan Jackanyics, Oaks, Pa., began in Montgomery County Court at Norristown, Pa.

Broeckey, a Russian now living at Phoenixville, Pa., pleaded innocent to the charge while Assistant District Attorney Arthur Bean demanded the first degree murder conviction as a jury of seven men and five women was selected.

District Attorney Fred Smillie said Broeckey lived at Shallmar, where he went by the name of Andrew Bruckey, until 1946, and that he is accused of clubbing to death on September 6 Jackanyics who allegedly interferred in a love affair.

The woman over whom the slaying allegedly occurred was identified by Smillie as Esther Hayes, 47, of the Philadelphia section. She is a material witness.

Broeckey and the Hayes woman lived together at Phoenixville for about six weeks, according to Pennsylvania State Trooper H. L. Aster, but the last week in July she became fascinated by a "beau brummel who gave her more to drink than Broeckey," said District At-

October Grand Jury Begins Deliberations

Henderson Comments On Bond Forfeitures

The October Grand Jury, with A. Florian Wilson, 441 Cumberland Street, as foreman, began its deliberations yesterday at 10 a. m. after being charged by Associate Judge George Henderson, and returned to the Court room at 3:25 p. m. with seven indictments. Chief Judge William A. Huster excused the body until 9:15 a. m. today when deliberations will be resumed.

In his charge to the Grand Jury, Judge Henderson gave the usual instructions and outlined duties and responsibilities of a Grand Jury. He declared, "you are a judicial and not a legislative body. You take the criminal laws as you find them; and no matter whether you think them wise or unwise, you will indict such as may have offended against them if sufficient evidence to warrant such action be produced before you.

"You may on your own motion originate charges against the offenders, though there have been no preliminary proceedings before a magistrate, and though neither the Court nor the State's Attorney has laid the matter before you. This is, in fact, your duty, if you have such knowledge, or know of those who may be able to furnish the evidence."

Police Court Forfeitures

Referring to cases where arrests have been made on criminal charges by city police, and defendants forfeited bonds and failed to appear for trial, Judge Henderson told the Grand Jury: "Some interest has been aroused recently in certain cases where bonds were forfeited by those charged under city ordinances. This does not prevent the accused from later being brought in for trial. Nor does a conviction under a city ordinance prevent the same offender from being charged by you under a State or County law for the same offense.

"You should of course take into consideration the circumstances of the case and particularly the penalty already imposed (or the amount of bond forfeited) in deciding whe-

No Charges Filed Against Driver

A 7-year-old Route 1, Frostburg, girl was admitted to Memorial Hospital last night after she was struck near Midland by an automobile State Police said was driven by a Lonaconing minister.

The girl, Cecelia Mansfield, daughter of Patrick Mansfield, Baltimore, and Frieda Mansfield, Route 1, Frostburg, was admitted to Memorial Hospital after being treated by a Lonaconing physician for a fractured collarbone, according to First Sgt. W. E. O'Hara, of the State Police, who investigated.

Sgt. O'Hara said the girl either stepped from behind a coal truck into the path of the automobile driven by Rev. Glenn I. Bailey at 4:30 p. m. or, as some bystanders reported, fell from the back of the truck to which she was hanging into the path of the automobile on the northern outskirts of Midland.

No charges were filed against the minister.

A young mother and her 16-month-old daughter were hurt Sunday when they fell from a moving automobile after the machine failed to make a curve and ran off Williams Road near the store of Amos Collins.

State Police said Mrs. Eleanor Mary Owens, 24, 426 Central Avenue, suffered lacerations of the right leg and hip. Her daughter, Lois, was bruised about the face and head. Both were treated by a local physician.

Trooper William F. Baker, who investigated, said the car was driven by the injured woman's husband, Roy Franklin Owens, and that when it careened from the highway the right door flew open and the mother and child fell out. No charges were filed against Owens, who escaped injury.

William Fleckenstein, 5-year-old son of Herbert Fleckenstein, 720 Frederick Street, was treated in Allegany Hospital for a laceration on the right side of his head, suffered when he was struck by a stone.

Held In Default Of $1,000 Bonds

Two men, arrested on Route 40 at Allegany Grove Thursday, waived preliminary hearings yesterday and were ordered held in default of $1,000 bonds, by United States Commissioner James Alfred Avirett after they waived hearings on charges of violating the National Motor Vehicle Theft Act.

Fred Hallford, special agent of the FBI in Baltimore, identified the pair as Charles Albert Pegler, alias Farrell Lee Clements, 22, Cleveland, Ohio, and Billy Hoover Ennis, 18, Marion, N. C. Cpl. Harry Holsinger, Maryland State Police, apprehended the pair.

An FBI agent said the two men are charged with transporting a 1940 sedan from New Orleans, La., to Maryland after stealing the vehicle, and added that Pegler has admitted the theft of two other cars, one in New Orleans which he drove to Cleveland, and the second in Cleveland which he drove to New Orleans. Both thefts were committed earlier this year according to the FBI agent.

State Police said they received a call from a Frostburg garage owner informing them that the pair had stopped there in an attempt to sell parts of the car and declared they were headed toward Cumberland.

Police said Cpl. Holsinger made the arrest after being furnished the license tag number and a description of the men. They were immediately turned over to the FBI, who said they will be held for action of the Federal Grand Jury in Baltimore.

The FBI agent said the men had no apparent destination, but told him they were going "some place" to sign aboard ship. Pegler, he said, claims to hold merchant seamen's papers, but was unable to produce them yesterday. Both men admitted, the agent said, they had not served in the Armed Forces during World War II.

Pegler, the FBI agent said, admitted stealing a car in New Orleans about April 6, this year, and driving it to Cleveland, where he abandoned it, and then took another car in Cleveland June 17, this year, which he abandoned at Spanish Fort, Alabama, when the

Steinla Employes Continue Strike

Local 322, Meat Cutters Union, AFL, and Local 886, Retail Clerks Union, AFL, will meet with the American Stores, Inc., at Fort Cumberland Hotel at 8 p. m. Thursday in an effort to conclude negotiations for a contract.

Employes of the American Stores in this area voted in an NLRB election in August for the Meat Cutters and Retail Clerks unions as their bargaining agents.

William Krapf will represent the Meat Cutters and John Saum the Retail Clerks when they and an employes' committee meet with Charles Fenstemacher, labor relations counsel for the company, Thursday night.

Meanwhile there were no new developments in the strike of eight drivers and helpers against the Steinla Transportation Company over a wage dispute, according to C. E. Stutzman, business agent of Local 453, Teamsters and Chauffers Union. The strike began Sunday afternoon.

The union seeks a pay increase of one-half cent a mile for helpers to put them on a comparable basis with drivers, according to Stutzman, who said the Steinla firm operates a two-man crew on trucks and that helpers drive as much as men classified as drivers.

The contract expired August 31, Stutzman said, but negotiations were continued in hope of reaching an agreement.

Stutzman also said another meeting between the Teamsters Union and representatives of 23 beer distributors in this area will be held Thursday night. Drivers for the distributors turned down an 11½ cents an hour wage increase last week. They seek a $5 minimum wage increase, Stutzman stated, since about eight drivers would not benefit under the company's proposal.

Remodeling Of First National Bank Underway

Job Expected To Take Three Months

Complete remodeling of the First National Bank into what bank officials believe will make it the "finest and most modern banking room in Western Maryland," is underway. Work began September 13 and is expected to be finished in three months.

The general remodeling includes removal of the present six tellers' windows on the left side of the banking room and their replacement with 12 modern windows in a U-shape. Seven windows will be on the left and five on the right. The center lobby thus created will have a new marble floor.

The present wooden tellers' window structure, seven feet three inches high, will be replaced with Tennessee marble four feet one and three-quarter inches high topped with glass another one foot one inch in height. The new tellers' facilities will have metal counters in place of wood and bronze wickets and fixtures to hold the glass in place.

An acoustic tile ceiling, modern fluorescent lighting and complete redecoration, including venetian blinds, is planned.

In line with the improvement program, the bookkeeping and clerical organization will be removed to the rear of the bank to the space formerly housing the directors' room and other offices.

This space is being converted to a modern bookkeeping department, a new directors' room and new fireproof book vault, being constructed of steel and concrete. The present book vault will be changed to a passageway between the main banking room and the bookkeeping department.

William Swafford, superintendent of the Wilkinson Equipment Company, which specializes in banking equipment and which has the contract for the work, said the remodeling is designed to provide a more inviting and pleasant atmosphere for bank customers as well as to give them more efficient banking quarters. At the same time, tellers and other bank employes will be provided with better working conditions.

Contract for the remodeling job was let in February 1946 but work was deferred until last month because of government regulations permitting only constructions for veterans projects.
